

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

THE following Collection contains a greater number of hymns and probably a greater variety of topics, than any compilation hitherto made for the use of Universalist churches in this country. I will not say that it excels also in the character of the selections. It is hoped, however, that in this respect it will be found equal to other works of the kind, justly approved among us.

It has been my aim to furnish, 1. a good supply of hymns for exercises purely devotional; 2. hymns adapted to every special occasion that may be observed in our churches, or occur in the labors of the ministry; 3. hymns on all the subjects commonly urged from our pulpits, so far as they are compatible with the spirit of sacred song; and 4. hymns for private and domestic use.

In selecting for these purposes, I have paid particular attention to what I deemed correctness of sentiment on all of the important points; allowing, however, free scope to poetic figure and imagery, in the form of expression. With regard to character, style, &c., it has been my wish to exclude, on the one hand, all effeminate, insipid nicety—every thing in which cordiality and fervor are sacrificed to formal correctness; and, on the other, all downright awkwardness, fondling endearments, puerile sentimentality, and rant. It should be observed that not every species even of good poetry, and of the religious kind, is suitable for hymns. They should be as plain as possible, easy in their versification, and yet full of vigorous or moving spirit. On very impressive subjects, the austere simplicity is doubtless preferable to the more brilliant style which is too often sought after. I cannot say that I have not, at times, erred in some of these respects. There may be a few pieces too wild and sparkling for hymns ; and others, again, that sink down towards prosaic flatness.

The names of the author's, so far as I have been able to ascertain them, are prefixed. I had wished to insert the hymns just as their authors left them, only omitting such stanzas as were superfluous or objectionable. But after spending a considerable time in tracing them back to their original state, and finding that many, which were excellent on the whole, did absolutely require some changes, I concluded to take them in the best form in which I could find them, and sometimes to venture my own hand at their improvement. But in every case of known alteration, (except bare omission,) I have been scrupulous to signify the fact by prefixing a star [*] to the author's name. As for the anonymous hymns, I could seldom determine what was their original state ; and in them, changes have been admitted or made, without notice. The alterations, after all, will be found, I think, to be much less, than in some compilations which make greater professions of adhering to the originals.

The book is now humbly submitted, with an earnest prayer that it may prove an efficient aid to the spirit of devotion both in public and in private.

	Hy
How shall we praise thee, Lord of light	1
How sweetly flowed the gospel's sound	2
How swift the torrent rolls	4
How various and how new	4
IF all our hopes, and all our fears	4
If high or low our station be	4
If Providence, to try my heart,	1
I'll praise my Maker, while I've breath	1
Imposture shrinks from light	1
In all my vast concerns with thee	1
Indulgent God, whose bounteous care	1
In duties and in sufferings too	1
In glad amazement, Lord, I stand	1
In God's eternity	1
In God's own house pronounce his praise	1
In life's gay morn, when sprightly youth	1
Inspirer of the ancient seers	1
In sweet exalted strains	1
In thee, thou all-sufficient God	1
In vain the giddy world inquires	1
In vain we lavish out our lives	1
In vision rapt, the prophet's eye	1
Is this a fast for me	1
It is the Lord our Savior's hand	1
I want a principle within	1
I want a sober mind	1
I will extol thee, Lord, on high	1
I would not live alway, I ask not to stay	1
JEHOVAH lives, and be his name	1
Jesus, and didst thou condescend	1
Jesus, bowed down by mighty woe	1
Jesus, Comforter divine	1
Jesus, exalted far on high	1
Jesus his empire shall extend	1
Jesus is gone above the skies	1
Jesus, I sing thy matchless grace	1
Jesus, my truth, my way	1
Jesus, Savior of my soul	1
Jesus shall reign where'er the sun	1
Jesus, the Friend of man	1
Jesus, the man of constant grief,	1
John was the prophet of the Lord	1
Join all the glorious names	1
Joy to the world ! the Lord is come	1
KEEP silence, all created things	1
Kind Lord, before thy face	1

	Hymn.
LADEN with guilt, and full of fears	193
Let all the earth their voices raise	80
Let all the heathen writers join	184
Let every creature join	81
Let every mortal ear attend	297
Let men of high conceit and zeal	417
Let party names no more	434
Let Pharisees of high esteem	431
Let the whole race of creatures lie	105
Let us with a joyful mind	59
Lift up your joyful eyes, and see	324
Lift your voice, and joyful sing	62
Light of those whose dreary dwelling	266
Lo, God is here! let us adore	17
Lo, my Shepherd's hand divine	165
Lo, what a glorious Corner-stone	257
Lo, what a glorious sight appears	328
Lo, what an entertaining sight	436
Lo, what a speaking lustre shines	178
Look through creation and behold	481
Look, ye saints, the sight how glorious	242
Lord, dismiss us with thy blessing	47
Lord, I have made thy word my choice	195
Lord, in the morning thou shalt hear	30
Lord, in thy service I would spend	583
Lord, must we die! O let us die	468
Lord of hosts, how lovely fair	14
Lord of hosts, to thee we raise	517
Lord of the Sabbath, hear our vows	22
Lord of the sea, thy potent sway	570
Lord of the wide-extended main	569
Lord of the worlds above	12
Lord, send thy word, and let it run	303
Lord, thou art good! all nature shows	150
Lord, we adore thy wondrous grace	529
Lord, we have wandered from thy way	341
Lord, what a feeble piece	462
Lord, when iniquities abound	597
Lord, when we bend before thy throne	395
Lord, who's the happy man that may	407
Load let the tuneful trumpet sound	286
Love divine, all love excelling	369
MARK the soft-falling snow	289
Mighty God, while angels bless thee	56
Millions of souls in glory now	536
Mistaken souls that dream of heaven	420
Mortals, awake, with angels join	204
My dear Redeemer, and my Lord	273
My Father! cheering name	368

	Hymn
My few revolving years	56
My heart and all my ways, O God	11
My God, accept my early vows	3
My God, all nature owns thy sway	16
My God, in whom are all the springs	13
My God, my everlasting hope	61
My God, my Father may I dare	36
My God, my King, thy various praise	5
My God, permit me not to be	44
My God, permit my tongue	35
My God, the covenant of thy love	36
My God, thy boundless love I praise	14
My Maker and my King	15
My never-ceasing song shall show	29
My soul, praise the Lord, speak good of his name	8
My soul, repeat his praise	15
My soul, the awful hour will come	46
My Sovereign, to thy throne	55
My times of sorrow and of joy	39
NOT by the terrors of a slave	61
Not to the terrors of the Lord	21
Now let our drooping hearts revive	5
Now, Lord, the heavenly seed is sown	1
Now may he, who from the dead	1
Now to the Lord a noble song	21
O BLESSED souls are they	3
O bless the Lord, my soul (Watts.)	1
O bless the Lord, my soul (Montg.)	1
O bow thine ear, eternal One	5
O charity, thou heavenly grace	4
O come, loud anthems let us sing	1
O'er mountain tops, the mount of God	3
O'er the gloomy hills of darkness	3
O'er the realms of pagan darkness	6
O Father, draw us after thee	3
Oft have I turned my eye within	5
O God, accept the sacred hour	6
O God, my sins are manifold	6
O God of love, with cheering ray	4
O God of Zion, from thy throne	8
O God, thou art my God alone	8
O God unseen, but not unknown	4
O God, we praise thee, and confess	4
O happy is the man who hears	4
O how can they look up to heaven	8
O how I love thy holy law	1
O how shall words, with equal warmth	1
O let your mingling voices rise	1

	Hymn.
O Lord, my best desires fulfil	392
O Lord, our fathers oft have told	511
O Lord, our heavenly King	154
O Lord, thy mercy, my sure hope	367
O Love, thou fathomless abyss	370
O my distrustful heart	593
One prayer I have, all prayers in one	390
One there is, above all others	260
On Jordan's stormy banks I stand	491
On thee, each morning, O my God	576
On thy church, O Power divine	318
On what has now been sown	40
On Zion, his most holy mount	285
O praise ye the Lord, prepare a new song	66
O praise ye the Lord, prepare your glad voice	67
O sing to the Lord a new song	65
O that my heart was right with thee	357
O that the Lord would guide my ways	381
O Thou, enthroned in worlds above	350
O Thou, from whom all goodness flows	404
O Thou, our fathers' God	521
O Thou that hear'st when sinners cry	337
O Thou, the wretched's sure retreat	336
O Thou, through all thy works adored	176
O Thou, who art above all height	522
O Thou, who hast at thy command	391
O Thou, whose arm of power surrounds	508
O Thou, whose power o'er moving worlds presides	397
O Thou, whose power the mountains formed	387
O Thou, whose tender mercy hears	345
O, 'tis a lovely thing to see	441
O 'twas a joyful sound to hear	8
Our Father in heaven	354
Our Father, throned above the sky	360
Our Father, whose eternal sway	351
Our God, our help in ages past	456
Our God, where'er thy people meet	520
Our heavenly Father calls	538
Our heavenly Father, hear	352
Our Lord is risen from the dead	234
Our Lord shall be our hiding-place	253
Our sins, alas ! how strong they be	588
Out of the depths of sad distress	342
O, who shall see the glorious day	626
 PATIENCE,—O what a grace divine	440
Peace ! 'tis the Lord Jehovah's hand	474
Permit thy suppliants, gracious Lord	34
Placed on the verge of youth, my mind	615
Praise, everlasting praise be paid	300

Praise, O praise the name divine
 Praise the Lord, his glory bless
 Praise the Lord who reigns above
 Praise the Lord,—ye heavens adore him
 Praise to God, immortal praise
 Praise to thee, thou great Creator
 Praise ye Jehovah's name
 Praise ye the Lord, around whose throne
 Praise ye the Lord, exalt his name

RELIGION is the chief concern
 Remark, my soul, the narrow bounds
 Rise, crowned with light, imperial Salem, rise
 Rise every heart and every tongue
 Rise, my soul, and stretch thy wings

SAFELY through another week
 Savior, bless thy word to all
 Savior, who thy flock art feeding
 Searcher of hearts, before thy face
 Searcher of hearts, to thee are known
 See how he loved—exclaimed the Jews
 See Israel's gentle Shepherd stand
 See what a living stone
 Shall man, O God of light and life
 Shall the vile race of flesh and blood
 Shall we go on to sin
 Shepherds, rejoice, lift up your eyes
 Show pity, Lord,—O Lord, forgive
 Since Jesus freely did appear
 Since o'er thy footstool, here below
 Sing to the Lord, ye distant lands
 Sing we the song of those who stand
 Sinners, the voice of God regard
 So let our lips and lives express
 Songs of immortal praise belong
 Songs of praise the angels sang
 Sons of men, behold from far
 Sovereign of all the worlds on high
 Sovereign Ruler of the skies
 Stretched on the cross, the Savior dies
 Sweet is the memory of thy grace
 Sweet is the scene when virtue dies
 Sweet is the work, my God, my King

TEACH me the measure of my days
 Teach us to feel as Jesus prayed
 Thanks for mercies, Lord, receive
 The Christian warrior—see him stand
 The earth is thine, Jehovah—thine

	Hymn.
The first almighty Cause	90
The God of glory walks his round	621
The God of love will sure indulge	563
The God of nature and of grace	171
The God who once to Israel spoke	282
The God who reigns alone	95
The heavenly spheres to thee, O God	88
The heavens declare thy glory, Lord	179
The joyful morn, my God, is come	28
The King of saints, how fair his face	317
The law by Moses came	290
The little cloud increases fast	611
The Lord descended from above	100
The Lord in Zion placed his name	15
The Lord is my shepherd, no want shall I know	166
The Lord is our shepherd, our guardian and guide	164
The Lord my pasture shall prepare	162
The Lord my shepherd is	163
The Lord our God is full of might	106
The mighty God from Teman came	623
The morning dawns upon the place	225
The morn of life, how fair and gay	616
The race that long in darkness pined	252
There is a fountain, filled with blood	607
There is a glorious world on high	488
There is a God,—all nature speaks	167
There is a land of pure delight	487
There is a world we have not seen	485
There seems a voice in every gale	177
There's joy in heaven, and joy on earth	603
There's not a place in earth's vast round	112
The rising morn, the closing day	500
The saints on earth, and those above	321
The Savior calls,—let every ear	296
The Savior gently calls	544
The spacious firmament on high	173
The spirit in our hearts	292
The trifling joys this world can give	599
Th' uplifted eye and bended knee	347
The wandering star and fleeting wind	591
This do in memory of your Friend	531
This is the fast the Lord doth choose	509
This stone to thee in faith we lay	515
Thou art, almighty Lord of all	92
Thou art, O God, a spirit pure	98
Thou art, O God, the life and light	168
Thou art the way,—and he who sighs	248
Thou art the way; to thee alone	247
Though faint, and sick, and worn away	585
Thou great Creator, wise and good	175

	Hymn
Thou great First Cause! least understood	37
Thou, Lord, by mortal eyes unseen	26
Thou, Lord, by strictest search hast known	11
Thou, Lord, through every changing scene	14
Thou only Sovereign of my heart	36
Thou, who reign'st enthroned above	6
Thrice happy souls, who, born from heaven	44
Through all the changing scenes of life	14
Through all the downward tracts of time	13
Through all the various passing scenes	13
Through every age, eternal God	45
Thus Agur breathed his warm desire	40
Thus far on life's perplexing path	39
Thus far the Lord has led me on	57
Thus saith the high and lofty One	40
Thus saith the Lord who built the heavens	26
Thus spake the Savior, when he sent	52
Thus we commemorate the day	53
Thy glory, Lord, the heavens declare	18
Thy gracious aid, great God, impart	3
Thy law is perfect, Lord of light	60
Thy life I read, my dearest Lord	56
Thy name, almighty Lord	7
Thy name we extol, Jehovah our King	11
Thy presence, ever-living God	56
Thy presence, gracious God, afford	3
Thy way, O God, is in the sea	13
Thy ways, O Lord, with wise design	12
Thy works of glory, mighty Lord	57
Time, by moments, steals away	50
'Tis by the faith of joys to come	42
'Tis by thy strength the mountains stand	50
'Tis finished—so the Savior cried	22
'Tis Wisdom's earnest cry	59
To heaven I lift my waiting eyes	14
To praise the Lord be our delight	8
To thee our wants are known	5
To us a child of hope is born	25
Triumphant Lord, thy goodness reigns	15
'Twas by an order from the Lord	18
'TWAS on that dark, that doleful night	53
 UNVEIL thy bosom, faithful tomb	56
Up to the hills I lift mine eyes	14
Upward we lift our eyes	14
 WAIT, O my soul, thy Maker's will	13
Welcome, delightful morn	2
Welcome, sweet day of rest	2
We praise thee,—if one rescued soul	55

	Hymn.
We're in a world of hopes and fears	373
What are those soul-reviving strains	222
What glory gilds the sacred page	183
What heavenly light is that which shines	272
What shall we ask of God in prayer	374
What works of wisdom, power and love	219
When all thy mercies, O my God	156
When, as returns this solemn day	18
When at a distance, Lord, we trace	221
When before thy throne we kneel	6
When darkness long has veiled my mind	400
When dread misfortune's tempests rise	612
When gathering clouds around I view	279
When God descends with men to dwell	308
When God revealed his gracious name	453
When I can read my title clear	493
When in the vale of lengthened years	614
When Israel through the desert passed	187
When I the holy grave survey	476
When musing sorrow weeps the past	429
When sinners quit their wicked ways	331
When some kind shepherd from his fold	604
When the vale of death appears	470
Wherefore should man, frail child of clay	590
Wherewith shall I approach the Lord	348
While here as wandering sheep we stray	396
While my Redeemer's near	269
While shepherds watched their flocks by night	200
While sounds of war are heard around	557
While through this changing world we roam	427
While with remorse and woe oppressed	339
While yet the youthful spirit bears	546
Whilst thee I seek, protecting Power	356
Who has believed thy word	313
Who shall towards thy chosen seat	408
Why does your face, ye humble souls	328
Why do we mourn departing friends	472
Why should we start and fear to die	467
Why sinks my weak, desponding mind	592
With all our hearts, with all our powers	60
With cheerful voices rise and sing	559
With glory clad, with strength arrayed	102
With heavenly power, O Lord, defend	525
With humble heart and tongue	617
With joy we meditate the grace	262
With mines of wealth are sinners poor	411
With reverence let the saints appear	108
With sacred joy we lift our eyes	7
With songs and honors sounding loud	498
With stately towers and bulwarks strong	314

	Hym
With transport, Lord, our souls proclaim	2
With warm delight and grateful joy	2
Worthy the Lamb of boundless sway	2
Would you behold the works of God	5
YE boundless realms of joy	4
Ye faithful souls, who Jesus know	4
Ye followers of the Prince of Peace	5
Ye golden lamps of heaven, farewell	4
Ye messengers of Christ	5
Ye mourning ones, whose streaming tears	4
Ye realms below the skies
Ye sons of men, with joy record	2
Ye thirsty souls, approach the spring	2
Ye trembling souls, dismiss your fears	4
Yet, saith the Lord, if David's race	6
Ye worlds of light, that roll so near	2
Ye wretched, hungry, starving poor	2
Yonder, amazing sight! I see	2
ZEAL is that pure and heavenly flame	4

OPENING AND CLOSE OF PUBLIC WORSHIP.

*WATTS.

Public Adoration. Ps. 100

- 1 BEFORE Jehovah's awful throne,
Ye nations, bow with sacred joy!
Know that the Lord is God alone:
He can create, and he destroy.
- 2 His sovereign power, without our aid,
Made us of clay, and formed us men;
And when, like wandering sheep, we strayed,
He brought us to his fold again.
- 3 We are his people, we his care,—
Our souls and all our mortal frame:
What lasting honors shall we rear,
Almighty Maker, to thy name?
- 4 We'll crowd thy gates with thankful songs;
High as the heavens our voices raise;
And earth, with her ten thousand tongues,
Shall fill thy courts with sounding praise.
- 5 Wide as the world is thy command,
Vast as eternity thy love;
Firm as a rock thy truth shall stand
When rolling years shall cease to move.

2. 11s & 8s M. MONTGOMERY.

Public Praise. Ps. 100.

1 Be joyful in God, all ye lands of the earth ;
 O serve him with gladness and fear ;
 Exult in his presence with music and mirth ;
 With love and devotion draw near.

2 Jehovah is God, and Jehovah alone—
 Creator and Ruler o'er all ;
 And we are his people—his sceptre we own—
 His sheep, and we follow his call.

3 O enter his gates with thanksgiving and song ;
 Your vows in his temple proclaim ;
 His praise with melodious accordance prolong ;
 And bless his adorable name.

4 For good is the Lord, inexpressibly good,
 And we are the work of his hand ;
 His mercy and truth from eternity stood,
 And shall to eternity stand.

3. L. M. *TATE & BRADY.

Public Worship. Ps. 95.

1 O COME, loud anthems let us sing,
 Loud thanks, to our almighty King ;
 For we our voices high should raise
 When our salvation's Rock we praise.

2 Into his presence let us haste
 To thank him for his favors past ;
 To him address, in joyful songs,
 The praise that to his name belongs.

3 For God, the Lord, enthroned in state,
Is with unrivalled glory great—
The King eternal over all
Whom by the title gods we call.

4 The depths of earth are in his hand—
Her secret wealth at his command ;
The strength of hills that threat the skies
Subjected to his empire lies.

5 The rolling ocean's vast abyss
By the same sovereign right is his ;
'Tis moved by his almighty hand,
That formed and fixed the solid land.

6 O let us to his courts repair,
And bow in adoration there—
With joy and fear, devoutly, all
Before the Lord, our Maker, fall.

4.

S. M.

WATTS.

Public Worship. Ps. 95.

1 Come, sound his praise abroad,
And hymns of glory sing :
Jehovah is the sovereign God
The universal King.

2 He formed the deeps unknown ;
He gave the seas their bound ;
The watery worlds are all his own,
And all the solid ground.

3 Come, worship at his throne ;
Come, bow before the Lord.
We are his works, and not our own :
He formed us by his word.

4 To-day attend his voice,
 Nor dare provoke his rod ;
 Come, like the people of his choice,
 And own your gracious God.

5. 6s 6s & 4s M. ANONYMOUS.

Invocation.

1 COME, thou almighty King,
 Help us thy name to sing—
 Help us to praise.
 Father all-glorious,
 O'er all victorious,
 Come and reign over us,
 Ancient of days.

2 Come, thou eternal Lord,
 By heaven and earth adored,
 Our prayer attend.
 Come, and thy people bless ;
 Give thy good word success ;
 Make thine own holiness
 On us descend.

3 Be thou our comforter ;
 Thy sacred witness bear
 In this glad hour.
 Omnipotent thou art :
 O, rule in every heart,
 And ne'er from us depart,
 Spirit of power !

4 O Holy One ! to thee
 Eternal praises be
 Hence, evermore.
 Thy sovereign majesty

May we in glory see,
And to eternity
Love and adore.

BOWRING.

Humble Worship.

- 1 WHEN before thy throne we kneel,
Filled with awe and holy fear,
Teach us, O our God, to feel
All thy sacred presence near.
- 2 Check each proud and wandering thought
When on thy great name we call;
Man is nought—is less than nought
Thou, our God, art all in all.
- 3 Weak, imperfect creatures, we
In this vale of darkness dwell;
Yet presume to look to thee
Midst thy light ineffable.
- 4 O, receive the praise that dares
Seek thy heaven-exalted throne;
Bless our offerings, hear our prayers,
Infinite and Holy One!

7.

C. M.

JARVIS.

Homage and Devotion.

- 1 WITH sacred joy we lift our eyes
To those bright realms above—
That glorious temple in the skies
Where dwells eternal love.

2 Before the awful throne we bow
 Of heaven's almighty King;
 Here we present the solemn vow,
 And hymns of praise we sing.

3 Thee we adore, and, Lord, to thee
 Our filial duty pay;
 Thy service, unconstrained and free,
 Conducts to endless day.

4 While in thy house of prayer we kneel
 With trust and holy fear,
 Thy mercy and thy truth reveal,
 And lend a gracious ear.

5 With fervor teach our hearts to pray,
 And tune our lips to sing;
 Nor from thy presence cast away
 The sacrifice we bring.

Going to Church. Ps. 122.

1 O 'twas a joyful sound to hear
 Our tribes devoutly say,
 'Up, Israel, to the temple haste,
 And keep your festal day.'

2 At Salem's courts we must appear
 With our assembled powers,
 In strong and beauteous order ranged
 Like her united towers.

3 'Tis thither, by divine command,
 The tribes of God repair,
 Before his ark to celebrate
 His name with praise and prayer.

4 O, ever pray for Salem's peace ;
 For they shall prosperous be,
 Thou holy city of our God,
 Who bear true love to thee.

5 May peace within thy sacred walls
 A constant guest be found—
 With plenty and prosperity
 Thy palaces be crowned.

6 For my dear brethren's sake, and friends
 No less than brethren dear,
 I'll pray, ' May peace in Salem's towers
 A constant guest appear.'

Going to Church. Ps. 122.

1 How did my heart rejoice to hear
 My friends devoutly say,
 'In Zion let us all appear,
 And keep the solemn day !'

2 I love her gates—I love the road ;
 The church, adorned with grace,
 Stands like a palace built for God,
 To show his milder face.

3 Up to her courts, with joys unknown,
 The holy tribes repair :
 The Son of David holds his throne,
 And sits in judgment, there.

4 Peace be within this sacred place,
 And joy a constant guest ;
 With holy gifts and heavenly grace
 Be her attendants blest.

5 My soul shall pray for Zion still
 While life or breath remains;
 There my best friends, my kindred, dwell
 There God, my Savior, reigns.

Going to Church. Ps. 122.

1 How pleased and blest was I
 To hear the people cry,
 'Come, let us seek our God to-day !'
 Yes, with a cheerful zeal,
 We haste to Zion's hill,
 And there our vows and honors pay.

2 Zion, thrice happy place,
 Adorned with wondrous grace,
 And walls of strength embrace thee round !
 In thee our tribes appear
 To pray, and praise, and hear
 The sacred gospel's joyful sound.

3 There David's greater Son
 Has fixed his royal throne;
 He sits for grace and judgment there :
 He bids the saint be glad,
 He makes the sinner sad,
 And humble souls rejoice with fear.

4 May peace attend thy gate,
 And joy within thee wait,
 To bless the soul of every guest.
 The man that seeks thy peace,
 And wishes thine increase,
 A thousand blessings on him rest.

5 My tongue repeats her vows—

‘ Peace to this sacred house,
For here my friends and kindred dwell :
And since my glorious God
Makes thee his blest abode,
My soul shall ever love thee well.

Blessedness of Public Worship. Ps. 84.

- 1 How pleasant, how divinely fair,
O Lord of hosts, thy dwellings are !
With long desire my spirit faints
To meet th' assemblies of thy saints.
- 2 My flesh would rest in thine abode
My panting heart cries out for God :
My God ! my King ! why should I be
So far from all my joys and thee ?
- 3 Blest are the saints who sit on high
Around thy throne of majesty : :
Thy brightest glories shine above,
And all their work is praise and love.
- 4 Blest are the souls who find a place
Within the temple of thy grace :
There they behold thy gentler rays,
And seek thy face, and learn thy praise.
- 5 Blest are the men whose hearts are set
To find the way to Zion's gate :
God is their strength, and through the road
They lean upon their helper, God.
- 6 Cheerful they walk, with growing strength,
Till all shall meet in heaven at length—
Till all before thy face appear,
And join in nobler worship there.

Blessedness of Public Worship. Ps. 84.

1 LORD of the worlds above,
 How pleasant and how fair
 The dwellings of thy love,
 Thine earthly temples, are!
 To thine abode
 My heart aspires, with warm desires
 To see my God.

2 The sparrow for her young
 With pleasure seeks a nest,
 And wandering swallows long
 To find their wonted rest:
 My spirit faints
 With equal zeal to rise and dwell
 Among thy saints.

3 To spend one sacred day
 Where God and saints abide,
 Affords diviner joy
 Than thousand days beside.
 Where God resorts,
 I love it more to keep the door
 Than shine in courts.

4 O happy souls that pray
 Where God appoints to hear!
 O happy men that pay
 Their constant service there!
 They praise thee still;
 And happy they that love the way
 To Zion's hill!

5 They go from strength to strength
 Through this dark vale of tears,
 Till each arrives at length—
 Till each in heaven appears.
 O glorious seat,
 When God, our King, shall thither bring
 Our willing feet.

Delight in Public Worship. Ps. 84.

1 GREAT God, attend, while Zion sings
 The joy that from thy presence springs.
 To spend one day with thee on earth
 Exceeds a thousand days of mirth.

2 Might I enjoy the meanest place
 Within thy house, O God of grace,
 Not tents of ease, nor thrones of power,
 Should tempt my feet to leave thy door.

3 God is our sun—he makes our day;
 God is our shield—he guards our way
 From all th' assaults of hell and sin,
 From foes without and foes within.

4 All needful grace will God bestow,
 And crown that grace with glory too.
 He gives us all things, and withholds
 No real good from upright souls.

5 O God, our King, whose sovereign sway
 The glorious host of heaven obey,
 Display thy grace, exert thy power,
 Till all on earth thy name adore.

Excellence of Public Worship.

- 1 LORD of hosts, how lovely fair,
E'en on earth, thy temples are !
Here thy waiting people see
Much of heaven, and much of thee.
- 2 From thy gracious presence flows
Bliss that softens all our woes,
While thy Spirit's holy fire
Warms our hearts with pure desire.
- 3 Here we supplicate thy throne ;
Here thou mak'st thy glories known ;
Here we learn thy righteous ways,
Taste thy love, and sing thy praise.
- 4 Thus, with festive songs of joy,
We our happy lives employ—
Love, and long to love thee more,
Till from earth to heaven we soar.

The Jewish Temple and Christian Church. Ps. 132.

- 1 THE Lord in Zion placed his name :
His ark was settled there :
To Zion the whole nation came
To worship thrice a year.
- 2 But we have no such lengths to go,
Nor wander far abroad :
Where'er thy saints assemble now
There is a house for God.

3 Arise, O King of grace, arise,
 And enter to thy rest :
 Lo, thy church waits with longing eyes
 Thus to be owned and blessed.

4 Enter with all thy glorious train,—
 Thy Spirit and thy word ;
 All that the ark did once contain
 Could no such grace afford.

5 Here, mighty God, accept our vows ;
 Here let thy praise be spread ;
 Bless the provisions of thy house,
 And fill thy poor with bread.

6 Here let the Son of David reign—
 Let God's Anointed shine ;
 Justice and truth his court maintain,
 With love and power divine.

 O ye afflicted, come :
 The God of peace shall meet you there—
 He makes that house his home.

2 Come to the house of praise,
 Ye who are happy now ;
 In sweet accord your voices raise,
 In kindred homage bow.

3 Ye aged, hither come,
 For ye have felt his love :
 Soon shall your trembling tongues be dumb,
 Your lips forget to move.

4 Ye young, before his throne,
 Come, bow ; your voices raise ;
 Let not your hearts his praise disown
 Who gives the power to praise,

5 Thou, whose benignant eye
 In mercy looks on all—
 Who see'st the tear of misery,
 And hear'st the mourner's call—

6 Up to thy dwelling-place
 Bear our frail spirits on,
 Till they outstrip time's tardy pace,
 And heaven on earth be won.

House of God.

1 Lo, God is here ! Let us adore,
 And humbly bow before his face ;
 Let all within us feel his power ;
 Let all within us seek his grace.

2 Lo, God is here ! Him, day and night,
 United choirs of angels sing :
 To him, enthroned above all height,
 Heaven's host their noblest praises bring.

3 Being of beings ! may thy praise
 Thy courts with grateful fragrance fill :
 Still may we stand before thy face—
 Still hear and do thy sovereign will.

4 More of thy presence, Lord, impart ;
 More of thine image may we bear ;
 Erect thy throne within our heart,
 And reign without a rival there.

Offering of the Heart.

- 1 WHEN, as returns this solemn day,
Man comes to meet his Maker, God,
What rites, what honors, shall he pay ?
How spread his Sovereign's praise abroad ?
- 2 From marble domes and gilded spires
Shall curling clouds of incense rise ?
And gems and gold and garlands deck
The costly pomp of sacrifice ?
- 3 Vain, sinful man ! creation's Lord
Thy golden offerings well may spare ;
But give thy heart, and thou shalt find
Here dwells a God who heareth prayer.

The Lord's Day.

- 1 ANOTHER six-days' work is done—
Another sabbath is begun.
Enjoy, my soul, the sacred rest ;
Improve the day that God has blest.
- 2 Come, praise the Lord, whose love assigns
So sweet a rest to weary minds—
Provides an antepast of heaven,
And gives, this day, the food of seven.
- 3 This day may our devotions rise
As grateful incense to the skies ;
May heaven that peace divine bestow
Which none but they who feel it know.

4 This holy calm within the breast
 Is the dear pledge of glorious rest,
 Which for the sons of God remains—
 The end of cares, the end of pains.

5 With joy, great God, thy works we view
 In various scenes, both old and new:
 With praise we think on mercies past;
 With hope we future mercies taste.

6 In holy duties let the day—
 In holy pleasures—pass away.
 How sweet the sabbath thus to spend,
 In hope of that which ne'er shall end !

A Prayer for Lord's Day.

1 Safely through another week
 God has brought us on our way.
 Let us now his blessing seek,
 Waiting in his courts to-day :
 Day, of all the week the best—
 Emblem of eternal rest.

2 Mercies multiplied each hour
 Through the week our praise demand
 Guarded by almighty power,
 Fed and guided by thy hand,
 May we not forgetful be,
 Nor ungrateful, Lord, to thee.

3 While we seek supplies of grace
 Through the dear Redeemer's name,
 Shew thy reconciling face,
 Take away our sin and shame.
 From our worldly cares set free,
 May we rest this day in thee.

4 Here we come thy name to praise :
 Let us feel thy presence near ;
 May thy glory meet our eyes
 While we in thy house appear ;
 Here afford us, Lord, a taste
 Of our everlasting feast.

5 May the gospel's joyful sound
 Conquer sinners, comfort saints ;
 Make the fruits of grace abound ;
 Bring relief from all complaints.
 Thus let all our sabbaths prove
 Till we join the church above.

The Lord's Day Morning.

1 AGAIN the Lord of life and light
 Awakes the kindling ray,
 Unseals the eyelids of the morn,
 And pours increasing day.

2 O what a night was that which wrapped
 The heathen world in gloom !
 O what a sun which broke, this day,
 Triumphant from the tomb !

3 This day be grateful homage paid,
 And loud hosannas sung ;
 Let gladness dwell in every heart,
 And praise on every tongue.

4 Ten thousand differing lips shall join
 To hail this welcome morn,
 Which scatters blessings from its wings
 To nations yet unborn.

5 Jesus, the friend of human kind,
 Was crucified and slain :
 Behold, the tomb its prey restores ;
 Behold, he lives again.

6 And while his conquering chariot wheels
 Ascend the lofty skies,
 Broken beneath his powerful cross
 Death's iron sceptre lies.

The Heavenly Sabbath.

1 LORD of the sabbath, hear our vows,
 On this thy day, in this thy house ;
 And let our songs and worship rise,
 Like grateful incense, to the skies.

2 Thine earthly sabbaths, Lord, we love :
 But there's a nobler rest above :
 To that our laboring souls aspire
 With ardent hope and strong desire.

3 No more fatigue, no more distress,
 Nor sin, nor death, shall reach the place ;
 No groans shall mingle with the songs
 That warble from immortal tongues.

4 No rude alarms, no raging foes,
 To interrupt the long repose ;
 No midnight shade, no clouded sun,
 To veil the bright, eternal noon.

5 O, long-expected day, begin ;
 Dawn on these realms of death and sin.
 Fain would we quit this weary road,
 And sleep in death, to rest with God.

A Prayer for Lord's Day.

1 GREAT God, this sacred day of thine
 Demands our soul's collected powers.
 May we employ in work divine
 These solemn, these devoted hours ;
 O may our souls adoring own
 The grace which calls us to thy throne.

2 Hence, ye vain cares and trifles, fly ;
 Where God resides appear no more ;
 Omniscient God, thy piercing eye
 Can every secret thought explore :
 O may thy grace our hearts refine,
 And fix our thoughts on things divine.

3 The word of life dispensed to-day
 Invites us to a heavenly feast.
 May every ear the call obey ;
 Be every heart a humble guest ;
 O bid the wretched sons of need
 On soul-reviving dainties feed.

4 Thy spirit's powerful aid impart ;
 O may thy word, with life divine,
 Engage the ear, and warm the heart ;
 Then shall the day indeed be thine ;
 Then shall our souls adoring own
 The grace which calls us to thy throne.

Sabbath on Earth, and in Heaven. Ps. 92.

- 1 SWEET is the work, my God, my King,
To praise thy name, give thanks, and sing ;
To show thy love by morning light,
And talk of all thy truth at night.
- 2 Sweet is the day of sacred rest !
No mortal cares shall seize my breast.
O may my heart in tune be found,
Like David's harp of solemn sound.
- 3 My heart shall triumph in the Lord,
And bless his works, and bless his word :
Thy works of grace, how bright they shine !
How deep thy counsels, how divine !
- 4 And I shall share a glorious part
When grace hath well refined my heart,
And fresh supplies of joy are shed,
Like holy oil, to cheer my head.
- 5 Sin, my worst enemy before,
Shall vex my eyes and ears no more ;
My inward foes shall all be slain,
Nor ever break my peace again.

All I desired or wished below ;
And every power find sweet employ

1 FREQUENT the day of God returns
 To shed its quickening beams ;
 And yet how slow devotion burns !
 How languid are its flames !

2 Accept our faint attempts to love ;
 Our frailties, Lord, forgive.
 We would be like thy saints above,
 And praise thee while we live.

3 Increase, O Lord, our faith and hope,
 And fit us to ascend
 Where the assembly ne'er breaks up,
 The sabbath ne'er shall end ;

4 Where we shall breathe in heavenly air,

 Before the throne of God appear,
 And feast on love divine ;

5 Where we, in high seraphic strains,
 Shall all our powers employ—
 Delighted range th' ethereal plains,
 And take our fill of joy.

3 One day amidst the place
Where my dear Lord hath been,

1 WELCOME, delightful morn,
Thou day of sacred rest !
We hail thy glad return :
Lord, make these moments blest.
From low delights and mortal toys
We soar to reach immortal joys.

2 Now may the King descend,
And fill his throne of grace ;
Thy sceptre, Lord, extend,
While we address thy face.
O let us feel thy quickening word,
And learn to know and fear the Lord.

3 Descend, celestial Dove,

Disclose a Savior's love,
And bless these sacred hours .
Then shall our souls new life obtain,
Nor sabbaths be enjoyed in vain.

1 THE joyful morn, my God, is come
 That calls me to thy honored dome
 Thy presence to adore.
 My feet the summons shall attend,
 With willing steps thy courts ascend,
 And tread the hallowed floor.

2 Hither from Judah's utmost end
 The heaven-protected tribes ascend—
 Their offerings hither bring ;
 Here, eager to attest their joy,
 In hymns of praise their tongues employ,
 And hail th' immortal King.

3 Be peace implored by each on thee,
 O Zion, while with bended knee
 To Jacob's God we pray.
 How blessed who calls himself thy friend !
 Success his labors shall attend,
 And safety guard his way.

4 O mayst thou, free from hostile fear,
 Nor the loud voice of tumult hear,
 Nor war's wild wastes deplore ;
 May plenty nigh thee take her stand,
 And in thy courts, with lavish hand,
 Distribute all her store.

5 Seat of my friends and brethren, hail !
 How can my tongue, O Zion, fail
 To bless thy loved abode ?
 How cease the zeal that in me glows
 Thy good to seek, whose walls inclose
 The mansions of my God ?

 Shake off each slothful band :

 Auspicious morn, thy blissful rays
 Bright seraphs hail in songs of praise.

2 At thy approaching dawn
 Reluctant death resigned
 The glorious Prince of life,
 In the dark tomb confined.
 Th' angelic host around him bends,
 And, 'midst their shouts, the Lord ascends.

3 All hail, triumphant Lord !
 Heaven with hosanna rings,
 Whilst earth, in humbler strains,
 Thy praise responsive sings.
 Worthy art thou, who once wast slain,
 Thro' endless years to live and reign.

4 Gird on, great King, thy sword,
 Ascend thy conquering car,
 Whilst justice, truth, and love,
 Maintain the glorious war.
 Victorious thou thy foes shalt tread,
 And sin and death in triumph lead.

5 Make bare thy potent arm,
 And wing th' unerring dart,
 With salutary pangs,
 To each rebellious heart.
 Then dying souls for life shall sue,
 Numerous as drops of morning dew.

As travellers, in thirsty lands,

Oft have I seen thy glory here,

 And life and love alone can flood

 And life and beauty glow around.

2 We would adore thee, God sublime !
 Whose power and wisdom, love and grace,
 Are greater than the round of time,
 And wider than the bounds of space.
 O how shall thought expression find,
 All lost in thine immensity !
 How shall we seek thee, glorious Mind,
 Amid thy dread infinity !

3 But thou art present with us here,

 And grateful hearts and humble fear
 Can never seek thy face in vain.
 Help us to praise thee, Lord of light !
 Help us thy boundless love declare ;
 And, while we crowd thy courts to-night,
 Aid us, and hearken to our prayer.

Praise to God and the Lamb.

1 MIGHTY God, while angels bless thee
 May not mortals speak thy name ?
 Lord of men as well as angels,
 Thou art every creature's theme.
Hallelujah, &c.

2 Lord of every land and nation,
 Ancient of eternal days,
 Sounded through the wide creation
 Be thy just and awful praise.
Hallelujah, &c.

3 For the grandeur of thy nature—
 Grand beyond a seraph's thought ;
 For created works of power—
 Works with skill and kindness wrought ;
Hallelujah, &c.

4 For thy providence that governs
 Through thine empire's wide domain,
 Wings an angel, guides a sparrow—
 Blessed be thy gentle reign.
Hallelujah, &c.

5 Brightness of the Father's glory !
 Shall thy praise unuttered lie ?
 Fly, my tongue, such guilty silence,
 Sing the Lord who came to die.
Hallelujah, &c. Amen.

- 1 PRAISE ye the Lord around whose throne
All heaven in ceaseless worship waits,
Whose glory fills the worlds unknown—
Praise ye the Lord from Zion's gates.
- 2 With mingling souls and voices join ;
To him the swelling anthem raise ;
Repeat his name with joy divine,
And fill the temple with his praise.
- 3 All-gracious God, to thee we owe
Each joy and blessing time affords,—
Light, life, and health, and all below,
Spring from thy presence, Lord of lords.
- 4 Thine be the praise, for thine the love
That freely all our sins forgave,
Pointed our dying eyes above,
And showed us life beyond the grave.
- 5 And, Jesus, let thy deathless name
In concert with the Father's rise ;
For thou hast borne for us the shame,
And wilt exalt us to the skies.
- 6 Thy name be praised, for worthy thou
Unbounded honors to receive :
To thee shall every creature bow,
And everlasting glory give.

Praise for Providence and Grace.

- 1 My soul, praise the Lord, speak good of his name :
His mercies record, his bounties proclaim ;—
To God, their Creator, let all creatures raise
The song of thanksgiving, the chorus of praise !
- 2 Though hid from man's sight God sits on his throne,
Yet here by his works their author is known :
The world shines a mirror its Maker to show,
And heaven views its image reflected below.
- 3 Those agents of power—fire, water, earth, sky—
Attest the dread might of God, the Most High,
Who rides on the whirlwind, while clouds veil his form,
Who smiles in the sunbeam, or frowns in the storm.
- 4 By knowledge supreme, by wisdom divine,
God governs this earth with gracious design ;
O'er beast, bird, and insect his providence reigns,
Whose will first created, whose love still sustains.
- 5 And man, his last work, with reason endued,
Who, falling through sin, by grace is renewed—
To God, his Creator, let man ever raise
The song of thanksgiving, the chorus of praise.

Praise to the God of Nature. Ps. 136.

- 1 LET us with a joyful mind
Praise the Lord, for he is kind—
For his mercies shall endure
Ever faithful, ever sure.
- 2 Let us sound his name abroad,
For of gods he is the God :
He by wisdom did create
Heaven's expanse, and all its state ;
- 3 Did the solid earth ordain
How to rise above the main ;
Did by his commanding might
Fill the new-made world with light ;
- 4 Caused the golden-tressed sun
All the day his course to run ;
And the moon to shine by night
'Mid her spangled sisters bright.
- 5 All things living he doth feed :
His full hand supplies their need.
Let us therefore warble forth
His high majesty and worth.
- 6 He his mansion hath on high,
'Bove the reach of mortal eye ;
And his mercies shall endure
Ever faithful, ever sure.

Praise for Creation and Providence. Pg. 136

1 LIFT your voice, and joyful sing
 Praises to your heavenly King,
 For his mercies far extend,
 And his bounty knows no end.

2 Honor pay to heaven's high Lord,
 And his wondrous deeds record ;
 Through the various realms of earth
 Praise him, all of human birth—

3 Him whose wisdom, throned on high,
 Built the mansions of the sky,
 And the orbs that gild the pole
 Bade through boundless ether roll—

4 Him who o'er this earthly ball
 Looks with equal eye on all,
 And to every thing which lives
 Rich supplies of blessings gives.

5 To the great, eternal King,
 Raise your voice, and joyful sing,
 For his mercies wide extend,

Praise to the God of Nature and Grace.

- 1 YE sons of men, with joy record
The various wonders of the Lord,
And let his power and goodness sound
Through all your tribes the earth around.
- 2 Let the high heavens your songs invite,—
Those spacious fields of brilliant light
Where sun, and moon, and planets roll,
And stars, that glow from pole to pole.
- 3 Sing, earth, in verdant robes arrayed,
Its herbs and flowers, its fruits and shade ;—
Peopled with life of various forms,
Of fish, and fowl, and beasts, and worms.
- 4 View the broad sea's majestic plains,
And think how wide its Maker reigns :
That band remotest nations joins,
And on each wave his goodness shines.
- 5 But, O, that brighter world above,
Where lives and reigns incarnate love,—
God's only Son, in flesh arrayed,
For man a bleeding victim made!
- 6 Thither, my soul, with rapture, soar ;
There, in the land of praise, adore.
The theme demands an angel's lay—
Demands an everlasting day.

Praise for the Divine Perfections.

- 1 O SING to the Lord a new song ;
The universe join in the strain ;
Each day the glad tribute prolong—
His wonders, his glory maintain.
With gratitude bless the kind power
From whom our salvation descends :
How great is the God we adore !
How rich are the blessings he sends !

2 In beauty of holiness bow ;
 O worship with fear and with love.
 How solemn his temples below !
 How glorious his presence above !
 Proclaim to the nations around
 That God, the Omnipotent, reigns,
 Whose righteousness space cannot bound
 Whose purpose unaltered remains.

3 O let the wide heavens rejoice—
 The earth with her myriads be glad ;
 The ocean shall join his loud voice—
 The woods in rich verdure be clad.
 Rejoice, for the Lord is at hand ;
 Prepare, for his judgments are nigh ;—
 Before him all nations shall stand ;
 No guilt from his justice can fly.

2 Let praise to the Lord, who made us, ascend ;
 Let each grateful heart be glad in its King :
 The God whom we worship our songs will attend,
 And view with complacence the offering we bring.

3 Be joyful, ye saints sustained by his might,
 And let your glad songs awake with each morn ;
 For those who obey him are still his delight—
 His hand with salvation the meek will adorn.

 His praise in the great assembly to sing ;

 And heirs of salvation be glad in their King.

2 Let them his great name devoutly adore,
 In loud-swellings strains his praises express,
 Who graciously opens his bountiful store
 Their wants to relieve, and his children to bless.

3 With glory adorned, his people shall sing
 To God who defence and plenty supplies ;
 Their loud acclamations to him, their great King,
 Through earth shall be sounded, and reach to the skies.

4 Ye angels above, his glories who've sung,
 In loftiest notes now publish his praise ;
 We mortals, delighted, would borrow your tongue,
 Would join in your numbers, and chant to your

Praise through Time and Eternity.

1 SONGS of praise the angels sang,
 Heaven with hallelujahs rang,
 When Jehovah's work begun—
 When he spake, and it was done.

2 Songs of praise awoke the morn
 When the Prince of peace was born ;
 Songs of praise arose when he
 Captive led captivity.

3 Heaven and earth must pass away :
 Songs of praise shall crown that day .
 God will make new heavens and earth :
 Songs of praise shall hail their birth.

4 And will man alone be dumb
 Till that glorious kingdom come ?
 No—the church delights to raise
 Psalms and hymns and songs of praise.

5 Saints below, with heart and voice,
 Still in songs of praise rejoice—
 Learning here, by faith and love,
 Songs of praise to sing above.

6 Borne upon the latest breath,
 Songs of praise shall conquer death ;
 Then, amidst eternal joy,
 Songs of praise their powers employ.

The Same.

1 HOLY, holy, holy, Lord !
 Be thy glorious name adored.
 Lord, thy mercies never fail :
 Hail, celestial goodness, hail !

2 Though unworthy, Lord, thine ear,
 Deign our humble songs to hear ;
 Purer praise we hope to bring
 When around thy throne we sing.

3 While on earth ordained to stay
 Guide our footsteps in thy way ;
 Then on high we'll joyful raise
 Songs of everlasting praise.

4 There no tongue shall silent be ;
 All shall join in harmony,
 That through heaven's capacious round
 Praise to thee may ever sound.

5 Lord, thy mercies never fail :
 Hail, celestial goodness, hail !—
 Holy, holy, holy Lord !
 Be thy glorious name adored.

Praise from all Nature. Ps. 148.

- 1 BEGIN, my soul, th' exalted lay;
Let each enraptured thought obey,
And praise th' Almighty's name.

Lo, heaven and earth and seas and skies
 In one melodious concert rise
 To swell th' inspiring theme.

2 Thou heaven of heavens, his vast abode—
 Ye clouds, proclaim your Maker, God ;
 Ye thunders, speak his power.
 Lo, on the lightning's rapid wings
 In triumph rides the King of kings :
 Th' astonished worlds adore.

3 Ye deeps, with roaring billows rise
 To join the thunders of the skies—
 Praise him who bids you roll.
 His praise in softer notes declare,
 Each whispering breeze of yielding air,
 And breathe it to the soul.

4 Wake, all ye soaring throngs, and sing ;
 Ye cheerful warblers of the spring,
 Harmonious anthems raise
 To him who shaped your finer mould,
 Who tipped your glittering wings with gold,
 And tuned your voice to praise.

5 Let man, by nobler passions swayed,
 The feeling heart, the reasoning head,
 In heavenly praise employ ;
 Spread the Creator's name around
 Till heaven's wide arch repeat the sound—
 The general burst of joy.

Gave thee thy path, and guides thee there.

Praise him who hung you high in heaven,
With vivid fires to gild the gloom.

4 Lightnings, that round the Eternal play !
Thunders, that from his arm are hurled !
The grandeur of your God convey,
Blazing or bursting on the world.

Nature's Evening Hymn.

1 THE heavenly spheres to thee, O God,
 Attune their evening hymn ;
 All-wise, all-holy ! thou art praised
 In song of seraphim ;
 Unnumbered systems, suns, and worlds
 Unite to worship thee,
 While thy majestic greatness fills
 Space, time, eternity.

2 Nature—a temple worthy thee
 That beams with light and love,
 Whose flowers so sweetly bloom below,
 Whose stars rejoice above,

Whose altars are the mountain-cliffs
That rise along the shore,
Whose anthems, the sublime accord
Of storm and ocean roar—

3 Her song of gratitude is sung
By spring's awakening hours ;
Her summer offers at thy shrine
Its earliest, loveliest flowers ;
Her autumn brings its ripened fruits,
In glorious luxury given ;
While winter's silver heights reflect
Thy brightness back to heaven.

4 On all thou smil'st—and what is man
Before thy presence, God ?
A breath but yesterday inspired,
To-morrow but a clod.
That clod shall mingle in the vale,
But, kindled, Lord, by thee,
The spirit to thy arms shall spring,
To life, to liberty.

BEING, PERFECTIONS, AND PROVIDENCE OF GOD.

The Only God.

- 1 ETERNAL God ! almighty Cause
Of earth, and sea, and worlds unknown !
All things are subject to thy laws—
All things depend on thee alone.
- 2 Thy glorious being singly stands,
Of all within itself possessed ;
Controlled by none are thy commands ;
Thou from thyself alone art blest.
- 3 To thee alone ourselves we owe—
To thee alone our homage pay ;
All other gods we disavow,
Deny their claims, renounce their sway.
- 4 In thee, O Lord, our hope shall rest,
Fountain of peace, and joy, and love !
Thy favor only makes us blest ;
Without thee all would nothing prove.
- 5 Worship to thee alone belongs—
Worship to thee alone we give ;
Thine be our hearts, and thine our songs,
And to thy glory we would live.

6 Spread thy great name through heathen lands,
 Their idol deities dethrone,
 Subdue the world to thy commands,
 And reign, as thou art, God alone.

God.

1 God is a name my soul adores,
 Th' Almighty, the Eternal One !
 Nature and grace, with all their powers
 Confess the Infinite Unknown.

2 Thy voice produced the seas and spheres,
Bade planets roll, and suns to shine ;
But nothing like thyself appears
Through all these spacious works of thine.

3 Still restless nature dies and grows ;
From change to change the creatures run ;—
Thy being no succession knows,
And all thy vast designs are one.

4 Thrones and dominions round thee fall,
And worship in submissive forms ;
Thy presence shakes this lower ball,—
This humble dwelling-place of worms.

5 Who can behold thy blazing light !
Who can approach consuming flame !—
Thy wisdom only knows thy might ;
Thy word alone can speak thy name.

Perfection of God.

1 Thou art, almighty Lord of all,
From everlasting still the same ;
Before thee dazzling seraphs fall,
And veil their faces in a flame,
To see such bright perfections glow—
Such floods of glory from thee flow.

2 What mortal hand shall dare to paint
A semblance of thy glory, Lord ?
The brightest rainbow-tints are faint ;
The brightest stars of heaven afford
But dim effusions of those rays
Of light that round Jehovah blaze.

3 The sun himself is but a gleam,
 A transient meteor, from thy throne ;
 And every frail and fickle beam
 That ever in creation shone,
 Is nothing, Lord, compared to thee
 In thy own vast immensity.

4 But though thy brightness may create
 All worship from the hosts above,
 What most thy name must elevate
 Is, that thou art a God of love ;
 And mercy is the central sun
 Of all thy glories joined in one.

The Divine Being and Perfections. Ps. 36.

1 HIGH in the heavens, eternal God,
 Thy goodness in full glory shines ;
 Thy truth shall break through every cloud,
 That veils and darkens thy designs.

2 Forever firm thy justice stands,
 As mountains their foundations keep ;
 Wise are the wonders of thy hands ;
 Thy judgments are a mighty deep.

3 Thy providence is kind and large :
 Both men and beasts thy bounty share :
 The whole creation is thy charge ;
 But saints are thy peculiar care.

4 My God, how excellent thy grace,
 Whence all our hope and comfort springs !
 The sons of Adam, in distress,
 Fly to the shadow of thy wings.

5 From the provisions of thy house
 We shall be fed with sweet repast ;—
 There mercy like a river flows,
 And brings salvation to our taste.

6 Life, like a fountain full and free,
 Springs from the presence of my Lord ;
 And in thy light our souls shall see
 The glories promised in thy word.

The surpassing Glory of God.

1 SINCE o'er thy footstool here below
 Such radiant gems are strown,
 O what magnificence must glow,
 Great God, about thy throne !
 So brilliant here these drops of light—
 There the full ocean rolls—how bright !

2 If night's blue curtain of the sky—
 With thousand stars inwrought,
 Hung like a royal canopy
 With glittering diamonds fraught—
 Be, Lord, thy temple's outer veil,
 What splendor at the shrine must dwell !

3 The dazzling sun, at noon-day hour—
 Forth from his flaming vase
 Flinging o'er earth the golden shower
 Till vale and mountain blaze—
 But shows, O Lord, one beam of thine :
 What, then, the day where thou dost shine !

4 O how shall these dim eyes endure
 That noon of living rays !
 Or how our spirits, so impure,

Upon thy glory gaze !—
 Anoint, O Lord, anoint our sight,
 And fit us for that world of light.

 O'er earth and sea and sky,
 Let man with praises own,
 And sound his honors high.
- 2 Him all in heaven above,
 Him all on earth below,
 Th' exhaustless source of love,
 The great Creator, know.
- 3 He formed the living flame,
 He gave the reasoning mind :

 The worship of mankind.

 Attempts to look thy nature through ;
 Our laboring powers with reverence own
 Thy glories never can be known.

2 Not the high seraph's mighty thought,
Who countless years his God has sought,
Such wondrous height or depth can find,
Or fully trace thy boundless mind.

3 And yet thy kindness deigns to show
Enough for mortal minds to know ;
While wisdom, goodness, power divine,
Through all thy works and conduct shine.

4 O, may our souls with rapture trace

Explore thy sacred truth, and still
Press on to know and do thy will.

1 Can creatures to perfection find
Th' eternal, uncreated Mind ?
Or can the largest stretch of thought
Measure and search his nature out ?

2 'Tis high as heaven—'tis deep as hell ;
And what can mortals know or tell ?
His glory spreads beyond the sky,
And all the shining worlds on high.

3 God is a king of power unknown ;
Firm are the orders of his throne ;
If he resolve, who dare oppose,
Or ask him why, or what he does ?

4 He wounds the heart, and he makes whole ;
He calms the tempest of the soul ;—
When he shuts up in long despair,
Who can remove the heavy bar ?

5 He frowns, and darkness veils the moon—
 The fainting sun grows dim at noon ;
 The pillars of heaven's starry roof
 Tremble and start at his reproof.

6 These are a portion of his ways ;
 But who shall dare describe his face ?
 Who can endure his light, or stand
 To hear the thunders of his hand ?

 To what in heaven, to what on earth,
 Can men th' immortal King compare ?

Seeing the Invisible.

1 ETERNAL and immortal King !
 Thy peerless splendors none can bear ;
 But darkness veils seraphic eyes
 When God with all his glory's there.

2 Yet faith can pierce the awful gloom,
 The great Invisible can see,
 And with its tremblings mingle joy,
 In fixed regard, great God ! to thee.

3 Then every tempting form of sin,
 Awed by thy presence, disappears ;
 And all the glowing, raptured soul
 The likeness it contemplates wears.

4 O ever conscious to my heart—
 Witness to its supreme desire !
 Behold it presseth on to thee,
 For it hath caught the heavenly fire.

5 This one petition would we urge,—
 To bear thee ever in our sight,
 In life, in death, in worlds unknown,
 Our only portion and delight.

 And he, as sovereign Lord and King,

God Omnipresent and Omniscient. Ps. 139.

1 SEARCHER of hearts ! to thee are known
 The inmost secrets of my breast ;
 At home, abroad, in crowds, alone,

 My thoughts far off, through every maze,
 Source, stream, and issue—all my ways.

2 No word that from my mouth proceeds,
 Evil or good, escapes thine ear ;
 Witness thou art to all my deeds—
 Before, behind, forever near.
 Such knowledge is for me too high :
 I live but in my Maker's eye.

3 How from thy presence should I go,
 Or whither from thy Spirit flee,
 Since all above, around, below,
 Exist in thine immensity ?
 If up to heaven I take my way,
 I meet thee in eternal day ;

4 If in the grave I make my bed
 With worms and dust, lo, thou art there ;
 If, on the wings of morning sped,

Beyond the ocean I repair,
I feel thine all-controlling will,
And thy right hand upholds me still.

5 How precious are thy thoughts of peace,
O God, to me !—how great the sum !—
New every morn, they never cease :
They were, they are, and yet shall come
In number and in compass more
Than ocean's sand or ocean's shore.

6 Search me, O God, and know my heart ;

And warn thy servant to depart
From every false and evil way :
So shall thy truth my guidance be

O skill, for human reach too high !
Too dazzling bright for mortal eye !

3 O could I so perfidious be
To think of once deserting thee,
Where, Lord, could I thy influence shun
Or whither from thy presence run ?

4 If I the morning's wings could gain,
 And fly beyond the western main,
 Thy swifter hand would first arrive,
 And there arrest thy fugitive.

5 Or should I try to shun thy sight
 Beneath the sable wings of night,
 One glance from thee, one piercing ray,

 All feel thy providential care ;
 And, through each varying scene of life,
 Alike thy constant pity share.

5 And whether grief oppress the heart,
 Or whether joy elate the breast,
 Or life still keep its little course,
 Or death invite the heart to rest,

6 All are thy messengers, and all
 Thy sacred pleasure, Lord, obey ;
 And all are training man to dwell
 Nearer to bliss, and nearer thee.

All our Times in God's Hand.

1 SOVEREIGN Ruler of the skies,
 Ever gracious, ever wise !
 All my times are in thy hand,
 All events at thy command.

2 Thou didst form me by thy power ;
 Thou wilt guide me hour by hour ;
 All my times shall ever be
 Ordered by thy wise decree.

3 Times of sickness—times of health ;
 Times of penury and wealth ;
 Times of trial and of grief ;
 Times of triumph and relief ;

4 Times temptation's power to prove ;
 Times to taste a Savior's love ;—
 All is fixed, the means and end,
 As shall please my heavenly Friend.

5 O thou gracious, wise, and just !
 In thy hands my life I trust.
 Have I aught that's dearer still ?
 I resign it to thy will.

Divine Providence.

1 God reigns ;—events in order flow
 Man's industry to guide ;
 But in a different channel go
 To humble human pride.

2 The swift not always in the race
 Shall win the crowning prize ;
 Not always wealth and honor grace
 The labors of the wise.

3 Fond mortals do themselves beguile
 When on themselves they rest ;
 Blind is their wisdom, vain their toil,
 By thee, O Lord, unblest.

4 'Tis ours the furrows to prepare,
 And sow the precious grain ;
 'Tis thine to give the sun and air,
 And to command the rain.

5 Evil and good before thee stand
 Their mission to perform ;
 The sun shines bright at thy command ;
 Thy hand directs the storm.

6 In all thy ways we humbly own
 Thy providential power ;
 Entrusted to thy care alone,
 The lot of every hour.

Providence Mysterious.

- 1 THY ways, O Lord, with wise design,
Are framed upon thy throne above,
And every dark or bending line
Meets in the centre of thy love.
- 2 With feeble light, and half obscure,
Poor mortals thine arrangements view,
Not knowing that the least are sure,
And the mysterious just and true.
- 3 Thy flock, thine own peculiar care,
Though now they seem to roam uneyed,
Are led or driven only where
They best and safest may abide.
- 4 They neither know nor trace the way ;
But, trusting to thy piercing eye,
None of their feet to ruin stray,
Nor shall the weakest fail or die.
- 5 My favored soul shall meekly learn
To lay her reason at thy throne ;
Too weak thy secrets to discern,
I'll trust thee for my guide alone.

Are hid from mortal sight—
Wrapt in impenetrable shades,
Or clothed with dazzling light.

 Evade the human eye;
 The nearer we attempt t' approach
 The farther off they fly.

3 But in the world of bliss above,
 Where thou dost ever reign,
 These myst'ries shall be all unveiled,
 And not a doubt remain.

 His brightest beams display,
 And not a hovering cloud obscure
 That never-ending day.

1 God moves in a mysterious way
 His wonders to perform ;
 He plants his footsteps in the sea,
 And rides upon the storm.

2 Deep in unfathomable mines
 Of never-failing skill,
 He treasures up his bright designs,
 And works his sovereign will.

3 Ye fearful saints, fresh courage take :
 The clouds ye so much dread,
 Are big with mercy, and shall break
 In blessings on your head.

4 Judge not the Lord by feeble sense,
 But trust him for his grace :
 Behind a frowning providence
 He hides a smiling face.

5 His purposes will ripen fast,
 Unfolding every hour ;—
 The bud may have a bitter taste,
 But sweet will be the flower.

6 Blind unbelief is sure to err,
 And scan his work in vain :
 God is his own interpreter,
 And he will make it plain.

Providence Kind and Sure.

1 THROUGH all the various passing scene
 Of life's mistaken ill or good,
 Thy hand, O God ! conducts unseen
 The beautiful vicissitude.

2 Thou givest, with paternal care,
 Howe'er unjustly we complain,
 To each their necessary share
 Of joy and sorrow, health and pain.

3 When lowest sunk with grief and shame,
 Filled with affliction's bitter cup,
 Lost to relations, friends, and fame,
 Thy powerful hand can raise us up.

4 Thy powerful consolations cheer,
 Thy smiles suppress the deep-fetched sigh,
 Thy hand can dry the trickling tear
 That silent dims the widow's eye.

5 All things on earth, and all in heaven,
 On thy eternal will depend ;
 And all for greater good were given,
 And all shall in thy glory end.

6 This be my care—to all beside Indifferent let my wishes be,—

 And fixed, O God, my soul on thee.’

 Mysterious deeps of providence
 My wandering thoughts confound.

3 When I behold thy awful hand
 My earthly hopes destroy,

4 As through a glass, I dimly see
 The wonders of thy love :
 How little do I know of thee,
 Or of the joys above !

5 'Tis but in part I know thy will :
 I bless thee for the sight.
 When will thy love the rest reveal
 In glory's clearer light ?

And pours its flowery beauties round,
Whose sweets perfume the gale ;

Proclaiming sins forgiven ;
There Faith, bright cherub, points the way

 And aid my tongue to bless his name
 Whose favors are divine.

2 O bless the Lord, my soul ;
 Nor let his mercies lie
 Forgotten in unthankfulness,
 And without praises die.

3 'Tis he forgives thy sins ;
 'Tis he relieves thy pain ;
 'Tis he that heals thy sicknesses,
 And makes thee young again.

4 He crowns thy life with love
 When ransomed from the grave :
 He that redeemed my soul from hell
 Hath sovereign power to save.

5 He fills the poor with good ;
 He gives the sufferers rest ;—
 The Lord hath judgments for the proud,
 And justice for th' oppressed.

6 His wondrous works and ways
 He made by Moses known ;
 But sent the world his truth and grace
 By his beloved Son.

The Same. Ps. 103.

1 O BLESS the Lord, my soul ;
 His grace to thee proclaim ;
 And all that is within me join
 To bless his holy name.

2 O bless the Lord, my soul ;
 His mercies bear in mind ;
 Forget not all his benefits :
 The Lord to thee is kind.

3 He will not always chide—
 He will with patience wait :
 His wrath is ever slow to rise,
 And ready to abate.

4 He pardons all thy sins—
 Prolongs thy feeble breath ;
 He healeth thine infirmities,
 And ransoms thee from death.

5 He clothes thee with his love,
 Upholds thee with his truth,
 And, like the eagle, he renewes
 The vigor of thy youth.

6 Then bless his holy name
 Whose grace hath made thee whole—
 Whose loving kindness crowns thy days :
 O bless the Lord, my soul.

God our Shepherd. Ps. 23.

- 1 THE Lord my pasture shall prepare,
And feed me with a shepherd's care;
His presence shall my wants supply,
And guard me with a watchful eye;
My noonday walks he shall attend,
And all my midnight hours defend.
- 2 When in the sultry glebe I faint,
Or on the thirsty mountains pant,
To fertile vales and dewy meads
My weary, wandering steps he leads,
Where peaceful rivers, soft and slow,
Amid the verdant landscape flow.
- 3 Though in the paths of death I tread,
With gloomy horrors overspread,
My steadfast heart shall fear no ill,
For thou, O Lord, art with me still.
Thy friendly staff shall give me aid,
And guide me through the dreadful shade.
- 4 Though, in a bare and rugged way,
Through devious, lonely wilds I stray,
Thy bounty shall my pains beguile,—
The barren wilderness shall smile,
With sudden greens and herbage crowned,
And streams shall murmur all around.

The Same. Ps. 23.

- 1 THE Lord my shepherd is :
I shall be well supplied ;
Since he is mine, and I am his,
What can I want beside ?
- 2 He leads me to the place
Where heavenly pasture grows,
Where living waters gently pass,
And full salvation flows.
- 3 If e'er I go astray,
He doth my soul reclaim,
And guides me in his own right way,
For his most holy name.
- 4 Whilst he affords his aid,
I cannot yield to fear ;
Though I should walk through death's dark shade,
My shepherd's with me there.
- 5 In sight of all my foes
Thou dost my table spread ;
My cup with blessings overflows,
And joy exalts my head.
- 6 The bounties of thy love
Shall crown my following days ;
Nor from thy house will I remove,
Nor cease to speak thy praise.

1 THE Lord is our shepherd, our guardian, and guide;
 Whatever we want he will kindly provide;
 To sheep of his pasture his mercies abound;

2 The Lord is our shepherd—what, then, shall we fear?
 Shall dangers affrighten us while he is near?
 O, no—when he calls us, we'll walk through the

 The shadow of death, but our hearts shall not fail.

3 Afraid by ourselves to pursue the dark way,
 Thy rod and thy staff be our comfort and stay:
 We know, by thy guidance, when once it is past,
 To life and to glory it brings us at last.

4 Thou my plenteous board hast spread ;

MRS. STEELE.

Nature proclaiming God.

- 1 THERE is a God all nature speaks
Through earth, and air, and seas, and skies :
See, from the clouds his glory breaks
When the first beams of morning rise.
- 2 The rising sun, serenely bright,
O'er the wide world's extended frame,
Inscribes, in characters of light,
His mighty Maker's glorious name.
- 3 Diffusing life, his influence spreads,
And health and plenty smile around :
The fruitful fields and verdant meads
Are with a thousand blessings crowned.
- 4 The flowery tribes all blooming rise
Above the faint attempts of art :
Their bright, inimitable dyes
Speak sweet conviction to the heart.
- 5 Almighty goodness, power divine,
The mountains, forests, streams display ;
They speak the hand that drew their line,
And gave them all their bright array.

6 Shall we, who trace his works abroad,
 Refuse to own his skill and power?
 O let us here confess our God,
 And bow before him, and adore.

God the Life and Light of the World. Ps. 84.

1 Thou art, O God, the life and light
 Of all this wondrous world we see;
 Its glow by day, its smile by night,
 Are but reflections caught from thee.
 Where'er we turn, thy glories shine,
 And all things fair and bright are thine.

2 When day, with farewell beam, delays
 Among the opening clouds of even,
 And we can almost think we gaze
 Through golden vistas into heaven,
 Those hues that make the sun's decline
 So soft, so radiant, Lord, are thine.

3 When night, with wings of starry gloom,
 O'er shadows all the earth and skies,
 Like some dark, beauteous bird, whose plume
 Is sparkling with unnumbered eyes,
 That sacred gloom, those fires divine,
 So grand, so countless, Lord, are thine.

4 When youthful spring around us breathes,
 Thy spirit warms her fragrant sigh;
 And every flower the summer wreaths
 Is born beneath thy kindling eye.
 Where'er we turn, thy glories shine,
 And all things fair and bright are thine.

God seen in the Revolutions of Nature. Ps. 84.

- 1 My God ! all nature owns thy sway ;
Thou giv'st the night and thou the day ;
When all thy loved creation wakes,
When morning, rich in lustre, breaks,
And bathes in dew the opening flower,
To thee we owe her fragrant hour—
And when she pours her choral song,
Her melodies to thee belong.
- 2 Or when, in paler tints arrayed,
The evening slowly spreads her shade,
That soothing shade, that grateful gloom,
Can, more than day's enlivening bloom,
Still every fond and vain desire,
And calmer, purer thoughts inspire—
From earth the pensive spirit free,
And lead the softened heart to thee.
- 3 As o'er thy work the seasons roll,
And soothe, with change of bliss, the soul,
O never may their smiling train
Pass o'er the human sense in vain,
But oft, as on their charms we gaze,
Attune the wondering soul to praise ;
And be the joys that most we prize,
The joys that from thy favor rise.

God seen in Nature and Grace.

- 1 ETERNAL Wisdom, thee we praise ;
Thee the creation sings ;
With thy great name rocks, hills, and seas,
And heaven's high palace rings.
- 2 Thy hand, how wide it spread the sky !
How glorious to behold !
Tinged with the blue of heavenly dye,
And starred with sparkling gold.
- 3 Thy glories blaze all nature round,
And strike the gazing sight,
Through skies, and seas, and solid ground,
With terror and delight.
- 4 Infinite strength and equal skill
Shine through the worlds abroad,
Our souls with vast amazement fill,
And speak the builder, God.
- 5 But still the wonders of thy grace
Our softer passions move :
Pity divine in Jesus' face
We see, adore, and love.

God seen in his Works.

- 1 THE God of nature and of grace
In all his works appears ;
His goodness through the earth we trace,
His grandeur in the spheres.

2 Behold this fair and fertile globe,
 By him in wisdom planned :
 'Twas he who girded, like a robe,
 The ocean round the land.

3 Lift to the firmament your eye—
 Thither his path pursue :
 His glory, boundless as the sky,
 O'erwhelms the wondering view.

4 He bows the heavens ;—the mountains stand
 A highway for their God ;
 He walks amidst the desert land—
 'Tis Eden where he trod.

5 The forests in his strength rejoice :
 Hark ! on the evening breeze,
 As once of old, the Lord God's voice
 Is heard among the trees.

6 If God hath made this world so fair,
 Where sin and death abound,
 How beautiful, beyond compare,
 Will paradise be found !

All Things speak of God.

1 GREAT Cause of all things ! Source of life :
 Sovereign of air, and earth, and sea !
 All nature feels thy power, and all
 A silent homage pay to thee.

2 Waked by thy hand, the morning sun
 Pours forth to thee its earlier rays,
 And spreads thy glories as it climbs,
 While raptured worlds look up and praise.

3 The moon to the deep shades of night
 Speaks the mild lustre of thy name ;
 While all the stars that cheer the scene
 Thee, the great Lord of light, proclaim.

4 And groves, and vales, and rocks, and hills
 And every flower, and every tree—
 Ten thousand creatures, warm with life,
 Have each a grateful song for thee.

5 But man was formed to rise to heaven ;
 And, blessed with reason's clearer light,
 He views his Maker through his works,
 And glows with rapture at the sight.

6 Nor can the thousand songs that rise,
 Whether from air, or earth, or sea,
 So well repeat Jehovah's praise,
 Or raise such sacred harmony.

The Heavens declare the Glory of God. Ps. 19.

1 THE spacious firmament on high,
 With all the blue, ethereal sky,
 And spangled heavens, a shining frame,
 Their great Original proclaim.

2 Th' unwearied sun from day to day
 Does his Creator's power display,
 And publishes to every land
 The work of an almighty hand.

3 Soon as the evening shades prevail,
 The moon takes up the wondrous tale,
 And nightly to the listening earth
 Repeats the story of her birth ;

4 While all the stars that round her burn,
 And all the planets, in their turn,
 Confirm the tidings as they roll,
 And spread the truth from pole to pole.

5 What though, in solemn silence, all
 Move round this dark, terrestrial ball—
 What though no real voice nor sound
 Amid their radiant orbs be found—

6 In reason's ear they all rejoice,
 And utter forth a glorious voice,
 Forever singing, as they shine,
 'The hand that made us is divine.'

The Same. Ps. 19.

1 GREAT God, the heaven's well-ordered frame
 Declares the glory of thy name :
 There thy rich works of wonder shine—
 A thousand starry beauties there,
 A thousand radiant marks appear,
 Of boundless power and skill divine.

2 From night to day, from day to night,
 The dawning and the dying light
 Lectures of heavenly wisdom read ;
 With silent eloquence they raise
 Our thoughts to our Creator's praise,
 And neither sound nor language need.

3 Yet their divine instructions run
 Far as the journeys of the sun,
 And every nation knows their voice ;

The sun, in robes of splendor drest
 Breaks from the chambers of the east,
 Rolls round, and makes the earth rejoice.

4 Where'er he spreads his beams abroad,
 He smiles, and speaks his maker, God ;
 All nature joins him in the praise.
 Thus God in every creature shines ;
 Fair is the book of nature's lines,
 But fairer is the book of grace.

Nature inviting to praise God.

1 THOU great Creator, wise and good !
 To thee our songs we raise :
 Nature, through all her various scenes,
 Invites us to thy praise.

2 At morning, noon, and evening mild,
 Fresh wonders strike our view ;
 And while we gaze, our hearts exult
 With transports ever new.

3 Thy glory beams in every star
 Which gilds the gloom of night ;
 It decks the smiling face of morn
 With rays of cheerful light.

4 The lofty hill, the humble vale,
 With countless beauties shine ;
 The silent grove, the awful shade,
 Proclaim thy power divine.

5 Great nature's God ! still may these scenes
 Our serious hours engage ;
 Still may our grateful hearts consult
 Thy works' instructive page.

6 And while, in all thy wondrous works,
 Thy varied love we see,
 Still may the contemplation lead
 Our hearts, O God, to thee.

Praise to the Lord of Nature.

1 O THOU, through all thy works adored !
 Great power supreme ! almighty Lord !
 Author of life, whose sovereign sway
 Creatures of every tribe obey !

2 To thee, Most High, to thee belong
 The suppliant prayer, the joyful song ;
 To thee we will attune our voice,
 And in thy wondrous works rejoice.

3 Planets, those wandering worlds above,
 Guided by thee, incessant move ;
 Suns, kindled by a ray divine,
 In honor of their Maker shine.

4 From thee proceed heaven's varied store,—
 The changing wind, the fruitful shower,
 The flying cloud, the colored bow,
 The moulded hail, the feathered snow.

5 Tempests obey thy mighty will :
 Thine awful mandate to fulfil,
 The forked lightnings dart around,
 And rive the oak, and blast the ground.

6 Yet, pleased to bless, kind to supply,
 Thy hand supports thy family,
 And fosters, with a parent's care,
 The tribes of earth and sea and air.

Uniting with Nature in God's Praise.

1 THERE seems a voice in every gale,
 A tongue in every opening flower,
 Which tells, O Lord, the wondrous tale
 Of thine indulgence, love and power.
 The birds that rise on quivering wing
 Appear to hymn their Maker's praise,
 And all the mingling sounds of Spring
 To thee a general pæan raise.

2 And shall my voice, great God, alone
 Be mute 'mid Nature's loud acclaim !
 No ! let my heart, with answering tone,
 Breathe forth in praise thy holy name.
 And Nature's debt is small to mine—
 Thou bad'st her being bounded be ;
 But (matchless proof of love divine !)
 Thou gav'st immortal life to me.

3 The Savior left his heavenly throne
 A ransom for our souls to give ;
 Man's suffering state he made his own,
 And deigned to die that we might live.
 But thanks and praise for love so great
 No mortal tongue can e'er express ;
 Then let me, bowed before thy feet,
 In silence love thee, Lord, and bless.

God's Works and Law show forth his Glory. Ps. 19.

In all the works of God !
His wisdom writ in fairest lines—
His power declared abroad.
- 2 The heavens, adorned with moon and stars,
Express his glorious skill ;
The day his strong impression bears ;
The night attends his will.
- 3 Their language through the earth is heard ,
One all-extending voice
Proclaims abroad the cheering word,
And bids the world rejoice.
- 4 Behold yon glowing, radiant sun,
Great source of blissful light !
Rejoicing in his course to run,
And shed effulgence bright.
- 5 Such is thy law, O God of grace !
Which renovates the soul,—
A law of love, and truth, and peace,
That makes the sinner whole.
- 6 Nor shall its moral light grow dim
Or ever fade away ;
The present gentle, rising beam
Shall shed a boundless day.

But when our eyes behold thy word,

- 2 The rolling sun, the changing light,
And nights and days thy power confess ;
But the blest volume thou hast writ
Reveals thy justice and thy grace.
- 3 Sun, moon, and stars convey thy praise
Round the whole earth, and never stand ;
So when thy truth began its race,
It touched and glanced on every land.
- 4 Nor shall thy spreading gospel rest
Till through the world thy truth has run—
Till Christ hath all the nations blest
That see the light or feel the sun.
- 5 Great Sun of righteousness ! arise ;
Bless the dark world with heavenly light ;—
Thy gospel makes the simple wise ;
Thy laws are pure—thy judgments right.

6 Thy noblest wonders here we view
 In souls renewed and sins forgiven :
 Lord, cleanse my sins, my soul renew,
 And make thy word my guide to heaven.

 When, one by one, the stars appear,
 Led by the silent moon along,
 Till round the earth, from all the sky,

 And, like a giant, glad to run

Glory of the Sacred Page.

1 WHAT glory gilds the sacred page,
 Majestic like the sun !

2 The hand that gave it still supplies

Perfection of the Scriptures. Ps. 119.

 To form one perfect book :
 Great God, if once compared with thine,
 How mean their writings look !

2 Not the most perfect rules they gave
 Could show one sin forgiven,
 Nor lead a step beyond the grave ;
 But thine conduct to heaven.

3 I've seen an end of what we call
 Perfection here below :
 How short the powers of nature fall,
 And can no further go !

4 In vain we boast perfection here
 While sin defiles our frame,
 And sinks our virtues down so far
 They scarce deserve the name.

5 Our faith, and love, and every grace,
 Fall far below thy word ;
 But perfect truth and righteousness
 Dwell only with the Lord.

Instruction from the Scriptures. Ps. 119.

 It spreads such light abroad,
 The meanest souls instruction find,
 And raise their thoughts to God.

3 'Tis, like the sun, a heavenly light
 That guides us all the day ;
 And, through the dangers of the night,
 A lamp to lead our way.

4 The starry heavens thy rule obey ;
 The earth maintains her place ;
 And these, thy servants, night and day,

5 But still thy law and gospel, Lord,
 Have lessons more divine ;
 Not earth stands firmer than thy word,
 Nor stars so nobly shine.

 That holy book shall guide our youth,
 And well support our age.

2 Thy threatenings wake our slumbering eyes,

Inspiration and Preservation of the Scriptures.

1 ETERNAL Spirit! 'twas thy breath
 The oracles of truth inspired,
 And kings and holy seers of old
 With strong prophetic impulse fired.

2 Filled with thy great, almighty power,
 Their lips with heavenly science flowed;
 Their hands a thousand wonders wrought,
 Which bore the signature of God.

3 With gladsome hearts, they spread the news
 Of pardon through a Savior's blood,
 And to a numerous seeking crowd
 Marked out the path to his abode.

4 The powers of earth and hell in vain
 Against the sacred word combine;
 Thy providence, through every age,
 Securely guards the book divine.

5 Thee, its great author, source of light,
 Thee, its preserver, we adore ;
 And humbly ask a ray from thee
 Its sacred wonders to explore.

Prayer for the Spirit of God's Word.

1 INSPIRER of the ancient seers,
 Who wrote from thee the sacred page !
 The same through all succeeding years !
 To us, in our degenerate age,
 The Spirit of thy word impart,
 And breathe its life into our heart.

2 While now thine oracles we read,
 With earnest prayer and strong desire,
 O let thy truth from thee proceed
 Our souls to waken and inspire ;
 Our weakness help, our darkness chase,
 And guide us by the light of grace.

3 Whene'er in error's paths we rove,
 And thee, our God, through sin forsake,
 Our conscience by thy word reprove,
 Convince, and bring us wanderers back,
 Deep wounded by thy Spirit's sword,
 And then by Gilead's balm restored.

4 The sacred lessons of thy grace,
 Transmitted through thy word, repeat,
 And train us up in all thy ways,
 And make us in thy will complete ;
 Perfect thy work of saving love,
 And fit us for thy courts above.

5 Supplied from out thy treasury,
 O may we always ready stand
 To help the souls redeemed by thee
 In what their various states demand ;
 To teach, convince, correct, reprove,
 And build them up in holiest love.

The Scriptures our Heritage. Ps. 119.

1 LORD, I have made thy word my choice,

My lasting heritage ;

There shall my noblest powers rejoice,

My warmest thoughts engage.

2 I'll read the histories of thy love,

And keep thy laws in sight,

While through the promises I rove

With ever fresh delight.

3 'Tis a broad land of wealth unknown,

Where springs of life arise,

Seeds of immortal bliss are sown,

And hidden glory lies :

4 The best relief that mourners have,

It makes our sorrows blest ;

Our fairest hope beyond the grave,

And our eternal rest.

Delight in the Scriptures. Ps. 119.

1 O How I love thy holy law !

'Tis daily my delight :

And thence my meditations draw

Divine advice by night.

2 My waking eyes prevent the day,
To meditate thy word ;
My soul with longing melts away
To hear thy gospel, Lord.

3 How doth thy word my heart engage !
How well employ my tongue !
And in my tiresome pilgrimage
Yields me a heavenly song.

4 No treasures so enrich the mind ;
Nor shall thy word be sold
For loads of silver well refined,
Nor heaps of choicest gold.

5 When nature sinks, and spirits droop,
Thy promises of grace
Are pillars to support my hope,
And there I write thy praise

CHRIST, HIS LIFE, MINISTRY, CHARACTER, &c.

Christ foretold.

- 1 BEHOLD the woman's promised Seed !
Behold the great Messiah come !
Behold the prophets all agreed
To give him the superior room !
- 2 Abraham, the saint, rejoiced of old,
When visions of the Lord he saw ;
Moses, the man of God, foretold
This great Fulfiller of the law.
- 3 The types bore witness to his name,
Obtained their chief design, and ceased—
The incense, and the bleeding lamb,
The ark, the altar and the priest.
- 4 Predictions in abundance meet
To join their blessings on his head ;—
Jesus, we worship at thy feet ;
And nations own the promised Seed.

Exalted in my might !
Him have I chosen, and in him
I place supreme delight.
- 2 On him, in rich effusion poured,
My spirit shall descend ;
My truth and judgment he shall show
To earth's remotest end.
- 3 Gentle and still shall be his voice ;
No threats from him proceed ;
The smoking flax he shall not quench,
Nor break the bruised reed.
- 4 The feeble spark to flames he'll raise ;
The weak he'll not despise ;
Judgment he shall bring forth to truth,
And make the fallen rise.
- 5 The progress of his zeal and power
Shall never know decline ;
And foreign lands, and distant isles
Receive the law divine.

Christ's Birth.

- 1 HARK ! what celestial notes,
What melody, we hear !
Soft on the morn it floats,
And fills the ravished ear.

The tuneful shell,
The golden lyre, and vocal choir,
The concert swell.

2 Angelic hosts descend,
With harmony divine;
See, how from heaven they bend,
And in full chorus join!
'Fear not,' say they;
'Great joy we bring: Jesus, your King,
Is born to-day.'

3 'Glory to God on high!
Ye mortals, spread the sound,
And let your raptures fly
To earth's remotest bound!
For peace on earth,
From God in heaven, to man is given,
At Jesus' birth.'

The Same.

1 WHILE shepherds watched their flocks by night,
All seated on the ground,
The angel of the Lord came down,
And glory shone around.

2 'Fear not,' said he, (for mighty dread
Had seized their troubled mind,)
'Glad tidings of great joy I bring
To you and all mankind.'

3 To you, in David's town, this day
Is born, of David's line,
A Savior, who is Christ the Lord;
And this shall be the sign:

4 The heavenly Babe you there shall find,
 To human view displayed,
 All meanly wrapt in swathing bands,
 And in a manger laid.'

5 Thus spake the seraph, and forthwith
 Appeared a shining throng
 Of angels, praising God, who thus
 Addressed their joyful song :

6 'All glory be to God on high,
 And to the earth be peace :
 Good will, henceforth, from heaven to men
 Begin, and never cease.'

The Same.

1 HARK! the herald-angels sing
 ' Glory to the new-born King!
 Peace on earth, and mercy mild,
 Man to God is reconciled.'

2 Joyful, all ye nations, rise,
 Join the triumphs of the skies ;
 With th' angelic hosts proclaim,
 Christ is born in Bethlehem.'

3 Mild, he lays his glories by ;
 Born, that man no more may die ;
 Born, to raise the sons of earth ;
 Born, to give them second birth.

4 Hail the heaven-born Prince of Peace!
 Hail the Sun of Righteousness !
 Light and life to all he brings,
 Risen with healing in his wings.

A manger for his cradle stands,
And holds the king of kings.'

4 'Go, shepherds, where the infant lies,
And see his humble throne ;
With tears of joy in all your eyes,
Go, shepherds, kiss the Son.'

5 Thus Gabriel sang, and straight around
The heavenly armies throng ;
They tune their harps to lofty sound,
And thus conclude the song :

At their Redeemer's birth.'

Christ's Coming.

- 1 HARK, the glad sound ! the Savior comes,
The Savior promised long !
Let every heart prepare a throne,
And every voice a song.
- 2 On him, the spirit, largely poured,
Exerts its sacred fire ;
Wisdom and might, and zeal and love,
His holy breast inspire.

3 He comes, the prisoners to release
 In Satan's bondage held ;
 The gates of brass before him burst,
 The iron fetters yield.

4 He comes, from thickest films of vice
 To clear the mental ray,
 And on the eye oppressed with night
 To pour celestial day.

5 He comes, the broken heart to bind,
 The bleeding soul to cure ;
 And, with the treasures of his grace,
 T' enrich the humble poor.

6 Our glad hosannas, Prince of Peace,
 Thy welcome shall proclaim ;
 And heaven's eternal arches ring
 With thy beloved name.

 Let every heart prepare him room,
 And heaven and nature sing.

2 Joy to the earth, the Savior reigns ;
 Let men their songs employ ;
 While fields and floods, rocks, hills, and plains
 Repeat the sounding joy.

3 No more let sins and sorrows grow,
 Nor thorns infest the ground ;
 He comes to make his blessings flow
 Far as the curse is found.

4 He rules the world with truth and grace,
 And makes the nations prove
 The glories of his righteousness,
 And wonders of his love.

 And his all-gracious plans fulfil !

1 BEHOLD, where in a mortal form
 Appears each grace divine !
 The virtues, all in Jesus met,
 With mildest radiance shine.

2 To spread the rays of heavenly light,
 To give the mourner joy,
 To preach glad tidings to the poor,
 Was his divine employ.

3 Midst keen reproach and cruel scorn
 Patient and meek he stood !
 His foes, ungrateful, sought his life ;
 He labored for their good.

4 To God he left his righteous cause,
 And still his task pursued ;
 While humble prayer and holy faith
 His fainting strength renewed.

5 In the last hour of deep distress,
 Before his father's throne,
 With soul resigned, he bowed, and said,
 ' Thy will, not mine, be done !'

6 Be Christ our pattern and our guide !
 His image may we bear !
 O may we tread his holy steps,
 His joy and glory share !

'See how he loved !'

1 'SEE how he loved !' exclaimed the Jews,
 As tender tears from Jesus fell ;
 My grateful heart the thought pursues,
 And on the theme delights to dwell.

2 See how he loved,—who travelled on
 Teaching the doctrine from the skies ;
 Who bade disease and pain be gone,
 And called the sleeping dead to rise.

3 See how he loved,—who, firm yet mild,
 Patient endured the scoffing tongue ;
 Though oft provoked, he ne'er reviled,
 Nor did his greatest foe a wrong.

4 See how he loved,—who never shrank
 From toil or danger, pain or death ;
 Who all the cup of sorrow drank,
 And meekly yielded up his breath.

5 See how he loved,—who died for man,
 Who labored thus, and thus endured,
 To finish all the gracious plan
 Which life and heaven to man secured.

6 Such love can we unmoved survey ?
 O may our breasts with ardor glow
 To tread his steps, his laws obey,
 And thus our warm affections show !

Christ in the Garden.

- 1 JESUS, bowed down by mighty woe,
Unfelt, unknown to all below
Except the Son of God,
In agonizing pangs of soul
Drinks deep from wormwood's bitterest bowl,
And sweats great drops of blood.
- 2 See his disciples slumbering round ;
Nor pitying friend on earth is found ;
He treads the press alone :
In vain to heaven he turns his eyes ;
No respite waits him from the skies ;
His death it must atone.
- 3 'O Father, hear ! this cup remove—
Save thou the darling of thy love,'
The prostrate victim said,
'Yet not my will but thine be done,
Should that extend to count thy Son
Amid the sleeping dead.'
- 4 His earnest prayers, his deepening groans,
Were heard before angelic thrones ;
Amazement wrapt the sky.
'Go strengthen Christ,' Jehovah said ;
Th' astonished seraph bowed his head,
And left the realms on high.
- 5 Made strong in strength renewed from heaven,
Jesus receives the cup as given ;
Submiss, resigned in all,
He drinks—nor leaves a dreg behind ;
And bears away from human kind
The wormwood mixed with gall.

The Crucifixion.

- 1 THE morning dawns upon the place
Where Jesus spent the night in prayer:
Through yielding glooms behold his face,—
Nor form nor comeliness is there.
- 2 Last eve, by those he called his own
Betrayed, forsaken, or denied,
He met his enemies alone,
In all their malice, rage, and pride.
- 3 No guile within his mouth is found;
He neither threatens nor complains;
Meek as a lamb for slaughter bound,
Dumb midst his murd'wers he remains.
- 4 But hark!—he prays,—'tis for his foes;
He speaks,—'tis comfort to his friends;
Answers,—and paradise bestows;
He bows his head; the conflict ends.
- 5 Truly this was the Son of God!
—Though in a servant's mean disguise,
And bruised beneath his Father's rod:
Not for himself,—for man, he dies.

 The vital stream, how free it flows,

3 And didst thou bleed ?—for sinners bleed ?
 And could the sun behold the deed ?
 No ! he withdrew his sickening ray,
 And darkness veiled the mourning day.

 And life his drooping head.

3 ' 'Tis finished '—was his latest voice :
 These sacred accents o'er,
 He bowed his head, gave up the ghost,
 And suffered pain no more.

4 ' 'Tis finished—the Messiah dies
 For sins, but not his own ;
 The great redemption is complete,
 And death is overthrown.

5 ' 'Tis finished—all his groans are past ;
 His blood, his pain and toils
 Have fully vanquished all our foes,
 And crowned him with their spoils.

6 'Tis finished—ritual worship ends,
 And gospel ages run ;
 All old things now are passed away,
 A new world is begun.

The Same.

1 'Tis finished ! so the Savior cried,
 And meekly bowed his head, and died :
 'Tis finished—yes, the race is run,
 The battle fought, the victory won.

2 'Tis finished—all that Heaven decreed,
 And all the ancient prophets said,
 Is now fulfilled, as was designed,
 In me, the Savior of mankind.

3 'Tis finished—this my dying groan
 Shall sins of every kind atone ;
 Millions shall be redeemed from death
 By this my last, expiring breath.

4 'Tis finished—man is reconciled,
 And all the powers of darkness spoiled ,
 Peace, love, and happiness again
 Return and dwell with sinful men.

5 'Tis finished—let the joyful sound
 Be heard by all the nations round :
 'Tis finished—let the echo fly
 Through earth below, and worlds on high.

1 HARK ! the voice of love and mercy
 Sounds aloud from Calvary !
 See ! it rends the rocks asunder—
 Shakes the earth—and veils the sky !
 ‘ It is finished ! ’
 Hear the dying Savior cry !

2 ‘ It is finished ! ’—oh, what pleasure
 Do these sacred words afford ?
 Heavenly blessings, without measure,
 Flow to us through Christ the Lord !
 ‘ It is finished ! ’—
 Saints, the dying words record !

3 Tune your harps anew, ye seraphs,
 Join to sing the pleasing theme ;
 All in earth and heaven, uniting,
 Join to praise Immanuel’s name :
 Hallelujah !
 Glory to the bleeding Lamb !

Christ Dying, Rising, and Reigning.

1 He dies ! the Friend of sinners dies !
 Lo, Salem’s daughters weep around !
 A solemn darkness veils the skies !
 A sudden trembling shakes the ground !

2 Come, saints, and drop a tear or two
 For him who groaned beneath your load !
 He shed a thousand drops for you—
 A thousand drops of richest blood !

3 Here's love and grief beyond degree ;
 The Lord of glory dies for men ;—
 But lo, what sudden joys we see !
 Jesus, the dead, revives again !

4 The rising Lord forsakes the tomb—
 The tomb in vain forbids his rise ;
 Cherubic legions guard him home,
 And shout him welcome to the skies !

5 Break off your tears, ye saints, and tell
 How high our great deliverer reigns ;
 Sing how he spoiled the hosts of hell,
 And led the monster death in chains.

6 Say, 'Live forever, wondrous king,
 Born to redeem, and strong to save ;'
 Then ask the monster, 'Where's thy sting ?
 And where's thy victory, boasting grave ?'

Christ Rising and Ascending. Ps. 24.

1 ANGELS, roll the rock away ;
 Death, yield up thy mighty prey :
 See ! he rises from the tomb,
 Glowing with immortal bloom,
Hallelujah, &c.

2 'Tis the Savior ! angels, raise
 Fame's eternal trump of praise ;
 Let the earth's remotest bound
 Hear the joy-inspiring sound.
Hallelujah, &c.

3 Now, ye saints, lift up your eyes,
 Now to glory see him rise
 In long triumph up the sky,
 Up to waiting worlds on high.
Hallelujah, &c.

4 Heaven displays her portals wide ;
 Glorious Jesus, through them ride ;
 King of glory, mount thy throne,
 Thy great Father's and thine own.
Hallelujah, &c.

5 Praise him, all ye heavenly choirs,
 Praise, and sweep your golden lyres ;
 Shout, O earth, in rapturous song !
 Let the strains be sweet and strong.
Hallelujah, &c.

6 Every note with wonder swell,—
 Sin o'erthrown, and captive hell :
 Where is hell's once dreaded king ?
 Where, O death, thy mortal sting ?
Hallelujah, &c.

'Abide with us.'

1 ABIDE with us—the evening shades
 Begin already to prevail ;
 And, as the lingering twilight fades,
 Dark clouds along th' horizon sail.

2 Abide with us—the night is chill,
 And damp and cheerless is the air ;
 Be our companion, Stranger, still,
 And thy repose shall be our care.

- 3 Abide with us—thy converse sweet
Has well beguiled the tedious way ;
With such a friend we joy to meet ;
We supplicate thy longer stay.
- 4 Abide with us—and still unfold
Thy sacred, thy prophetic lore ;
What wondrous things of Jesus told !
Stranger, we thirst,—we pant for more.
- 5 Abide with us—our hearts are cold ;
We thought that Israel he'd restore ;
But sweet the truths thy lips have told,—
And, Stranger, we complain no more.
- 6 Abide with us—amazed, they cry,
As, suddenly, whilst breaking bread,
Their own lost Jesus meets their eye,
With radiant glory on his head !

Christ Risen and Ascending. Ps. 24.

- 1 OUR Lord is risen from the dead,
Our Jesus is gone up on high ;
The powers of hell are captive led,
Dragged to the portals of the sky.
- 2 There his triumphal chariot waits,
And angels chant the solemn lay—
‘Lift up your heads, ye heavenly gates !
Ye everlasting doors, give way !’
- 3 Loose all your bars of massive light,
And wide unfold the radiant scene ;
He claims those mansions as his right ;
Receive the King of glory in !

4 'Who is the King of glory—who ?'
 The Lord that all his foes o'ercame,
 The world, sin, death, and hell o'erthrew,—
 And Jesus is the Conqueror's name.

5 Lo ! his triumphal chariot waits,
 And angels chant the solemn lay—
 'Lift up your heads, ye heavenly gates !
 Ye everlasting doors, give way !'

 Sons of men and angels say ;
 Raise your joys and triumphs high,
 Sing, ye heavens, and earth, reply.

2 Love's redeeming work is done,
 Fought the fight, the battle's won ;
 Lo ! the sun's eclipse is o'er,
 Lo ! he sets in blood no more.

3 Vain the stone, the watch, the seal,—
 Christ hath burst the gates of hell ;
 Death in vain forbids his rise,
 Christ hath opened paradise.

4 Lives again our glorious King ;
 'Where, O death, is now thy sting ?'
 Once he died our souls to save—
 'Where's thy victory, boasting grave ?'

Let angels prostrate fall ;
Bring forth the royal diadem,
And crown him Lord of all.

A remnant weak and small,
Hail him who saves you by his grace,
And crown him Lord of all.

The wormwood and the gall ;
Go—spread your trophies at his feet,

Who feel your sin and thrall,
Now join with all the hosts above,
And crown him Lord of all.

Praise for his Loving-kindness.

- 1 AWAKE, my soul, in joyful lays,
And sing thy great Redeemer's praise :
He justly claims a song from me—
His loving-kindness O how free !
- 2 He saw me dead in sin and thrall,
Yet loved me, notwithstanding all ;
He saved me from my lost estate—
His loving-kindness O how great !
- 3 Though numerous hosts of mighty foes,
Though earth and hell my way oppose,
He safely leads my soul along—
His loving-kindness O how strong !
- 4 When trouble, like a gloomy cloud,
Has gathered thick and thundered loud,
He near my soul has always stood—
His loving-kindness O how good !
- 5 Soon shall I pass the gloomy vale,
Soon all my mortal powers must fail ;
O may my last expiring breath
His loving-kindness sing in death !
- 6 Then let me mount and soar away
To the bright world of endless day,
And sing with rapture and surprise
His loving-kindness in the skies.

The Song of Moses and the Lamb.

- 1 AWAKE, and sing the song
Of Moses and the Lamb!
Wake every heart and every tongue
To praise the Savior's name !
- 2 Sing of his dying love—
Sing of his rising power—
Sing how he intercedes above
For us, whose sins he bore.
- 3 Sing, till we feel our heart
Ascending with our tongue ;
Sing, till the love of sin depart,
And grace inspire our song.
- 4 Sing on your heavenly way,
Ye ransomed sinners—sing ;
Sing on, rejoicing every day
In Christ, th' eternal King.
- 5 Soon shall we hear him say,
' Ye blessed children, come ! '
Soon will he call us hence away
To our eternal home.

His endless praise proclaim,
And sweeter voices tune the song
Of Moses and the Lamb !

2 Thou art the Truth—whose steady day
 Shines on through earthly blight and bloom ;
 The pure, the everlasting ray,
 The lamp that shines e'en in the tomb ;
 The light that out of darkness springs,
 And guideth those that blindly go ;
 The word whose precious radiance flings
 Its lustre upon all below.

3 Thou art the Life—the blessed Well,
 With living waters gushing o'er,
 Which those that drink shall ever dwell
 Where sin and thirst are known no more.

The Corner-Stone. Ps. 118.

 But God hath built his church thereon,
 In spite of envy and the Jews.

2 Great God ! the work is all divine,
 The joy and wonder of our eyes ;
 This is the day that proves it thine,
 The day that saw our Savior rise.

3 Sinners rejoice, and saints be glad ;
 Hosanna ! let his name be blest !
 A thousand honors on his head,
 With peace, and light, and glory rest !

 Salvation to our dying race ;
 Let the whole church address their king
 With hearts of joy, and songs of praise.

The Same. Ps. 118.

 And his eternal praise.

2 Chosen of God, to sinners dear,
 And saints adore the name ;
 They trust their whole salvation here,
 Nor shall they suffer shame.

3 The foolish builders, scribe and priest,
 Reject it with disdain ;
 Yet on this Rock the church shall rest,
 And envy rage in vain.

4 What though the gates of hell withstood,
 Yet must this building rise :
 'Tis thine own work, almighty God,
 And wondrous in our eyes.

The Same. Ps. 118.

1 SEE what a living stone
 The builders did refuse ;
 Yet God hath built his church thereon,
 In spite of envious Jews.

2 The scribe and angry priest
 Reject thine only Son ;
 Yet on this Rock shall Zion rest,
 As the chief corner-stone.

3 The work, O Lord, is thine,
 And wondrous in our eyes ;
 This day declares it all divine,
 This day did Jesus rise.

4 This is the glorious day
 That our Redeemer made ;
 Let us rejoice, and sing, and pray—
 Let all the church be glad.

5 Hosanna to the king

 Bless him, ye saints : he comes to bring
 Salvation from your God.

6 We bless thine holy word,

Our Friend.

1 ONE there is, above all others,
 Well deserves the name of friend ;
 His is love beyond a brother's,
 Costly, free, and knows no end :
 They who once his kindness prove
 Find it everlasting love.

2 Which, of all our friends, to save us,
 Could, or would have shed his blood ?
 But our Jesus died to have us
 Reconciled in him to God :
 This was boundless love indeed !
 Jesus is a Friend in need.

3 When he lived on earth ill-treated,
 Friend of sinners was his name ;
 Now, above all glory seated,
 He rejoices in the same :
 Still he calls them brethren, friends
 And to all their wants attends.

4 O, for grace, our hearts to soften !
 Teach us, Lord, like him to love :
 We, alas, forget too often
 What a Friend we have above ;
 But, when home our souls are brought,
 We will love thee as we ought.

Our Head.

1 Jesus, I sing thy matchless grace
 That calls a worm thy own ;
 Gives me among thy saints a place,
 To make thy glories known.

2 Allied to thee our vital head,
 We live, and grow, and thrive ;
 From thee divided, each is dead
 When most he seems alive.

3 Thy saints on earth and those above
 Here join in sweet accord ;
 One body all in mutual love,
 And thou our common Lord.

4 O, may my faith each hour derive
 Thy spirit with delight ;
 While death and hell in vain shall strive
 This bond to disunite.

5 Thou the whole body wilt present
 Before thy Father's face ;
 Nor shall a wrinkle or a spot
 Its beauteous form disgrace.

Our High Priest.

1 With joy we meditate the grace
 Of our High Priest above ;

2 Touched with a sympathy within,

 For he has felt the same.

3 But spotless, innocent, and pure
 The great Redeemer stood,
 While Satan's fiery darts he bore,
 And did resist to blood.

4 He in the days of feeble flesh
 Poured out his cries and tears,
 And in his measure feels afresh
 What every member bears.

5 He'll never quench the smoking flax,
 But raise it to a flame ;
 The bruised reed he never breaks,
 Nor scorns the meanest name.

6 Then let our humble faith address
 His mercy and his power ;
 We shall obtain delivering grace
 In the distressing hour.

The Image of the Invisible God.

- 1 Thou, Lord ! by mortal eyes unseen,
 And by thine offspring here unknown,
 To manifest thyself to men,
 Hast set thine image in thy Son.
- 2 As the bright sun's meridian blaze
 O'erwhelms and pains our feeble sight,
 But cheers us with his softer rays
 When shining with reflected light ;
- 3 So, in thy Son, thy power divine,
 Thy wisdom, justice, truth, and love,
 With mild and pleasing lustre shine,
 Reflected from thy throne above.
- 4 Though Jews, who granted not his claim.
 Contemptuous turned away their face,
 Yet those who trusted in his name
 Beheld in him thy truth and grace.
- 5 O thou ! at whose almighty word

 Form us in likeness to our Head,
 That we may bear thine image too.

He shall forever wield ;

His foes, before his face,
 To strength divine shall yield :
 The conquest of his truth shall show
 What an almighty arm can do.

3 His alienated sons,
 By sin beguiled, betrayed,
 Shall then be born at once,
 And willing subjects made :
 Such numbers shall his courts adorn
 As dew-drops of the vernal morn.

4 His realm shall ever stand,
 By liberal things upheld ;
 And from his bounteous hand
 All hearts with joy be filled.
 A universe with praise shall own
 The countless honors of his throne.

The Light of the World.

1 LIGHT of those whose dreary dwelling
 Borders on the shades of death !
 Rise on us, thyself revealing,—
 Rise, and chase the clouds beneath.

2 Thou, the light of every creature,
 In our deepest darkness rise ;
 Scatter all the night of nature,
 Pour the day upon our eyes.

3 Still we wait for thine appearing ;
 Life and joy thy beams impart,
 Chasing all our fears, and cheering
 Every meek and contrite heart.

4 Save us in thy great compassion,
 O thou prince of peace and love !
 Give the knowledge of salvation,
 Fix our hearts on things above.

5 By thine all-sufficient merit
 Every burdened soul release ;
 Every weary, wandering spirit
 Guide into thy perfect peace.

Our Refuge.

1 JESUS ! Savior of my soul,
 Let me to thy shelter fly,
 While the raging billows roll,
 While the tempest still is high ;
 Hide me, O my Savior, hide,
 Till the storm of life is past ;
 Safe into the haven guide ;
 O, receive my soul at last.

2 Other refuge have I none ;
 Helpless hangs my soul on thee ,
 Leave, ah ! leave me not alone,
 Still support and comfort me :
 All my trust on thee is stayed,
 All my help from thee I bring ;
 Cover my defenceless head
 With the shadow of thy wing.

3 Thou, O Christ, art all I want ;
 All in all in thee I find :
 Raise the fallen, cheer the faint,
 Heal the sick, and lead the blind.

Plenteous grace with thee is found,
 Grace to pardon all our sin ;
 Let the healing streams abound ;
 Make and keep us pure within.

God's Servant.

- 1 Thus saith the Lord who built the heavens,
 And bade the planets roll,
 Who peopled all the climes of earth,
 And formed the human soul :—
- 2 'Behold my Servant ; see him rise
 Exalted in my might ;
 Him have I chosen, and in him
 I place supreme delight.
- 3 'On him, in rich effusion poured,
 My spirit shall descend ;
 My truth and judgment he shall show
 To earth's remotest end.
- 4 'The progress of his zeal and power
 Shall never know decline,
 Till foreign lands and distant isles
 Receive the law divine.'

Our Shepherd. Ps. 23.

- 1 WHILE my Redeemer 's near,
 My shepherd and my guide,
 I bid farewell to anxious fear ;
 My wants are all supplied.

2 To ever-fragrant meads
 Where rich abundance grows,
 His gracious hand indulgent leads,
 And guards my sweet repose.

3 Along the lovely scene
 Cool waters gently roll,
 Transparent, sweet, and all serene,
 To cheer my fainting soul.

4 Here let my spirit rest ;
 How sweet a lot is mine !
 With pleasure, food, and safety, blest ;
 Beneficence divine !

5 Dear Shepherd, if I stray,
 My wandering feet restore ;
 To thy fair pastures guide my way,
 And let me rove no more.

6 Unworthy as I am
 Of thy protecting care,
 Jesus, I plead thy gracious name,
 For all my hopes are there.

1 Ye worlds of light, that roll so near
 The Savior's throne of shining bliss,
 O tell how mean your glories are—
 How faint and few, compared with his !

2 We sing the bright and morning Star,
 Jesus, the spring of light and love :
 See, how its rays, diffused from far,
 Conduct us to the realms above !

- 3 Its cheering beams, spread wide abroad,
Point out the wildered Christian's way :
Still, as he goes, he finds the road,
Enlightened with a constant day.
- 4 Thus, when the eastern wise men brought
Their royal gifts, a star appears—
Directs them to the babe they sought,
And guides their steps, and calms their fears.
- 5 When shall we reach the heavenly place
Where this bright star shall brightest shine ?
Leave far behind these scenes of night,
And view a lustre so divine ?

Christ our Example.

1 AND is the gospel peace and love ?
 So let our conversation be ;
 The serpent blended with the dove,
 Wisdom and meek simplicity.

2 Whene'er the angry passions rise
 And tempt our thoughts or tongues to strife,
 To Jesus let us lift our eyes,
 Bright pattern of the Christian life !

3 O how benevolent and kind !
 How mild, how ready to forgive !
 Be this the temper of our mind,
 And these the rules by which we live.

4 To do his heavenly Father's will
 Was his employment and delight ;
 Humility and holy zeal
 Shone through his life divinely bright.

5 Dispensing good where'er he came,
 The labors of his life were love :
 If then we bear the Savior's name,
 By his example let us move.

6 Thy fair example may we trace
 To teach us what we ought to be ;
 Make us, by thy transforming grace,
 O Savior, daily more like thee.

Christ our Example in Sufferings.

1 Go to dark Gethsemane,
 Ye that feel temptation's power,
 Your Redeemer's conflict see,
 Watch with him one bitter hour.
 Turn not from his griefs away,
 Learn of Jesus Christ to pray.

2 Follow to the judgment-hall,
 View the Lord of life arraigned :

O the wormwood and the gall !
 O the pangs his soul sustained !
 Shun not suffering, shame or loss ;
 Learn of him to bear the cross.

3 Calvary's mournful mountain climb ;
 There, admiring at his feet,
 Mark that miracle of time,
 God's own sacrifice complete :
 'It is finished,' hear him cry ;
 Learn of Jesus Christ to die.

4 Early hasten to the tomb
 Where they laid his breathless clay ;
 All is solitude and gloom ;
 —Who has taken him away ?
 Christ is risen ; he meets our eyes—
 Savior, teach us so to rise.

Christ's Example in Forgiving.

1 TEACH us to feel as Jesus prayed,
 When on the cross he bleeding hung ;
 When all his foes their wrath displayed,
 And with their spite his bosom stung.

2 Till death he loved his foes, and said,
 'Father, forgive,'—then groaned and died ;
 And when arisen from the dead,
 His mercy to their souls applied.

3 For such a heart and such a love,
 O Lord, we raise our prayer to thee ;
 O pour thy spirit from above,
 That we may like our Savior be.

With blessings, will repay.

And counts and treasures up my tears.

279. CHRIST, HIS LIFE, MINISTRY, CHARACTER, &c.

2 If aught should tempt my soul to stray
From heavenly virtue's narrow way,—
To fly the good I would pursue,
Or do the sin I would not do,—
Still, he who felt temptation's power
Shall guard me in that dangerous hour.

3 If wounded love my bosom swell,
Deceived by those I prized too well,
He shall his pitying aid bestow,
Who felt on earth severer woe.
At once betrayed, denied, or fled,
By all that shared his daily bread.

4 When sorrowing o'er some stone I bend,
Which covers all that was a friend,
And from his voice, his hand, his smile,
Divides me for a little while,—
Thou, Savior, seest the tears I shed,
For thou didst weep o'er Lazarus dead.

5 And O, when I have safely past
Through every conflict but the last,
Still, still unchanging, watch beside
My dying bed,—for thou hast died;
And point to realms of cloudless day,
And wipe the latest tear away.

 Where milder words declare his will,
 And spread his love abroad.

3 Behold th' innumerable host
 Of angels clothed in light !
 Behold the spirits of the just,
 Whose faith is turned to sight !

4 Behold the blest assembly there,
 Whose names are writ in heaven ;
 And God, the judge of all, declares
 Their vilest sins forgiven.

5 The saints on earth, and all the dead,

Influence of the Gospel like Rain.

- 2 Lands that beneath a burning sky
Have long been desolate and dry,
Th' effusions of his love shall share,
And sudden greens and herbage wear.
- 3 The dews and rains, in all their store,
Drenching the pastures o'er and o'er,
Are not so copious as that grace
Which sanctifies and saves our race.
- 4 As, in soft silence, vernal showers
Descend, and cheer the fainting flowers,
So, in the secrecy of love,
Falls the sweet influence from above.
- 5 That heavenly influence let me find
In holy silence of the mind,
While every grace maintains its bloom,
Diffusing wide its rich perfume.

To me, but poured on all mankind,
Till earth's wild wastes in verdure rise,

Or sound his power abroad ;
Sing the blest promise of his grace,
And the performing God.

3 Proclaim salvation from the Lord
 To sinful, dying men ;
His hand has writ the sacred word
 With an immortal pen.

4 Engraved as in eternal brass
 The gracious promise shines ;
Nor can the powers of darkness raze
 Those everlasting lines.

5 His very word of grace is strong
 As that which built the skies ;
The voice that rolls the stars along
 Speaks all the promises.

All Nations promised to Christ.

1 FATHER, is not thy promise pledged
 To thine exalted Son,
That through the nations of the earth
 Thy word of life shall run ?

2 'Ask, and I give the heathen lands
 For thine inheritance,
And to the world's remotest shores
 Thine empire shall advance.'

3 Hast thou not said, the blinded Jews
 Shall their Redeemer own ;
While Gentiles to his standard crowd,
 And bow before his throne ?

4 Are not all kingdoms, tribes, and tongues,
 Beneath th' expanse of heaven,
To the dominion of thy Son,
 Without exception, given ?

5 From east to west, from north to south,
Then be his name adored !

Europe, with all thy millions, shout
Hosannas to thy Lord !

6 Asia and Africa, resound
From shore to shore his fame ;
And thou, America, in songs,
Redeeming love proclaim !

Universal Spread of the Gospel.

1 LORD, send thy word, and let it run,
Armed with thy Spirit's power ;
Ten thousand shall confess its sway,
And bless the saving hour.

2 Beneath the influence of thy grace
The barren wastes shall rise,
With sudden greens and fruits arrayed,
A blooming paradise.

3 True holiness shall strike its root
In each regenerate heart,
Shall in a growth divine arise,
And heavenly fruits impart.

4 Peace, with her olives crowned, shall stretch
Her wings from shore to shore ;
No trump shall rouse the rage of war,
Nor murderous cannon roar.

5 Lord, for those days we wait ;—those days
Are in thy word foretold ;
Fly swifter, sun and stars, and bring
This promised age of gold !

6 Amen,—with joy divine, let earth's
 Unnumbered myriads cry ;
 Amen,—with joy divine, let heaven's
 Unnumbered choirs reply !

Prayer for the Spread of the Gospel.

- 1 O'er the gloomy hills of darkness
 Look, my soul, be still and gaze ;
 All the promises do travail
 With a glorious day of grace.
- 2 Kingdoms wide that sit in darkness—
 Grant them, Lord, the glorious light ;
 And from eastern coast to western,
 May the morning chase the night.
- 3 May the glorious day approaching
 On their grossest darkness flame,
 And the everlasting gospel
 Spread abroad thy holy name.
- 4 Fly abroad, thou mighty gospel ;
 Win and conquer, never cease ;
 May thy lasting wide dominions
 Multiply and still increase.

Universal Blessings of Christ's Reign. Ps. 72.

- 1 JESUS shall reign where'er the sun
Does his successive journeys run ;
His kingdom stretch from shore to shore,
Till moons shall wax and wane no more.
- 2 Behold the islands, with their kings,
And Europe, her best tribute brings ;
From north to south the princes meet,
To pay their homage at his feet.
- 3 There Persia, glorious to behold,
There India shines in eastern gold ;
And barbarous nations at his word
Submit, and bow, and own their Lord.
- 4 Blessings abound where'er he reigns ;
The prisoner leaps to loose his chains ;
The weary find eternal rest,
And all the sons of want are blest.
- 5 Where he displays his healing power,
Death and the curse are known no more ;
In him the tribes of Adam boast
More blessings than their father lost.

6 Let every creature rise and bring
 Peculiar honors to their king ;
 Angels descend with songs again,
 And earth repeat the long Amen.

The Same. Ps. 72.

1 HAIL to the Lord's Anointed !
 Great David's greater Son ;
 Hail, in the time appointed,
 His reign on earth begun !
 He comes to break oppression,
 To set the captive free ;
 To take away transgression,
 And rule in equity.

2 He comes, with succor speedy,
 To those who suffer wrong ;
 To help the poor and needy,
 And bid the weak be strong ;
 To give them songs for sighing,
 Their darkness turn to light,
 Whose souls, condemned and dying,
 Were precious in his sight.

[3 By such shall he be feared
 While sun and moon endure, —
 Beloved, obeyed, revered,
 For he shall judge the poor,
 Through changing generations,
 With justice, mercy, truth,
 While stars maintain their stations,
 Or moons renew their youth.]

4 He shall come down, like showers
 Upon the fruitful earth,
 And love, joy, hope, like flowers,
 Spring in his path to birth ;
 Before him, on the mountains,
 Shall peace, the herald, go,
 And righteousness, in fountains,
 From hill to valley flow.

PART. II.

[5 Arabia's desert-ranger
 To him shall bend the knee ;
 The Ethiopian stranger
 His glory come to see ;
 With offerings of devotion
 Ships from the isles shall meet,
 To pour the wealth of ocean
 In tribute at his feet.

6 Kings shall fall down before him,
 And gold and incense bring ;
 All nations shall adore him,
 His praise all people sing ;
 For he shall have dominion
 O'er river, sea, and shore,
 Far as the eagle's pinion
 Or dove's light wing can soar.

7 For him shall prayer unceasing
 And daily vows ascend ;
 His kingdom still increasing,
 A kingdom without end.
 The mountain-dews shall nourish
 A seed in weakness sown,
 Whose fruit shall spread and flourish,
 And shake like Lebanon.]

8 O'er every foe victorious,
 He on his throne shall rest,
 From age to age more glorious,
 All-blessing, and all-blest.
 The tide of time shall never
 His covenant remove ;
 His name shall stand forever,—
 That name to us is—Love.

Blessedness of Christ's Reign Predicted.

1 In vision rapt, the prophet's eyes
 Beheld that future day—
 He saw the scenes before him rise
 That far in distance lay :
 'Who 's this,' he cried, 'comes from the way
 Of Edom, all divine ?
 Travelling in splendor, whose array
 Is red, but not with wine ?

2 'Blest be the Herald of our king,
 That comes to set us free !
 The dwellers of the rock shall sing,
 And utter praise to thee !
 Tabor and Hermon yet shall see
 Their glories glow again,
 And blossoms spring on field and tree,
 That ever shall remain.

3 'The child shall frolic in the way
 Of dragons with delight ;
 The lamb shall round the leopard play,
 And all in love unite ;

The dove on Zion's hill shall light,
 That all the world must see ;—
 Hail to the Journeyer, in his might
 Who comes to set us free !'

Blessings of Christ's Universal Reign.

- 1 WHEN God descends with men to dwell,
 And all creation makes anew,
 What tongue can half the wonders tell ?
 What eye the dazzling glories view ?
- 2 Zion, the desolate, again
 Shall see her lands with roses bloom ;
 And Carmel's mount, and Sharon's plain
 Shall yield their spices and perfume.
- 3 Celestial streams shall gently flow ;
 The wilderness shall joyful be ;
 Lilies on parched ground shall grow ;
 And gladness spring on every tree ;
- 4 The weak be strong, the fearful bold,
 The deaf shall hear, the dumb shall sing,
 The lame shall walk, the blind behold ;
 And joy through all the earth shall ring.
- 5 Monarchs and slaves shall meet in love ;
 Old pride shall die, and meekness reign,—
 When God descends from worlds above,
 To dwell with men on earth again.

Surpassing Glories of Redemption.

- 1 FATHER, how wide thy glory shines !
How high thy wonders rise !
Known through the earth by thousand signs,
By thousands through the skies.
- 2 Those mighty orbs proclaim thy power ;
Their motions speak thy skill ;
And on the wings of every hour
We read thy patience still.
- 3 Part of thy name divinely stands
On all thy creatures writ ;
They show the labor of thy hands,
The impress of thy feet.
- 4 But when we view thy grand design
To save rebellious worms,
Where wisdom, power, and goodness shine
In their most glorious forms,
- 5 Our thoughts are lost in reverend awe ;
We love and we adore ;
The holy angels never saw
So much of God before.

6 O may I bear some humble part
 In that immortal song ;
 Wonder and joy shall tune my heart,
 And love command my tongue.

Grace abounding over Sin.

1 Why does your face, ye humble souls,
 Those mournful colors wear ?
 What doubts are these that waste your faith,
 And nourish your despair ?

2 What though your numerous sins exceed
 The stars that fill the skies,
 And, aiming at the eternal throne,
 Like pointed mountains rise ?

3 What though your mighty guilt beyond
 The wide creation swell,
 And hath its cursed foundations laid
 Low as the deeps of hell ?

4 See, here an endless ocean flows
 Of never-failing grace !
 Behold, a dying Savior's veins
 The sacred flood increase !

5 It rises high, and drowns the hills,
 Has neither shore nor bound :
 Now, if we search to find our sins,
 Our sins can ne'er be found.

6 Awake, our hearts, adore the grace
 That buries all our faults,
 And pardoning blood, that swells above
 Our follies and our thoughts.

Grace first and last in Salvation.

1 GRACE ! 'tis a charming sound !
 Harmonious to the ear !
 Heaven with the echo shall resound,
 And all the earth shall hear.

2 Grace first contrived the way
 To save rebellious man ;
 And all the steps that grace display
 Which drew the wondrous plan.

3 Grace first inscribed my name
 In God's eternal book ;
 'Twas grace that gave me to the Lamb,
 Who all my sorrows took.

4 Grace led my roving feet
 To tread the heavenly road ;
 And new supplies each hour I meet,
 While pressing on to God.

5 Grace taught my soul to pray,
 And made my eyes o'erflow ;
 'Twas grace that kept me to this day,
 And will not let me go.

6 Grace all the work shall crown,
 Through everlasting days ;
 It lays in heaven the topmost stone,
 And well deserves the praise.

 Who is a pardoning God like thee !
 O, who has grace so rich and free !

2 Sins of such baseness to forgive,
 Such thankless, guilty worms to spare,—
 This is thy grand prerogative,
 And none shall in the honor share.
 Who is a pardoning God like thee !
 O, who has grace so rich and free !

3 In wonder lost, with trembling joy,
 We take the pardon of our God ;
 Pardon for sins of deepest dye,

And all th' angelic choirs above !
Who is a pardoning God like thee !

A Penitent pleading for Pardon. Ps. 51.

- 1 Show pity, Lord ; O Lord, forgive ;
Let a repenting rebel live ;
Are not thy mercies large and free ?
May not a sinner trust in thee ?
- 2 My sins are great, but not surpass
The power and glory of thy grace :
Great God, thy nature hath no bound,—
So let thy pardoning love be found.
- 3 O wash my soul from every sin,
And make my guilty conscience clean ;
Here on my heart the burden lies,
And past offences pain mine eyes.
- 4 My lips with shame my sins confess
Against thy law, against thy grace ;
Lord, should thy judgment grow severe,
I am condemned, but thou art clear.
- 5 Yet save a trembling sinner, Lord,
Whose hope, still hovering round thy word,
Would light on some sweet promise there,
Some sure support against despair.

- 1 O THOU, the wretched's sure retreat,
Who dost our cares control,
And, with the cheerful smile of peace,
Revive the fainting soul !
- 2 Did ever thy propitious ear
The humble plea disdain ?
Or when did plaintive misery sigh
Or supplicate in vain ?
- 3 Oppressed with grief and shame, dissolved
In penitential tears,
Thy goodness calms our anxious doubts,
And dissipates our fears.
- 4 New life from thy refreshing grace
Our sinking hearts receive ;
Thy gentlest, best-loved attribute,
To pity and forgive.
- 5 From that blest source, propitious hope
Appears serenely bright,
And sheds her soft and cheering beam
O'er sorrow's dismal night.
- 6 Our hearts adore thy mercy, Lord !
And bless the friendly ray,
Which ushers in the smiling morn
Of everlasting day.

The Same. Ps. 51.

- 1 O THOU that hear'st when sinners cry,
Though all my sins before thee lie,
Behold them not with angry look,
But blot their memory from thy book.
- 2 Create my nature pure within,
And form my soul averse to sin ;
Let thy good Spirit ne'er depart,
Nor hide thy presence from my heart.
- 3 Though I have grieved thy Spirit, Lord,
His help and comfort still afford ;
And let a wretch come near thy throne,
To plead the merits of thy Son.
- 4 A broken heart, my God, my King,
Is all the sacrifice I bring ;
The God of grace will ne'er despise
A broken heart for sacrifice.
- 5 My soul lies humbled in the dust,
And owns thy dreadful sentence just ;
Look down, O Lord, with pitying eye,
And save the soul condemned to die.
- 6 Then will I teach the world thy ways ;
Sinners shall learn thy sovereign grace ;
I'll lead them to my Savior's blood,
And they shall praise a pardoning God.

Confession, and Prayer for Pardon.

- 1 God of mercy ! God of love !
Hear our sad repentant song ;
Sorrow dwells on every face,
Penitence on every tongue.
- 2 Deep regret for follies past,
Talents wasted, time misspent ;
Hearts debased by worldly cares,
Thankless for the blessings lent—
- 3 Foolish fears and fond desires,
Vain regrets for things as vain ;
Lips too seldom taught to praise,
Oft to murmur and complain—
- 4 These, and every secret fault,
Filled with grief and shame we own ;
Humbled, at thy feet we lie,
Seeking pardon from thy throne.
- 5 God of mercy ! God of grace !
Hear our sad repentant songs ;
O restore thy suppliant race,
Thou to whom our praise belongs !

Relief experienced in Forgiveness.

- 1 WHILE with remorse and woe oppressed,
Distraction haunts the guilty breast ;
The broken heart, the troubled mind,
In God alone shall succor find.

2 'Tis his the wounds of vice to heal,
 The charms of mercy to reveal ;
 He grants the penitent relief,
 And cheers the soul o'erwhelmed with grief.

3 When, by temptation's billows tost,
 On rocks of ruin well nigh lost,
 Still, hope, the anchor of the soul,
 Shall folly's beating wave control.

4 To all the world's delusive joys,
 Ensnaring wiles, and empty noise,
 The sinner bids a long farewell,
 And loves with purity to dwell.

5 In her secure and calm retreat,
 He now enjoys a tranquil state ;
 Conscious that God will deign to hear
 The contrite, humble, and sincere.

Blessedness of Confessing and Forsaking Sin. Ps. 32.

 Divinely blest, to whom the Lord
 Imputes their guilt no more.

2 They mourn their follies past,
 And keep their hearts with care ;
 Their lips and lives, without deceit,

 Till I confessed my sins to thee,
 And ready pardon found.

Far from our gentle shepherd's arm ;
Nor will these fatal wanderings cease,
Till thou reveal the paths of peace.

Imploring Divine Mercy.

- 1 OUT of the depths of sad distress,
The gloomy mazes of despair,
To heaven we raise our warm address ;
Deign, O our God ! to hear our prayer :
O let thine ear indulge our grief,
For thy indulgence is relief.

2 Shouldst thou, O God, minutely scan
 Our faults, and as severely chide,
 No mortal seed of sinful man
 Could such a scrutiny abide : .
 But mercy shines in all thy ways,
 Bright theme of universal praise !

3 With longing eyes we seek the Lord ;
 Before his throne our souls attend ;
 Firmly on his eternal word
 Our faith is fixed, our hopes depend :
 On wings of love our souls shall rise
 In contemplation to the skies.

4 Ye pious minds, on God rely ;
 With full assurance in him trust ;
 He sends redemption from on high,
 And raises sinners from the dust :
 He will at length absolve his heirs
 From all their guilt and all their fears.

Humiliation for Sin.

1 HERE in thy temple, Lord, we meet,
 And bow before thy throne ;
 Abased and guilty at thy feet,
 We seek thy grace alone.

2 Our sins rise up in dread array,
 And fill our hearts with fear ;
 Our trembling spirits melt away,
 But find no helper near.

3 Still, Lord, thy mercy 's rich and free,
And runs an endless round ;
A boundless, purifying sea,
Where all our sins are drowned.

4 O send thy pity from on high
With pardon all divine ;
Bring now thy gracious spirit nigh,
And make us wholly thine.

5 We humbly mourn our follies past
Each guilty path deplore ;
Resolved, while feeble life shall last,
To tread those paths no more.

Rejoicing to return.

1 How oft, alas ! this wretched heart
Has wandered from the Lord !
How oft my roving thoughts depart,
Forgetful of his word !

2 Yet sovereign mercy calls, ' Return :'
Dear Lord, and may I come !
My vile ingratitude I mourn ;
O take the wanderer home.

3 And canst thou, wilt thou yet forgive,
And bid my crimes remove ?
And shall a pardoned rebel live
To speak thy wondrous love ?

4 Almighty grace, thy healing power
How glorious, how divine,
That can to life and bliss restore
So vile a heart as mine !

5 Thy pardoning love, so free, so sweet
 Dear Savior, I adore ;
 O keep me at thy sacred feet,
 And let me rove no more.

 Contrition's humble sigh ;
 Whose hand, indulgent, wipes the tears
 From sorrow's weeping eye !

2 See, low before thy throne of grace,
 A wretched wanderer mourn ;
 Hast thou not bid me seek thy face ?
 Hast thou not said, ' Return ?'

3 And shall my guilty fears prevail
 To drive me from thy feet ?
 O let not this dear refuge fail,
 This only safe retreat.

4 Absent from thee, my guide, my light !
 Without one cheering ray,
 Through dangers, fears, and gloomy night,
 How desolate my way !

5 O shine on this benighted heart,
 With beams of mercy shine ;
 And let thy healing voice impart
 A taste of joys divine.

Heartless Worship an Abomination.

- 1 God is a spirit just and wise,
 He sees our inmost mind ;
In vain to heaven we raise our cries,
 And leave our souls behind.
- 2 Nothing but truth before his throne
 With honor can appear ;
The painted hypocrites are known
 Through the disguise they wear.
- 3 Their lifted eyes salute the skies,
 Their bending knees the ground ;
But God abhors the sacrifice
 Where not the heart is found.
- 4 Lord, search my thoughts, and try my ways,
 And make my soul sincere ;
Then shall I stand before thy face,
 And find acceptance there.

Forms of Worship vain without Virtue.

- 1 Th' uplifted eye and bended knee
Are but vain homage, Lord, to thee ;
In vain our lips thy praise prolong,
The heart a stranger to the song.
- 2 Can rites and forms, and flaming zeal,
The breaches of thy precepts heal ?
Can fasts and penance reconcile
Thy justice, and obtain thy smile ?
- 3 The pure, the humble, contrite mind,
Thankful, and to thy will resigned,
To thee a nobler offering yields
Than Sheba's groves, or Sharon's fields ;
- 4 Than floods of oil, or costly wine,
Rolling by thousands to thy shrine ;
Or than, if to thine altar led,
A first-born son the victim bled.
- 5 ' Be just and kind, and humble too,
In all you say, in all you do ;
To men your charity impart,
And love your God with all your heart.'
- 6 This truth, by ancient prophets given,
Was by thy Son confirmed from heaven ;
And, deep engraved, this great command
Doth on eternal pillars stand.

And make my God my friend ?
- 3 O no, my soul ; 'twere fruitless all ;
Such offerings are vain :

Musing in the silent grove,
 Or the busy walks of men,
 Still we trace thy wondrous love,
 Claiming large returns again.

2 Lord, what offering shall we bring,
 At thine altars when we bow ?
 Hearts, the pure unsullied spring
 Whence the kind affections flow ;
 Soft compassion's feeling soul,
 By the melting eye expressed ;
 Sympathy, at whose control
 Sorrow leaves the wounded breast ;

3 Willing hands to lead the blind,
 Bind the wounded, feed the poor ;
 Love, embracing all our kind ;
 Charity, with liberal store :—
 Teach us, O thou heavenly king,
 Thus to show our grateful mind,
 Thus the accepted offering bring,
 Love to thee and all mankind.

In rich abundance come:

Lord, give us still a fresh supply ;
 If thou withhold thy hand, we die,

4 Pardon our sins, O God, that rise
 Like gloomy clouds against the skies ;
 And, while we are forgiven,
 Grant that revenge may never rest,

1 O GOD, thou art my God alone ;

A pilgrim in a land unknown,
A thirsty land, whose springs are dry.

2 O that it were as it hath been,
When, praying in the holy place,
Thy power and glory I have seen,
And marked the footsteps of thy grace.

3 Yet, through this rough and thorny maze,

Thine hand unseen upholds my ways,
I lean upon thy staff and rod.

 When I remember on my bed,
 Thy presence makes the darkness light,
 Thy guardian wings are round my head.

5 Better than life itself thy love,
 Dearer than all beside to me ;
 For whom have I in heaven above,
 Or what on earth, compared with thee ?

 My soul shall still in God rejoice,
 My tongue shall bless thee while I live.

Seeking God's Blessing.

1 Our Father, throned above the sky !
 To thee our empty hands we spread ;
 Thy children at thy footstool lie,
 And ask thy blessings on their head.

2 With cheerful hope and filial fear,
 In that august and precious name
 By thee ordained, we now draw near,
 And would the promised blessing claim.

3 Does not an earthly parent hear
 The cravings of his famished son ?
 Will he reject the filial prayer,
 Or mock him with a cake of stone ?

4 Our heavenly Father ! how much more
 Will thy divine compassion rise,
 And open thine unbounded store
 To satisfy thy children's cries !

5 Yes, we will ask, and seek, and press
 For gracious audience, to thy seat ;
 Still hoping, waiting for success,
 If persevering to entreat.

6 For Jesus in his faithful word
 The patient suppliant has blessed ;
 And all thy saints, with one accord,
 The prevalence of prayer attest.

'Art Thou my Father !'

1 My God, my Father ! may I dare,—
 I, all debased, with sin defiled,—
 These awful, soothing names to join !
 Am I thy creature, and thy child !

2 Art thou my Father !—then no more
 My sins shall tempt me to despair ;
 My Father pities and forgives,
 And hears a child's repentant prayer.

3 Art thou my Father !—let me strive
 With all my powers to do thy will,
 To make thy service all my care,
 And all thy kind commands fulfil.

4 Art thou my Father !—then I know,
 When pain, or wants, or griefs oppress,
 They come but from a Father's hand,
 That wounds to heal,—afflicts to bless.

5 Art thou my Father !—then, in doubt
 And darkness when I grope my way,
 Thy light shall shine upon my path,
 And make my darkness like thy day.

6 My God, my Father !—I am vile,
 Prone to forget thee, weak and blind ;
 Be thou my hope, my strength, my trust,
 Hope of my heart, light of my mind.

Invocation to Divine Love.

1 Love divine, all love excelling,
 Joy of heaven, to earth come down !
 Fix in us thy humble dwelling,
 All thy faithful mercies crown.
 Father ! thou art all compassion,
 Pure, unbounded love thou art ;
 Visit us with thy salvation,
 Enter every longing heart.

2 Breathe, O breathe thy loving spirit
 Into every troubled breast ;
 Let us all in thee inherit,
 Let us find thy promised rest.

Come, almighty to deliver,
 Let us all thy life receive ;
 Graciously come down, and never,
 Never more thy temples leave.

Rejoicing in Divine Love.

1 O Love, thou fathomless abyss !
 Our sins are swallowed up in thee ;—
 From all our past unrighteousness
 And condemnation we are free ;
 While Jesus' voice, through earth and skies,
 Mercy—free, boundless mercy—cries.

2 In faith we cast our souls on thee !
 Here is our hope, our joy, our rest ;
 Hither, when fears assail, we flee :
 We look into our Savior's breast.
 Away, sad doubts and anxious fear,—
 Mercy is all that 's written there !

3 Though waves and storms go o'er our head,—
 Though strength, and health, and friends be gone,—
 Though joys be withered all, and dead,—
 Though every comfort be withdrawn,—
 Steadfast on this our soul relies,
 Father, thy mercy never dies !

4 Fixed on this ground would we remain,
 Though our heart fail, and flesh decay ;
 This anchor shall our soul sustain,
 When earth's foundations melt away ;
 Mercy's full power we then shall prove,
 Loved with an everlasting love.

Invocation of the Divine Spirit.

- 1 COME, holy Spirit, heavenly Dove,
With all thy quickening powers,
Kindle a flame of sacred love
In these cold hearts of ours.
- 2 Look, how we grovel here below,
Fond of these trifling toys ;
Our souls can neither fly nor go
To reach eternal joys.
- 3 In vain we tune our formal songs,
In vain we strive to rise ;
Hosannas languish on our tongues,
And our devotion dies.
- 4 Dear Lord ! and shall we ever live
At this poor dying rate ?
Our love so faint, so cold to thee,
And thine to us so great ?
- 5 Come, holy Spirit, heavenly Dove,
With all thy quickening powers,
Come, shed abroad a Savior's love,
And that shall kindle ours.

The Same.

- 1 ETERNAL Spirit, source of light,
Enlivening, consecrating fire !
Descend, and, with celestial heat,

Our dull, our frozen hearts inspire ;
 Our souls refine, our dross consume ;
 Come, condescending Spirit, come !

2 In our cold breasts O strike a spark
 Of that pure flame which seraphs feel ;
 Nor let us wander in the dark,
 Or lie benumbed and stupid still.
 Come, vivifying Spirit, come !
 And make our hearts thy constant home.

3 Let pure devotion's fervors rise !
 Let every pious passion glow !
 O let the raptures of the skies
 Kindle in our cold hearts below.
 Come, purifying Spirit, come,
 And make our souls thy constant home !

Prayer for the Saving Graces.

1 WE'RE in a world of hopes and fears,—
 A wilderness of toils and tears,
 Where foes alarm, and dangers threat,
 And pleasures kill, and glories cheat.

2 Shed down, O Lord, a heavenly ray,
 To guide us in the doubtful way ;
 And o'er us hold thy shield of power,
 To guard us in the dangerous hour.

3 Teach us the flattering path to shun,
 In which the thoughtless many run ;
 Who for a shade the substance miss,
 And grasp their ruin for their bliss.

- 4 Each sacred principle impart :
The faith that sanctifies the heart ;
Hope that to endless life aspires ;
And love that warms with holy fires.
- 5 Let neither pleasure, wealth, nor pride
Allure our wandering souls aside ;
But, through this maze of mortal ill,
Safe lead us to thy heavenly hill.
- 6 There glories shine and pleasures roll,
That charm, delight, transport the soul ;
And every panting wish shall be
Possessed of boundless bliss in thee.

For all Spiritual Good.

- 1 WHAT shall we ask of God in prayer ?
Whatever good we want ;
Whatever man may seek to share,
Or God in wisdom grant.
- 2 Father of all our mercies,—thou,
In whom we move and live,
Hear us in heaven, thy dwelling, now
And answer, and forgive.
- 3 When, harassed by ten thousand foes
Our helplessness we feel,
O give the weary soul repose,
The wounded spirit heal.
- 4 When dire temptations gather round,
And threaten or allure,
By storm or calm, in thee be found
A refuge strong and sure

5 When age advances, may we grow
 In faith, in hope and love ;
 And walk in holiness below
 To holiness above.

6 When earthly joys and cares depart,
 Desire and envy cease,
 Be thou the portion of our heart,—
 In thee may we have peace.

Prayer for all Ages and Classes of Men.

1 In thee, thou all-sufficient God,
 The springs of happiness arise,
 That cheer this thirsty land below,
 And bless the mansions of the skies.

2 We, the productions of thy power,
 And pensioners upon thy love,
 Look to thy throne with longing eyes,
 And wait thy blessings from above.

3 Protect the young from every snare,
 And let thy staff support the old ;
 Relieve the poor, nor let the rich
 Have all their heritage in gold.

4 Let joyful saints still taste thy grace ;
 Give to the mourners heavenly day ;
 Sustain the strong, and quick revive
 The withering plants from their decay.

The Universal Prayer.

- 1 THOU great First Cause ! least understood,
Who all my sense confined
To know but this,—that thou art good,
And that myself am blind !
- 2 Let not this weak unknowing hand
Presume thy bolts to throw,
And deal damnation round the land
On each I judge thy foe.
- 3 If I am right, thy grace impart
Still in the right to stay ;
If I am wrong, O teach my heart
To find that better way.
- 4 Save me alike from foolish pride,
Or impious discontent
At aught thy wisdom has denied,
Or aught thy goodness lent.
- 5 Teach me to feel another's woe,
To hide the fault I see ;
That mercy I to others show,
That mercy show to me.
- 6 This day be bread and peace my lot ;—
But all beneath the sun
Thou know'st if best bestowed or not ;
And let thy will be done

Prayer for the Divine Influence in all Things.

- 1 Be with me, Lord, where'er I go ;
Teach me what thou wouldest have me do ;
Suggest whate'er I think or say ;
Direct me in thy narrow way.
- 2 Prevent me, lest I harbor pride,—
Lest I in my own strength confide ;
Show me my weakness,—let me see
I have my power, my all from thee.
- 3 Enrich me always with thy love ;
My kind protection ever prove ;
Thy signet put upon my breast,
And let thy spirit on me rest.
- 4 Assist and teach me how to pray ;
Incline my nature to obey ;
What thou abhorr'st, that let me flee,
And only love what pleases thee.
- 5 O may I never do my will,
But thine, and only thine, fulfil ;
Let all my time and all my ways
Be spent and ended to thy praise.

For various Blessings.

- 1 ALMIGHTY Maker ! Lord of all !
My wandering passions guide ;
And from my heart's recesses drive
Impenitence and pride.

2 Whate'er thine all-discerning eye
 Sees for thy creature fit,—
 I'll bless the good, and to the ill
 Contentedly submit.

3 With generous pleasure let me view
 The prosperous and the great;
 Malignant envy let me fly,
 And odious self-conceit.

4 Let not despair nor fell revenge
 Be to my bosom known;
 O, give me tears for others' woes,
 And patience for my own.

5 Feed me with necessary food :
 I ask not wealth or fame;
 Give me an eye to see thy will,
 A heart to bless thy name.

6 May still my days serenely pass,
 Without remorse or care;
 And growing holiness my soul
 For life's last hour prepare.

For Holy Affections.

1 God, who is just and kind,
 Will those who err instruct,
 And to the paths of righteousness
 Their wandering steps conduct.

2 The humble soul he guides,
 Teaches the meek his way;
 Kindness and truth he shows to all
 Who his just laws obey.

3 Give me the tender heart
That mixes fear with love,
And lead me through whatever path
Thy wisdom shall approve.

4 O ! ever keep my soul
From error, shame, and guilt ;
Nor suffer the fair hope to fail
Which on thy truth is built.

For a Pious Mind in Life and Death.

1 FATHER, whate'er of earthly bliss
Thy sovereign will denies,
Accepted at thy throne of grace
Let this petition rise :—

2 ' Give me a calm, a thankful heart,
From every murmur free ;
The blessings of thy grace impart,
And make me live to thee ;

3 ' Let the sweet hope that thou art mine
My life and death attend ;
Thy presence through my journey shine,
And crown my journey's end."

For Holiness. Ps. 119.

1 O THAT the Lord would guide my ways
To seek his statutes still !
O that my God would grant me grace
To know and do his will !

2 O send thy spirit down to write
 Thy law upon my heart !
 Nor let my tongue indulge deceit,
 Nor act the liar's part.

3 From vanity turn off mine eyes ;
 Let no corrupt design
 Nor covetous desires, arise
 Within this soul of mine.

4 Order my footsteps by thy word,
 And make my heart sincere ;
 Let sin have no dominion, Lord,
 But keep my conscience clear.

5 Make me to walk in thy commands—
 'Tis a delightful road ;
 Nor let my head, or heart, or hands,
 Offend against my God.

For Salvation from Error and Guilt.

1 BLEST Instructer ! from thy ways
 Who can tell how oft he strays ?
 Save from error's growth our mind ;
 Leave not, Lord, one root behind.

2 Purge us from the guilt that lies
 Wrapt within our heart's disguise ;
 Let us thence, by thee renewed,
 Each presumptuous sin exclude.

3 So our lot shall ne'er be joined
 With the men, whose impious mind,
 Fearless of thy just command,
 Braves the vengeance of thy hand.

4 Let our tongues, from error free,
 Speak the works approved by thee ;
 To thine all-observing eyes
 Let our thoughts accepted rise.

5 While we thus thy name adore,
 And thy healing grace implore,
 Blest Redeemer ! bow thine ear ;
 God, our strength ! propitious hear.

For a Thankful and Submissive Heart.

1 FATHER of mercies, God of love,
 My Father and my God !
 I'll sing the honors of thy name,
 And spread thy praise abroad.

2 In every period of my life
 Thy thoughts of love appear ;
 Thy mercies gild each transient scene,
 And crown each lengthening year.

3 In all these mercies may my soul
 A father's bounty see ;
 Nor let the gifts thy grace bestows
 Estrange my heart from thee.

4 Teach me in time of deep distress
 To own thy hand, my God ;
 And in submissive silence bear
 The lessons of thy rod.

5 In every changing state of life,
 Each bright, each gloomy scene,
 Give me a meek and humble mind,
 Still equal and serene.

6 Then will I close my eyes in death
 Free from distressing fear ;
 For death itself is life, my God,
 If thou art with me there.

For a Right Spirit.

1 I want a sober mind,
 A self-renouncing will,
 That tramples down and casts behind
 The baits of pleasing ill ;
 A soul inured to pain,
 To hardship, grief and loss,
 Bold to take up, firm to sustain
 The consecrated cross.

2 I want a godly fear,
 A quick-discerning eye,
 That looks to thee when sin is near,
 And sees the tempter fly ;
 A spirit still prepared,
 And armed with jealous care,
 Forever standing on its guard,
 And watching unto prayer.

3 I want a true regard,
 A single, steady aim,
 Unmoved by threatening or reward,
 To thee and thy great name ;
 A zealous, just concern
 For thine immortal praise ;
 A pure desire that all may learn
 And glorify thy grace.

For Prudence and Wisdom.

- 1 FATHER of light ! conduct my feet
Through life's dark, dangerous road ;
Let each advancing step still bring
Me nearer to my God.
- 2 Let heaven-eyed prudence be my guide ;
And, when I go astray,
Recall my feet from folly's path
To wisdom's better way.
- 3 Teach me in every various scene
To keep my end in sight ;
And while I tread life's mazy track,
Let wisdom guide me right.
- 4 That heavenly wisdom from above
Abundantly impart ;
And let it guard, and guide, and warm,
And penetrate my heart ;
- 5 Till it shall lead me to thyself,
Fountain of bliss and love !
And all my darkness be dispersed
In endless light above.

For Forgiveness and Renewal of Mind.

- 1 FORGIVE us, for thy mercy's sake,
Our multitude of sins forgive !
And for thy own possession take,
And bid us to thy glory live,—
Live in thy sight, and gladly prove
Our faith by our obedient love.

2 The covenant of forgiveness seal,
 And all thy mighty wonders show !
 Our hidden enemies expel,
 And conquering them to conquer go,
 Till all of pride and wrath be slain,
 And not one evil thought remain !

3 O put it in our inward parts,
 The living law of perfect love !
 Write the new precept on our hearts ;
 We shall not then from thee remove,
 Who in thy glorious image shine
 Thy people, and forever thine.

For Remission of Sins, and Divine Light.

1 O THOU, whose power the mountains formed
 And made the sea its bed ;
 Who set the raging waves their bound,
 And all their caverns hid ;—

2 The mountains thy commands obey,
 The seas thy power confess ;
 Thou dost their caverns deep survey,
 And every dark recess.

3 O'er mountains of our sins, O Lord,
 Wilt thou thy hand extend,
 And to thy gracious, pardoning word
 Their lofty summits bend.

4 And o'er the raging seas of guilt
 May thy rich grace abound,
 While in the blood that Jesus spilt
 Each angry wave is drowned.

5 In darkest caverns of the heart
 Wilt thou thy light display,
 And to the visual power impart
 Thine own eternal day.

For Freedom from Secret Sin.

1 SEARCHER of hearts ! before thy face
 I all my soul display ;
 And, conscious of its innate arts
 Entreat thy strict survey.

2 If, lurking in its inmost folds,
 I any sin conceal,
 O, let a ray of light divine
 The secret guile reveal.

3 If tinctured with that odious gall
 Unknowing I remain,
 Let grace, like a pure silver stream,
 Wash out the hateful stain.

4 If, in these fatal fetters bound,
 A wretched slave I lie,
 Smite off my chains, and wake my soul
 To light and liberty.

5 To humble penitence and prayer
 Be gentle pity given ;
 Speak ample pardon to my heart,
 And seal its claim to heaven.

C. WESLEY.

For Tenderness of Conscience.

- 1 I WANT a principle within
 Of jealous, godly fear ;
A dread and hatred of all sin,
 A pain to feel it near.
- 2 I want the first approach to feel
 Of pride or fond desire ;
To catch the wandering of my will,
 And quench the kindling fire.
- 3 That I from thee no more may part,
 No more thy goodness grieve,—
The filial awe, the loving heart,
 The tender conscience give.
- 4 Quick as the apple of the eye,
 O God ! my conscience make ;
Awake my soul when sin is nigh,
 And keep it still awake.
- 5 If to the right or left I stray,
 That moment, Lord, reprove ;
And let me mourn, and weep, and pray,
 For having grieved thy love.
- 6 O ! may the least omission pain
 My well-instructed soul ;
That I may find that grace again,
 Which makes the wounded whole.

390. C. M. MONTGOMERY.

For Grateful Submission.

- 1 ONE prayer I have,—all prayers in one,—
When I am wholly thine;
'Thy will, my God, thy will be done,
And let that will be mine.'
- 2 All-wise, almighty, and all-good,
In thee I firmly trust;
Thy ways, unknown or understood,
Are merciful and just.
- 3 May I remember that to thee
Whate'er I have I owe;
And back in gratitude from me
May all thy bounties flow.
- 4 Thy gifts are only then enjoyed,
When used as talents lent;
Those talents only well employed,
When in thy service spent.
- 5 And though thy wisdom takes away,
Shall I arraign thy will?
No, let me bless thy name, and say,
'The Lord is gracious still.'
- 6 A pilgrim through the earth I roam,
Of nothing long possessed;
And all must fail when I go home,
For this is not my rest.

The hearts of all men in thy hand !
Our wayward, erring hearts incline
To have no other will but thine.
- 2 Our wishes, our desires, control ;
Mould every purpose of the soul ;
O'er all may we victorious be
That stands between ourselves and thee.
- 3 Thrice blest will all our blessings be,
When we can look through them to thee ;
When each glad heart its tribute pays
Of love, and gratitude, and praise.
- 4 And while we to thy glory live,
May we to thee all glory give,
Until the final summons come,
That calls thy willing servants home.

For Submission and Divine Guidance.

- 1 O LORD ! my best desires fulfil,
And help me to resign
Life, health and comfort to thy will,
And make thy pleasure mine.
- 2 Why should I shrink at thy command,
Whose love forbids my fears ?
Or tremble at the gracious hand
That wipes away my tears ?

3 No ! let me rather freely yield
 What most I prize, to thee,
 Who never hast a good withheld,
 Nor wilt withhold, from me.

4 Thy favor all my journey through
 Thou art engaged to grant ;
 What else I want, or think I do,
 'Tis better still to want.

5 Wisdom and mercy guide my way :
 Shall I resist them both ?—
 A poor blind creature of a day,
 And crushed before the moth !

6 But, ah ! my inmost spirit cries,
 Still bind me to thy sway ;
 Else, the next cloud that veils my skies
 Drives all these thoughts away.

For Resignation.

1 My times of sorrow and of joy,
 Great God ! are in thy hand ;
 My choicest comforts come from thee,
 And go at thy command.

2 If thou shouldst take them all away,
 Yet would I not repine ;
 Before they were possessed by me,
 They were entirely thine.

3 Nor would I drop a murmuring word,
 Though the whole world were gone,
 But seek enduring happiness
 In thee, and thee alone.

1 And can my heart aspire so high

For thou art good and wise ;
Let every anxious thought be still,
Nor one faint murmur rise.

3 Thy love can cheer the darksome gloom,
And bid me wait serene
Till hopes and joys immortal bloom,
And brighten all the scene.

4 My Father ! O permit my heart

And ask the bliss those words impart,

 Which is not wholly thine.

2 Open now the crystal fountains
 Whence the living waters flow ;
 Let the fiery, cloudy pillar
 Lead me all the journey through.
 Strong Deliverer !

3 Feed me with the heavenly manna
 In this barren wilderness ;
 Be my sword, and shield and banner ;
 Be the Lord my Righteousness.
 Strong Deliverer !
 Be thou still my strength and shield.

4 When I tread the verge of Jordan,

For Guidance to the Promised Land.

1 THUS far on life's perplexing path,
 Thus far thou, Lord, our steps hast led,
 Snatched from the world's pursuing wrath,
 Unharmed though floods o'erhung our head :
 Like ransomed Israel on the shore,
 Here then we pause, look back, adore.

400. PRAYER AND DEVOUT EXERCISES.

2 Strangers and pilgrims here below,
Like all our fathers in their day,
We to the land of promise go,
Lord, by thine own appointed way :
Still guide, illumine, cheer our flight,
In cloud by day, in fire by night.

3 Protect us through the wilderness,
From every peril, plague, and foe ;
With bread from heaven thy people bless,
And living streams where'er we go ;
Nor let our rebel hearts repine,
Or follow any voice but thine.

4 Thy holy law to us proclaim,
But not from Sinai's top alone ;
Hid in the rock-cleft be thy name,
Thy power, and all thy goodness, shown ;
And may we never bow the knee,
Or worship any God but thee.

5 When we have numbered all our years,
And stand, at length, on Jordan's brink,
Though the flesh fail with mortal fears,
O let not then the spirit sink ;
But, strong in faith, and hope, and love,
Plunge through the stream, to rise above !

400. L. M. *COWPER.

For Confidence in God.

1 WHEN darkness long has veiled my mind,
And smiling day once more appears,
Then, my Creator ! then I find
The folly of my doubts and fears.

2 Straight I upbraid my wandering heart,
And blush that I should ever be
Thus prone to act so base a part,
Or harbor one hard thought of thee.

3 O ! let me then at length be taught,
What I am still so slow to learn,—
That God is love, and changes not,
Nor knows the shadow of a turn.

4 Sweet truth, and easy to repeat !
But when my faith is sharply tried,
I find myself a learner yet,
Unskilful, weak, and apt to slide.

5 But, O my God ! one look from thee
Subdues the disobedient will,
Drives doubt and discontent away,
And thy rebellious child is still.

6 Thou art as ready to forgive
As I am ready to repine ;
Thou, therefore, all the praise receive ;
Be shame and self-abhorrence mine.

Solomon's Prayer for Wisdom.

1 ALMIGHTY God ! in humble prayer
To thee our souls we lift ;

For thy most needful gift.

2 We ask not golden streams of wealth
Along our path to flow ;
We ask not undecaying health,
Nor length of years below.

402. PRAYER AND DEVOUT EXERCISES.

3 We ask not honors, which an hour
 May bring and take away ;
We ask not pleasure, pomp, and power,
 Lest we should go astray.

4 We ask for wisdom ;—Lord, impart
 The knowledge how to live ;
A wise and understanding heart
 To all before thee give.

5 The young remember thee in youth,
 Before the evil days !
The old be guided by thy truth
 In wisdom's pleasant ways !

Agur's Wish.

1 THUS Agur breathed his warm desire—
 ‘My God, two favors I require ;
In neither my request deny,
 Vouchsafe them both before I die :—

2 ‘Far from my heart and tents exclude
 Those enemies to all that’s good,—
Folly, whose pleasures end in death,
 And Falsehood’s pestilential breath.

3 ‘Be neither wealth nor want my lot ;
 Below the dome, above the cot,
Let me my life unanxious lead,
 And know not luxury nor need.’

4 Those wishes, Lord, we make our own ;
 O, shed in moderation down
Thy bounties, till this mortal breath,
 Expiring, tunes thy praise in death !

5 But, shouldst thou large possessions give,
 May we with thankfulness receive
 Th' abundance—still our God adore,
 And bless the needy from our store !

6 Or, should we feel the pains of want,—
 Submission, resignation, grant ;
 Till thou shalt send the wished supply,
 Or call us to the bliss on high.

The Aged Christian's Prayer. Ps. 71.

1 God of my childhood and my youth,
 The guide of all my days !
 I have declared thy heavenly truth,
 And told thy wondrous ways.

2 Wilt thou forsake my hoary hairs,
 And leave my fainting heart ?
 Who shall sustain my sinking years
 If God my strength depart ?

3 Let me thy power and truth proclaim
 To the surviving age,
 And leave a savor of thy name
 When I shall quit the stage.

4 The land of silence and of death
 Attends my next remove ;
 O may these poor remains of breath
 Teach the wide world thy love !

5 By long experience have I known
 Thy sovereign power to save ;
 At thy command I venture down
 Securely to the grave.

6 When I lie buried deep in dust,
 My flesh shall be thy care ;
 These withering limbs with thee I trust,
 To raise them strong and fair.

404. C. M. T. HUMPHRIES.

'Lord, remember Me.'

1 O THOU, from whom all goodness flows,
 I lift my soul to thee ;
 In all my sorrows, conflicts, woes,
 Good Lord, remember me.

2 When on my aching, burdened heart
 My sins lie heavily,
 Thy pardon grant, new peace impart ;
 Good Lord, remember me.

3 When trials sore obstruct my way,
 And ills I cannot flee,
 O let my strength be as my day ;
 Good Lord, remember me.

4 When worn with pain, disease, and grief,
 This feeble body see ;
 Grant patience, rest, and kind relief ;
 Good Lord, remember me.

5 When in the solemn hour of death
 I wait thy just decree,
 Be this the prayer of my last breath,—
 Good Lord, remember me.

6 And when before thy throne I stand,
 And lift my soul to thee,
 Then, with the saints at thy right hand,
 Good Lord, remember me.

The Beatitudes.

- 1 Blest are the men of broken heart,
Who mourn for sin with inward smart ;
The love of Christ divinely flows,
A healing balm for all their woes.
- 2 Blest are the meek, who stand afar
From rage and passion, noise and war ;
God will secure their happy state,
And plead their cause against the great.
- 3 Blest are the souls that thirst for grace,
Hunger and long for righteousness ;
They shall be well supplied and fed
With living streams and living bread.
- 4 Blest are the pure, whose hearts are clean
From the defiling power of sin ;
With endless pleasure they shall see
A God of spotless purity.
- 5 Blest are the men of peaceful life,
Who quench the coals of growing strife ;
They shall be called the heirs of bliss,
The sons of God, the God of peace.

406. THE CHRISTIAN CHARACTER, GRACES, &c.

6 Blest are the sufferers, who partake
Of pain and shame for Jesus' sake ;
Their souls shall triumph in the Lord,
Glory and joy are their reward.

God dwells with the Humble and Contrite.

1 THUS saith the high and lofty One,
'I sit upon my holy throne ;
My name is God, I dwell on high,
Dwell in my own eternity !

2 'But I descend to worlds below !—
On earth I have a mansion too ;
The humble spirit and contrite
Is an abode of my delight.

3 'The humble soul my words revive ;
I bid the mourning sinner live ;
Heal all the broken hearts I find,
And ease the sorrows of the mind.

4 'When I contend against their sin,
I make them know how vile they've been ;
But should my wrath forever smoke,
Their souls would sink beneath my stroke.'

5 O may thy pardoning grace be nigh,
Lest we should faint, despair, and die ;
Thus shall our better thoughts approve
The methods of thy chastening love.

Who shall abide in thy Tabernacle? Ps. 15.

- 1 LORD, who 's the happy man, that may
 To thy blest courts repair,
Not, stranger-like, to visit them,
 But to inhabit there ?
- 2 'Tis he whose every thought and deed
 By rules of virtue moves ;
Whose generous tongue despairs to speak
 The thing his heart disproves ;
- 3 Who never did a slander forge,
 His neighbor's fame to wound ;
Nor hearken to a false report,
 By malice whispered round ;
- 4 Who vice, in all its pomp and power,
 Can treat with just neglect ;
And piety, though clothed in rags,
 Religiously respect ;
- 5 Who to his plighted vows and trust
 Has ever firmly stood ;
And though he promise to his loss,
 He makes his promise good.
- 6 The man who by this steady course
 Has happiness ensured,
When earth's foundations shake, shall stand
 By Providence secured.

The Same. Ps. 15.

- 1 Who shall towards thy chosen seat
Turn, O Lord, his favored feet?
Who shall at thine altar bend?
Who shall Zion's hill ascend?
Who, great God, a welcome guest,
On thy holy mountain rest?
- 2 He whose heart thy love has warmed;
He whose will, to thine conformed,
Bids his life unsullied run;
He whose word and thought are one;
Who, from sin's contagion free,
Lifts his willing soul to thee.
- 3 He who thus, with heart unstained,
Treads the path by thee ordained,
He shall towards thy chosen seat
Turn, O Lord, his favored feet;
He thy ceaseless care shall prove,
He shall share thy constant love.

Who shall stand in his Holy Place? Ps. 24.

- 1 The earth is thine, Jehovah; thine
Its peopled realms and wealthy stores;
Built on the floods by power divine,
The waves are ramparts to the shores.
- 2 But who shall reach thy holy place,
Or who, O Lord, ascend thy hill?
The pure in heart shall see thy face,
The perfect man that doth thy will.

The Independent and Happy Man.

1 How happy is he born or taught,
Who serveth not another's will ;
Whose armor is his honest thought,
And simple truth his highest skill ;

2 Whose passions not his masters are ;
Whose soul is still prepared for death ;
Not tied unto the world with care
Of prince's ear or vulgar breath ;

3 Who God doth late and early pray
More of his grace than goods to lend,
And walks with man, from day to day,
As with a brother and a friend.

4 This man is freed from servile bands
Of hope to rise, or fear to fall ;
Lord of himself, though not of lands,
And having nothing, yet hath all.

The True Riches: Ps. 37.

1 WITH mines of wealth are sinners poor,
Unblessing and unblessed ;
But rich the man, whate'er his store,
Of inward peace possessed.

412. THE CHRISTIAN CHARACTER, GRACES, &c.

2 At tender pity's urgent call
 His mite is gladly given ;
Though poor the gift, the offering small,
 Its record stands in heaven.

3 Ne'er shall he be, in life, bereft
 Of God's protecting care ;
Nor yet his dutious offspring left
 Unsolaced ills to bear.

4 And mark the Christian's dying hour !
 No fears, no doubts annoy ;
His trust is in his Father's power,
 His end is peace and joy.

Eager the doubting heart inquires,
 ‘O who will show us any good ?’

 And in his holy name believe ;
They know, from his all-gracious word,
 That he will every want relieve.

3 When humbly offering at his shrine

The Christian Warrior.

- 1 THE Christian warrior, see him stand
In the whole armor of his God ;
The spirit's sword is in his hand ;
His feet are with the gospel shod.
- 2 In panoply of truth complete,
Salvation's helmet on his head,
With righteousness, a breastplate meet,
And faith's broad shield before him spread.
- 3 With this omnipotence he moves ;
From this the alien armies flee ;
Till more than conqueror he proves,
Through Christ, who gives him victory.
- 4 Thus strong in his Redeemer's strength,
Sin, death and hell he tramples down,—
Fights the good fight ; and takes at length,
Through mercy, an immortal crown.

The Christian Warfare.

- 1 AWAKE, my soul ! lift up thine eyes ;
See where thy foes against thee rise
In long array, a numerous host ;
Awake, my soul ! or thou art lost.
- 2 Here danger like a giant stands,
Mustering his pale, terrific bands ;
There pleasure's silken banners spread,
And willing souls are captive led.

- 3 See where rebellious passions rage,
And fierce desires and lusts engage ;
The meanest foe of all the train
Has thousands and ten thousands slain.
- 4 Thou tread'st upon enchanted ground ;
Perils and snares beset thee round :
Beware of all ; guard every part ;
But most the traitor in thy heart.
- 5 Come, then, my soul ! now learn to wield
The weight of thine immortal shield ;
Put on the armor from above
Of heavenly truth, and heavenly love.
- 6 The terror and the charm repel,
And powers of earth, and powers of hell ;
The Man of Calvary triumphed here :
Why should his faithful followers fear ?

The Christian Race.

- 1 AWAKE, my soul ! stretch every nerve,
And press with vigor on ;
A heavenly race demands thy zeal,
And an immortal crown.
- 2 A cloud of witnesses around
Hold thee in full survey :
Forget the steps already trod,
And onward urge thy way.
- 3 'Tis God's all-animating voice
That calls thee from on high ;
'Tis his own hand presents the prize
To thine aspiring eye ;—

If risen indeed with him ye are,
Superior to the joys below,—
His resurrection's power declare.

2 Your faith by holy tempers prove ;
By actions show your sins forgiven ;
And seek the glorious things above,
And follow Christ, your Head, to heaven.

3 To him continually aspire,
Contending for your native place ;
And emulate the angel-choir,
And only live to love and praise.

4 Your real life, with Christ concealed,
Deep in the Father's bosom lies ;
And, glorious as your Head revealed,
Ye soon shall meet him in the skies.

And slowly her resentments rise,
Soon she forgets the greatest wrong,
And soon the angry passion dies.

But makes her neighbor's bliss her own ;
Nor vaunts herself with mind elate,
But still a modest air puts on.
- 4 Her neighbor's infamy and ill
To her no entertainment give ;
She's pleased to see him prosper still,
And still in good repute to live.
- 5 This is the grace that reigns on high,
And will forever brightly burn,
When hope shall in enjoyment die,
And faith to intuition turn.

All tender, soft and kind !
A friend to all the human race,
To all that 's good, inclined.

- 3 He aids the poor in their distress,

With tender heart delights to bless,

4 The sick, the prisoner, poor and blind,
And all the sons of grief,

He loves to give relief.

5 'Tis love that makes religion sweet ;
'Tis love that makes us rise,

Communing with Christ.

1 FAR from my thoughts, vain world, be gone ;
Let my religious hours alone ;
Fain would my eyes my Savior see ;
I wait a visit, Lord, from thee !

2 My heart grows warm with holy fire,
And kindles with a pure desire :
Come, my dear Jesus, from above,
And feed my soul with heavenly love.

3 The trees of life immortal stand
In blooming rows at thy right hand ;
And, in sweet murmurs, by their side
Rivers of bliss perpetual glide.

4 Haste, then, but with a smiling face,
And spread the table of thy grace ;
Bring down a taste of truth divine,
And cheer my heart with sacred wine.

5 Blest Jesus, what delicious fare !
 How sweet thy entertainments are !
 Never did angels taste above
 Redeeming grace and dying love.

6 Hail ! great Immanuel, all divine !

 Thou brightest, sweetest, fairest one
 That eyes have seen, or angels known !

A living and a dead Faith.

1 Mistaken souls ! that dream of heaven,
 And make their empty boast
 Of inward joys, and sins forgiven,
 While they are slaves to lust.

2 Vain are our fancies, airy flights,
 If faith be cold and dead ;
 None but a living power unites
 To Christ, the living head.

3 'Tis faith that purifies the heart ;
 'Tis faith that works by love ;
 That bids all sinful joys depart,
 And lifts the thoughts above.

4 'Tis faith that conquers earth and hell
 By a celestial power ;
 This is the grace that shall prevail
 In the decisive hour.

5 Faith must obey her Father's will,
 As well as trust his grace ;
 A pardoning God is jealous still
 For his own holiness.

We walk by Faith.

1 'Tis by the faith of joys to come
 We walk through deserts dark as night ;
Till we arrive at heaven, our home,
 Faith is our guide, and faith our light.

2 The want of sight she well supplies :
 She makes the pearly gates appear ;
Far into distant worlds she pries,
 And brings eternal glories near.

3 Cheerful we tread the desert through
 While faith inspires a heavenly ray,
Though lions roar, and tempests blow,
 And rocks and dangers fill the way.

4 So Abraham, by divine command,
 Left his own house to walk with God ;
His faith beheld the promised land,
 And fired his zeal along the road.

The bright Prospect of Faith.

1 HIGH on the mountain's towering head,
 While darkness veils the sky,
Faith stands, and through the stormy cloud
 Directs her anxious eye.

2 Amidst the gloom, the welcome rays
 With cheering lustre shine,
 And open to her ardent gaze
 A world of bliss divine.

3 The yawning gulf that howled beneath
 Has ceased its angry roar ;
 The surging waves have spent their force,
 And died upon the shore.

4 Far in the distance faith beholds
 A flood of heavenly light ;
 Now spreads her pinions, and directs
 To heaven her ardent flight.

5 Far, far beyond this nether world,
 Where sin and sorrow grow,
 She seeks and finds that endless rest
 Where joys unceasing flow.

The Power of Faith.

1 FAITH adds new charms to earthly bliss,
 And saves us from its snares ;
 Its aid in every duty brings,
 And softens all our cares.

2 It quells the raging flames of sin ;
 And lights the sacred fire
 Of love to God and heavenly things,
 And feeds the pure desire.

3 The wounded conscience knows its power
 The healing balm to give :
 That balm the saddest heart can cheer,
 And make the dying live.

4 Wide it unveils celestial worlds,
Where deathless pleasures reign ;
And bids us seek our portion there,—
Nor bids us seek in vain.

5 On that bright prospect may we rest,
Till this frail body dies ;
And then, on faith's triumphant wings,
To endless glory rise.

Faith, Hope, and Charity.

1 FAITH, hope, and love now dwell on earth
And earth by them is blest ;

These are the means, but that the end,
For saints forever love.

Their source is from above.

What foe have I to fear ?
In darkness and temptation
My Light, my Help, is near .
Though hosts encamp around me,
Firm to the fight I stand ;
What terror can confound me
With God at my right hand ?

2 Place on the Lord reliance ;
My soul, with courage wait ;
His truth be thine affiance,
When faint and desolate ;
His might thine heart shall strengthen ;
His love thy joy increase ;
Mercy thy days shall lengthen ;
The Lord will give thee peace.

Hearts placed on Things above.

1 WHILE through this changing world we roam
From infancy to age,
Heaven is the christian pilgrim's home,
His rest at every stage.

2 Thither his raptured thought ascends,
Eternal joys to share ;
There his adoring spirit bends,
While here he kneels in prayer.

3 From earth his freed affections rise,
To fix on things above,
Where all his hope of glory lies,
And love is perfect love.

4 Ah ! there may we our treasure place,
There let our hearts be found,
That still where sin abounded, grace
May more and more abound.

5 Henceforth our conversation be

Ere long we eye to eye shall see,

'Tis sweet to think of peace at last,
And feel that death is gain.
- 2 'Tis not that murmuring thoughts arise,
And dread a Father's will;
'Tis not that meek submission flies,

- 3 It is, that heaven-born faith surveys
The path that leads to light,
And longs her eagle plumes to raise,
And lose herself in sight.
- 4 It is, that harassed conscience feels
The pangs of struggling sin ;
And sees, though far, the hand that heals

Nor envies those that climb.

5 She lays her own advantage by,
To seek her neighbor's good :

But saints forever love.

All Things vain without Love.

1 Had I the tongues of Greeks and Jews,
And nobler speech than angels use,
If love be absent, I am found
Like tinkling brass, an empty sound.

2 Were I inspired to preach and tell
All that is done in heaven and hell ;
Or could my faith the world remove,

A man of prudent heart!
Whose thoughts and lips and life agree
To act a useful part.
- 2 When envy, strife and wars begin
In little angry souls,
Mark how the sons of peace come in,
And quench the kindling coals.
- 3 Their minds are humble, mild and meek,
Nor does their anger rise,
Nor passion move their lips to speak,
Nor pride exalt their eyes.
- 4 Their lives are prudence mixed with love ;
Good works employ their day ;
They join the serpent with the dove,
But cast the sting away.
- 5 Such was the Savior of mankind ;
Such pleasures he pursued ;
His manners gentle and refined,
His soul divinely good.

Importance of Religion.

- 1 RELIGION is the chief concern
Of mortals here below ;
May I its great importance learn,
Its sovereign virtue know.

443. THE CHRISTIAN CHARACTER, GRACES, &c.

2 More needful this than glittering wealth,
Or aught the world bestows ;
Not reputation, food or health
Can give us such repose.

3 Religion should our thoughts engage
Amidst our youthful bloom ;
'Twill fit us for declining age,
And for th' approaching tomb.

4 O may my heart, by grace renewed,
Be my Redeemer's throne ;
And be my stubborn will subdued,
His government to own.

5 Let deep repentance, faith and love
Be joined with godly fear ;
And all my conversation prove
My heart to be sincere.

6 Preserve me from the snares of sin
Through my remaining days ;
And in me let each virtue shine
To my Redeemer's praise.

Holy Resolve.

1 Ah, wretched souls, who strive in vain !
Slaves to the world, and slaves to sin !
A nobler toil may I sustain,
A nobler satisfaction win.

2 I would resolve, with all my heart,
With all my powers, to serve the Lord ;
Nor from his precepts e'er depart,
Whose service is a rich reward.

3 O be his service all my joy !
Around let my example shine ;
Till others love the best employ,
And join in labors so divine.

4 Be this the purpose of my soul,
My solemn, my determined choice,—
To yield to his supreme control,
And in his kind commands rejoice.

5 O may I never faint nor tire,
Nor wander from thy sacred ways !
Great God, accept my soul's desire,
And give me strength to live thy praise.

Self-knowledge, and Abstraction from Earth.

1 My God, permit me not to be
A stranger to myself and thee :
Amidst a thousand thoughts I rove,
Forgetful of my highest love.

2 Why should my passions mix with earth,
And thus debase my heavenly birth ?
Why should I cleave to things below,
And let my God, my Savior go ?

3 Call me away from flesh and sense ;
One sovereign word can draw me thence :
I would obey the voice divine,
And all inferior joys resign.

4 Be earth, with all her scenes, withdrawn ;
Let noise and vanity be gone :
In secret silence of the mind
My heaven, and there my God, I find.

Sincerity and Self-examination.

Without a false disguise ?
Have I renounced my sins, and left

- 2 Say, does my heart unchanged remain,
Or is it formed anew ?
What is the rule by which I walk,
The object I pursue ?

If right, preserve me so !

Walking with God.

- 1 THRICE happy souls, who, born from heaven,
While yet they sojourn here,
Do all their days with God begin,
And spend them in his fear.
- 2 'Midst hourly cares, may love present
Its incense to thy throne ;
And while the world our hands employs,
Our hearts be thine alone.
- 3 As sanctified to noblest ends,
Be each refreshment sought ;
And by each various providence
Some wise instruction brought.

4 When to laborious duties called,
Or by temptations tried,
We'll seek the shelter of thy wings,
And in thy strength confide.

5 As different scenes of life arise,
Our grateful hearts would be
With thee amidst the social band,
In solitude with thee.

6 In solid, pure delights like these,
Let all our days be passed ;
Nor shall we then, impatient, wish
Nor shall we fear the last.

Uprightness and Justice.

1 If high or low our station be,
Of noble or ignoble name,—
By uncorrupt integrity,
Thy blessing, Lord, we humbly claim.

2 The upright man no want shall fear ;
Thy providence shall be his trust ;
Thou wilt provide his portion here,
Thou friend and guardian of the just.

3 May we, with most sincere delight,
To all, the test of duty pay ;
Tender of every social right,
Obedient to thy righteous sway.

Wisdom.

- 1 HAPPY the man who finds the grace,
The blessing of God's chosen race,—
The wisdom coming from above,
The faith that sweetly works by love.
- 2 Wisdom divine ! who tells the price
Of wisdom's costly merchandise ?
Wisdom to silver we prefer,
And gold is dross compared to her.
- 3 Her hands are filled with length of days,
True riches, and immortal praise ;
Riches of Christ, on all bestowed,
And honor that descends from God.
- 4 To purest joys she all invites,
Chaste, holy, innocent delights ;
Her ways are ways of pleasantness,
And all her flowery paths are peace.
- 5 Happy the man who wisdom gains ;
Thrice happy, who his guest retains ;
He owns, and shall forever own,
Wisdom and Christ and heaven are one.

Wisdom.

Instruction's warning voice ;
And who celestial wisdom makes
His early, only choice.

2 Her treasures are of more esteem
Than east or west unfold ;
• And her rewards more precious are,
Than all their mines of gold.

3 In her right hand she holds to view
A length of happy days ;
Riches, with splendid honors joined,
Her left hand full displays.

4 She guides the young with innocence
In pleasure's path to tread ;
A crown of glory she bestows
Upon the hoary head.

5 According as her labors rise,
So her rewards increase ;
Her ways are ways of pleasantness,
And all her paths are peace.

True Zeal.

1 ZEAL is that pure and heavenly flame
The fire of love supplies ;
Whilst that which often bears the name,
Is self but in disguise.

2 True zeal is merciful and mild,
Can pity and forbear ;
The false is headstrong, fierce and wild,
And breathes revenge and war.

3 While zeal for truth the Christian warms,
He knows the worth of peace ;
But self contends for names and forms,
Its party to increase.

451. THE CHRISTIAN CHARACTER, GRACES, &c.

4 Zeal has attained its highest aim,
 Its end is satisfied,
If sinners love the Savior's name,—
 Nor seeks it aught beside.

5 But self, however well employed,
 Has its own ends in view ;
And says, as boasting Jehu cried,
 'Come, see what I can do.'

6 This idol self, O Lord, dethrone,
 And from our hearts remove ;
And let no zeal by us be shown
 But that which springs from love.

'Fear not.'

1 YE trembling souls ! dismiss your fears ;
 Be mercy all your theme,—
Mercy, which, like a river, flows
 In one continued stream.

2 Fear not the powers of earth and hell :
 God will these powers restrain ;
His mighty arm their rage repel,
 And make their efforts vain.

3 Fear not the want of outward good :
 He will for his provide,
Grant them supplies of daily food,
 And all they need beside.

4 Fear not that he will e'er forsake
 Or leave his work undone ;
He's faithful to his promises,—
 And faithful to his Son.

5 Fear not the terrors of the grave,
Or death's tremendous sting;
He will from death your souls restore—
To endless glory bring.

6 You in his wisdom, power and grace
May confidently trust;
His wisdom guides, his power protects,
His grace rewards the just.

1 Give to the winds thy fears;
Hope and be undismayed;

Wait thou his time, so shall the night
Soon end in joyous day.

3 He everywhere hath rule,
And all things serve his might;
His every act pure blessing is,
His path unsullied light.

4 Thou comprehend'st him not;
Yet earth and heaven tell
God sits as sovereign on the throne;

And owned thy power divine ;
'Great is the work,' my heart replied,
'And be the glory thine.'

God eternal, and Man mortal. Ps. 90.

- 1 THROUGH every age, eternal God,
Thou art our rest, our safe abode !
High was thy throne ere heaven was made,
Or earth thy humble footstool laid.
- 2 Long hadst thou reigned ere time began,
Or dust was fashioned into man ;
And long thy kingdom shall endure,
When earth and time shall be no more.
- 3 But man, weak man, is born to die,
Made up of guilt and vanity :
Thy dreadful sentence, Lord, was just,
' Return, ye sinners, to your dust.'
- 4 A thousand of our years amount
Scarce to a day in thine account ;
Like yesterday's departed light,
Or the last watch of ending night.
- 5 Death, like an overflowing steam,
Sweeps us away ; our life's a dream,
An empty tale, a morning flower
Cut down and withered in an hour.

Or earth received her frame,
From everlasting thou art God,
To endless years the same.
- 3 A thousand ages in thy sight

Short as the watch that ends the night,
Before the rising sun.
- 4 Time, like an ever-rolling stream,
Bears all its sons away ;
They fly, forgotten, as a dream
Dies at the opening day.
- 5 Like flowery fields the nations stand,
Pleased with the morning light ;
The flowers beneath the mower's hand
Lie withering ere 'tis night.

Our hope for years to come,
Be thou our guard while troubles last,
And our eternal home !

The steady Lapse of Time.

- 1 God of eternity ! from thee.
Did infant time his being draw ;
Moments, and days, and months, and years,
Revolve by thine unvaried law.
- 2 Silent and slow they glide away ;
Steady and strong the current flows,
Lost in eternity's wide sea—
The boundless gulf from whence it rose.
- 3 With it the thoughtless sons of men,
Before the rapid streams, are borne
On to the everlasting home,
Whence not one soul can e'er return.
- 4 Yet, while the shore on either side
Presents a gaudy, flattering show,
We gaze, in fond amazement lost,
Nor think to what a world we go.

That time may bear me on to joys
Beyond its measure and its power.

 And wealth and honor, gone.

3 God of our fathers ! hear ;

 Till with them in the land of light
 We dwell before thy face.

Scenes of Time, transient; of Futurity, endless.

1 How long shall earth's alluring toys
 Detain our hearts and eyes,
 Regardless of immortal joys,
 And strangers to the skies !

2 These transient scenes will soon decay ;
 They fade upon the sight ;
 And quickly will their brightest day
 Be lost in endless night.

3 Their brightest day, alas, how vain !
 With conscious sighs we own ;
 While clouds of sorrow, care and pain
 O'er shade the smiling noon.

4 O could our thoughts and wishes fly
 Above these gloomy shades,
 To those bright worlds beyond the sky,
 Which sorrow ne'er invades !

5 There joys, unseen by mortal eyes,
 Or reason's feeble ray,
 In ever-blooming prospects rise,
 Unconscious of decay.

6 Thither, on faith's sublimest wing,
 Our ardent wishes rise,
 To those bright scenes where pleasures spring
 Immortal in the skies.

The Shortness of Time, and Frailty of Man. Pa. 39.

1 ALMIGHTY Maker of my frame,
 Teach me the measure of my days !
 Teach me to know how frail I am,
 And spend the remnant to thy praise.

2 My days are shorter than a span ;
 A little point my life appears ;
 How frail at best is dying man !
 How vain are all his hopes and fears !

3 Vain his ambition, noise, and show !
 Vain are the cares which rack his mind !
 He heaps up treasures mixed with woe,
 And dies, and leaves them all behind.

4 O, be a nobler portion mine :
 My God ! I bow before thy throne ;
 Earth's fleeting treasures I resign,
 And fix my hope on thee alone.

5 Save me by thine almighty arm
 From all my sins, and cleanse my faults ;
 Then guilt nor folly shall alarm

An inch or two of time ;
Man is but vanity and dust,
In all his flower and prime.
- 3 See the vain race of mortals move
Like shadows o'er the plain ;
They rage and strive, desire and love,
But all their noise is vain.
- 4 Some walk in honor's gaudy show,
Some dig for golden cre ;
They toil for heirs, they know not who,
And straight are seen no more.
- 5 What should I wish or wait for, then,
From creatures, earth, and dust ?
They make our expectations vain,
And disappoint our trust.

My fond desires recall ;
I give my mortal interest up,
And make my God my all.

 And every month and every day
 'Tis mouldering back to dust.

3 Our moments fly apace,

4 Well, if our days must fly,

The Hour of Death, and Entrance on Immortality.

1 O God unseen—but not unknown !
 Thine eye is ever fixed on me ;
 I dwell beneath thy secret throne,
 Encompassed by thy deity.

2 The moment comes when strength must fail,
 When,—health and hope and comfort flown,—
 I must go down into the vale
 And shade of death, with thee alone :

3 Alone with thee ;—in that dread strife,
 Uphold me through mine agony,
 And gently be this dying life
 Exchanged for immortality.

4 Then, when th' unbodied spirit lands
 Where flesh and blood have never trod,
 And in the unveiled presence stands
 Of thee, my Savior and my God :

5 Be mine eternal portion this,
 Since thou wert always here with me,
 That I may view thy face in bliss,
 And be for evermore with thee.

Universal Warning of Death.

1 BENEATH our feet and o'er our head
 Is equal warning given :
 Beneath us lie the countless dead,
 Above us is the heaven !

2 Their names are graven on the stone,
 Their bones are in the clay ;
 And ere another day is done,
 Ourselves may be as they.

3 Death rides on every passing breeze,
 He lurks in every flower ;
 Each season has its own disease,
 Its peril every hour.

4 Our eyes have seen the rosy light
 Of youth's soft cheek decay,
 And fate descend in sudden night
 On manhood's middle day.

5 Our eyes have seen the steps of age
 Halt feebly towards the tomb ;
 And yet shall earth our hearts engage,
 And dreams of days to come ?

6 Turn, mortal ! turn, thy danger know ;
 Where'er thy foot can tread,
 The earth rings hollow from below
 And warns thee of her dead !

Death is God's Messenger. Ps. 102.

1 It is the Lord our Savior's hand
 Weakens our strength amid the race ;
 Disease and death, at his command,
 Arrest us, and cut short our days.

2 Spare us, O Lord, aloud we pray,
 Nor let our sun go down at noon ;
 Thy years are one eternal day,
 And must thy children die so soon ?

3 Yet, in the midst of death and grief,
 This thought our sorrow shall assuage .
 'Our Father and our Savior live ;
 Christ is the same through every age.'

4 The starry curtains of the sky,
 Like garments, shall be laid aside ;
 But still thy throne stands firm and high,
 Thy church forever must abide.

5 Before thy face thy church shall live,
 And on thy throne thy children reign ;
 This dying world shall they survive,
 And all the dead be raised again.

God, our only Support in Death. Ps. 36.

1 My soul ! the awful hour will come,
 Apace it hastens on,
 To bear this body to the tomb,
 And thee to scenes unknown.

2 My heart, long laboring with its cares,
 Shall pant and sink away ;
 And you, mine eye-lids, soon shall close
 On the last glimmering ray.

3 Whence, in that hour, shall I derive
 A cordial for my pain,
 When, if earth's monarchs were my friends,
 Those friends would weep in vain ?

4 Great King of nature and of grace !
 To thee my spirit flies,
 And opens all its deep distress
 Before thy pitying eyes.

5 All its desires to thee are known,
 And every secret fear ;
 The meaning of each broken groan
 Is noticed by thine ear.

 Which to such love belongs,
 Where darkness veils the eyes no more,
 And sighs are changed to songs.

Fright our approaching souls away ;
Still we shrink back again to life,

Support in Death implored.

- 1 WHEN the vale of death appears,
Faint and cold this mortal clay,
O my Father, soothe my fears,
Light me through the darksome way ;
Break the shadows,
Usher in eternal day.
- 2 Starting from this dying state,
Upward bid my soul aspire ;
Open thou the crystal gate,
To thy praise attune my lyre ;
Dwell forever,
Dwell on each immortal wire.
- 3 From the sparkling turrets there
Oft I'll trace my pilgrim way,
Often bless thy guardian care,
Fire by night and cloud by day ;
While my triumphs
At my Leader's feet I lay.

Death of the Righteous.

- 1 SWEET is the scene when virtue dies !
When sinks a righteous soul to rest ;
How mildly beam the closing eyes,
How gently heaves th' expiring breast !
- 2 So fades a summer cloud away,
So sinks the gale when storms are o'er,
So gently shuts the eye of day,
So dies a wave along the shore.

3 A holy quiet reigns around,
 A calm which life nor death destroys ;
 Nothing disturbs that peace profound
 Which his unfettered soul enjoys.

4 Farewell, conflicting hopes and fears,
 Where lights and shades alternate dwell ;
 How bright th' unchanging morn appears !
 Farewell, inconstant world, farewell !

5 Life's duty done, as sinks the clay,
 Light from its load the spirit flies ;
 While heaven and earth combine to say,
 ' How blessed the righteous when he dies ! '

' Why mourn the Death of Friends ? '

1 Why do we mourn departing friends,
 Or shake at death's alarms ?
 'Tis but the voice that Jesus sends
 To call them to his arms.

2 Are we not tending upward too,
 As fast as time can move ?
 Nor would we wish the hours more slow,
 To keep us from our love.

3 Why should we tremble to convey
 Their bodies to the tomb ?
 There the dear flesh of Jesus lay,
 And left a long perfume.

4 The graves of all the saints he blessed,
 And softened every bed ;
 Where should the dying members rest,
 But with their dying Head ?

5 Thence he arose, ascended high,
 And showed our feet the way :
 Up to the Lord our souls shall fly,
 At the great rising day.

6 Then let the last loud trumpet sound,
 And bid our kindred rise :
 'Awake, ye nations under ground ;
 Ye saints, ascend the skies.'

Friends die, but to live again.

1 FRIEND after friend departs ;
 Who hath not lost a friend ?
 There is no union here of hearts,
 That finds not here an end.
 Were this frail world our only rest,
 Living or dying, none were blest.

2 Beyond the flight of time,
 Beyond this vale of death,
 There surely is some blessed clime,
 Where life is not a breath,
 Nor life's affections but a fire
 Whose sparks fly upward to expire.

3 There is a world above,
 Where parting is unknown,—
 A whole eternity of love
 And blessedness alone ;
 And faith beholds the dying here,
 Translated to that happier sphere.

4 Thus, star by star declines
 Till all are passed away,
 As morning high and higher shines

To pure and perfect day.
 Nor sink those stars in empty night—
 They hide themselves in heaven's own light.

Submission, on the Death of Friends.

1 PEACE!—'tis the Lord Jehovah's hand
 That blasts our joys in death,
 Changes the visage once so dear,
 And gathers back the breath.

2 'Tis he,—the potentate supreme
 Of all the worlds above,—
 Whose steady counsels wisely rule,
 Nor from their purpose move.

3 Our covenant God and Father he,
 In Christ our bleeding Lord,
 Whose grace can heal the bursting heart
 With one reviving word.

4 Fair garlands of immortal bliss
 He weaves for every brow:
 And shall rebellious passions rise,
 When he corrects us now?

5 Silent we own Jehovah's name,
 We kiss the scourging hand;
 And yield our comforts and our life
 To thy supreme command.

Comfort, on the Loss of Children.

- 1 Ye mourning ones, whose streaming tears
Flow o'er your children dead,—
Say not, in transports of despair,
That all your hopes are fled.
- 2 While, cleaving to that darling dust,
In fond distress ye lie,
Rise, and with joy and reverence view
A heavenly parent nigh.
- 3 Though, your young branches torn away,
Like withered trunks ye stand,
With fairer verdure shall ye bloom,
Touched by th' Almighty's hand.
- 4 'I'll give the mourner,' saith the Lord,
'In my own house a place ;
No names of daughters and of sons
Could yield so high a grace.'
- 5 'Transient and vain is every hope
A rising race can give ;
In endless honor and delight
My children all shall live.'

Through which thy face we see,
And bless those wounds, which through our hearts
Prepare a way for thee.

And ever lives their cause to plead
For whom the pains of death he bore.
- 4 Thy risen Lord, my soul, behold !
See the rich diadem he wears !
Thou too shalt bear a harp of gold,
To crown thy joy, when he appears.

Yet, gracious God, thou wilt not leave
My flesh forever with the dead,
Nor lose thy children in the grave.

- 1 BLESSED be the everlasting God,
The Father of our Lord ;
Be his abounding mercy praised,
His majesty adored.

2 When from the dead he raised his Son,
 And called him to the sky,
 He gave our souls a lively hope
 That they should never die.

3 What though our mortal frame require
 Our flesh to see the dust,
 Yet as the Lord our Savior rose,
 So all his followers must.

4 There's an inheritance divine
 Reserved against that day ;
 'Tis uncorrupted, undefiled,
 And cannot waste away.

5 Saints by the power of God are kept
 Till the salvation come ;
 We walk by faith, as strangers here,
 Till Christ shall call us home.

A Prospect of the Resurrection.

1 How long shall death the tyrant reign,
 And triumph o'er the just,
 While the rich blood of martyrs slain
 Lies mingled with the dust ?

2 Lo, I behold the scattered shades,
 The dawn of heaven appears ;
 The sweet immortal morning spreads
 Its blushes round the spheres.

3 I hear the voice, ' Ye dead, arise !'
 And, lo ! the graves obey ;
 And waking saints, with joyful eyes,
 Salute th' expected day.

4 They leave the dust, and on the wing
Rise to the midway air,

In shining garments meet their King,
And low adore him there.

5 O may our humble spirits stand
Among them clothed in white !

The meanest place at his right hand
Is infinite delight.

6 How will our joy and wonder rise,
When our returning King
Shall bear us homeward through the skies,
On love's triumphant wing !

The Resurrection. Ps. 88.

1 Shall man, O God of light and life,
Forever moulder in the grave ?
Canst thou forget thy glorious work,
Thy promise, and thy power to save ?

2 In those dark, silent realms of night
Shall peace and hope no more arise ?
No future morning light the tomb,
Nor day-star gild the darksome skies ?

3 Cease—cease, ye vain desponding fears :
When Christ our Lord from darkness sprang,
Death, the last foe, was captive led,
And heaven with praise and wonder rang.

4 Faith sees the bright, eternal doors
Unfold to make his children way ;
They shall be clothed with endless life,
And shine in everlasting day.

5 The trump shall sound—the dead shall wake;
 From the cold tomb the slumberers spring;
 Through heaven, with joy, their myriads rise,
 And hail their Savior and their King.

Spring, an Emblem of the Resurrection.

1 ALL nature dies, and lives again:
 The flowers that paint the field,
 The trees that crown the mountain's brow,
 And boughs and blossoms yield,—
 Resign the honors of their form
 At winter's stormy blast,
 And leave the naked, leafless plain
 A desolated waste.

2 Yet, soon reviving, plants and flowers
 Anew shall deck the plain;
 The woods shall hear the voice of spring,
 And flourish green again.
 So, to the dreary grave consigned,
 Man sleeps in death's dark gloom,
 Until th' eternal morning wake
 The slumbers of the tomb.

3 O may the grave become to me
 The bed of peaceful rest,
 Whence I shall gladly rise at length,
 And mingle with the blessed!
 Cheered by this hope, with patient mind
 I'll wait Heaven's high decree,
 Till the appointed period come
 When death shall set me free.

- 1 Look through creation, and behold
The wonders of Almighty power ;
Eternal wisdom's works unfold
In every leaf, in every flower :
'There is a God, all-good, all-wise,'
The very meanest insect cries.
- 2 Seasons, revolving in their spheres,
A thousand rural beauties bring ;
But loveliest of the group appears
The green-dressed beauty, charming Spring ;
The music of whose morning voice
Bids all the sons of earth rejoice.
- 3 Winter is death, when nature mourns
To see her offspring lifeless lie ;
Summer and Autumn weep, by turns,
To see their children droop and die ;
But Spring revives their hopes again,
And breathes new life through every vein.
- 4 How emblematic of that day,
The glorious resurrection morn,
When, decked in brighter robes than May,
In robes that angel hosts adorn,
The soul, redeemed, shall burst its tomb,
And in immortal glory bloom !

'I would not live alway.'

- 1 I WOULD not live alway : I ask not to stay
Where storm after storm rises dark o'er the way ;
The few lurid mornings that dawn on us here
Are enough for life's woes, full enough for its cheer.
- 2 I would not live alway, thus fettered by sin ;
Temptation without, and corruption within :
E'en the rapture of pardon is mingled with fears,
And the cup of thanksgiving with penitent tears.
- 3 I would not live alway ; no—welcome the tomb ;
Since Jesus hath lain there, I dread not its gloom ;
There sweet be my rest, till he bid me arise
To hail him in triumph descending the skies.
- 4 Who, who would live alway, away from his God,
Away from yon heaven, that blissful abode !
Where the rivers of pleasure flow o'er the bright plains,
And the noontide of glory eternally reigns ;
- 5 Where the saints of all ages in harmony meet,
Their Savior and brethren transported to greet ;
While the anthems of rapture unceasingly roll,
And the smile of the Lord is the life of the soul.

The Hope of another Life.

- 1 If all our hopes and all our fears
Were prisoned in life's narrow bound ;
If,—travellers through this vale of tears,—
We saw no better world beyond ;

O, who could check the rising sigh,
 What earthly thing could pleasure give?
 O, who could venture then to die?
 Or, who could venture then to live?

2 Were life a dark and desert moor,
 Where mist and clouds eternal spread
 Their gloomy veil behind, before,
 And tempests thunder overhead ;
 Where not a sunbeam breaks the gloom,
 And not a floweret smiles beneath,—
 Who could exist in such a tomb?
 Who, dwell in darkness and in death?

3 And such were life, without the ray
 Of our divine religion given ;
 'Tis this that makes our darkness day,—
 'Tis this that makes our earth a heaven.
 Bright is the golden sun above,
 And beautiful the flowers that bloom,
 And all is joy, and all is love,
 Reflected from the world to come.

Surpassing Glories of Eternity.

1 How various and how new
 Are thy compassions, Lord !
 Each morning shall thy mercies show,—
 Each night thy truth record.

2 Thy goodness, like the sun,
 Dawned on our early days,
 Ere infant reason had begun
 To form our lips to praise.

3 But we expect a day
 Still brighter far than this,
 When death shall bear our souls away
 To realms of light and bliss.

4 There rapturous scenes of joy
 Shall burst upon our sight ;
 And every pain, and tear, and sigh,
 Be drowned in endless light.

5 Nor shall that radiant day,
 So joyfully begun,
 In evening shadows die away
 Beneath the setting sun.

6 How various and how new
 Are thy compassions, Lord !
 Eternity thy love shall show,
 And all thy truth record.

The World to come.

1 THERE is a world we have not seen,
 That wasting time can ne'er destroy,
 Where mortal footstep hath not been,
 Nor ear hath caught its sounds of joy.

2 That world to come ! and O how blest !—
 Fairer than prophets ever told ;
 And never did an angel-guest
 One half its blessedness unfold.

3 It is all holy and serene,—
 The land of glory and repose ;
 And there, to dim the radiant scene,
 No tear of sorrow ever flows.

4 It is not fanned by summer gale;
 'Tis not refreshed by vernal showers;
 It never needs the moon-beam pale,
 For there are known no evening hours.

5 No,—for this world is ever bright
 With a pure radiance all its own;
 The streams of uncreated light
 Flow round it from th' eternal Throne.

6 There forms, unseen by mortal eye,
 Too glorious for our sight to bear,
 Are walking with their God on high,
 And waiting our arrival there.

Heaven.

1 FAR from these scenes of night
 Unbounded glories rise,
 And realms of infinite delight,
 Unknown to mortal eyes.

2 There sickness never comes;
 There grief no more complains;
 Health triumphs in immortal bloom,
 And purest pleasure reigns.

3 No strife nor envy there
 The sons of peace molest;
 But harmony and love sincere
 Fill every happy breast.

4 No cloud those regions know,
 Forever bright and fair;
 For sin, the source of mortal woe,
 Can never enter there.

5 There night is never known,
 Nor sun's faint sickly ray ;
 But glory from th' eternal throne
 Spreads everlasting day.

6 O may this prospect fire
 Our hearts with ardent love !
 And lively faith and strong desire
 Bear every thought above.

A Prospect of the heavenly Canaan.

1 THERE is a land of pure delight,
 Where saints immortal reign ;
 Infinite day excludes the night,
 And pleasures banish pain.

2 There everlasting spring abides,
 And never-withering flowers ;
 Death, like a narrow sea, divides
 This heavenly land from ours.

3 Sweet fields, beyond the swelling flood,
 Stand dressed in living green :
 So, to the Jews, old Canaan stood,
 While Jordan rolled between.

4 But timorous mortals start and shrink,
 To cross this narrow sea,
 And linger shivering on the brink,
 And fear to launch away.

5 O, could we make our doubts remove,—
 Those gloomy doubts that rise,
 And see the Canaan that we love
 With unclouded eyes :

6 Could we but climb where Moses stood,
 And view the landscape o'er,
 Not Jordan's stream, nor death's cold flood,
 Should fright us from the shore.

The glorious World on High.

1 THERE is a glorious world on high,
 Resplendent with eternal day ;
 Faith views the blissful prospect nigh,
 And God's own word reveals the way.

2 There shall the servants of the Lord
 With never-fading lustre shine ;
 Surprising honor ! large reward,
 Conferred on man by love divine !

3 The shining firmament shall fade,
 And sparkling stars resign their light ;
 But these shall know no change nor shade,
 Forever fair, forever bright.

4 No fancied joy beyond the sky,
 No fair delusion is revealed ;
 'Tis God that speaks, who cannot lie,
 And all his word must be fulfilled.

5 And shall not these cold hearts of ours
 Be kindled at the glorious view ?
 Come, Lord, awake our active powers,
 Our feeble, dying strength renew.

6 On wings of faith and strong desire
 O may our spirits daily rise ;
 And reach at last the shining choir,
 In the bright mansions of the skies.

Farewell to Life, in View of Heaven.

- 1 YE golden lamps of heaven ! farewell,
With all your feeble light :
Farewell, thou ever-changing moon,
Pale empress of the night !
- 2 And thou, resplendent orb of day,
In brighter flames arrayed !
My soul, which springs beyond thy sphere,
No more demands thine aid.
- 3 Ye stars are but the shining dust
Of my divine abode,
The pavement of those heavenly courts
Where I shall reign with God.
- 4 The Father of eternal light
Shall there his beams display ;
Nor shall one moment's darkness mix
With that unvaried day.
- 5 No more the drops of piercing grief
Shall swell into mine eyes ;
Nor the meridian sun decline,
Amid those brighter skies.
- 6 There all the millions of our race
Shall in one song unite ;
And each the bliss of all shall view
With infinite delight.

Prospect of the heavenly Jerusalem.

- 1 AWAY with our sorrow and fear,
We soon shall recover our home ;
The city of saints shall appear,
The day of eternity come.
From earth we shall quickly remove,
And mount to our native abode,
The house of our Father above,
The palace of angels and God.
- 2 By faith we already behold
That lovely Jerusalem here ;
Her walls are of jasper and gold,
As crystal her buildings are clear :
Immoveably founded in grace,
She stands, as she ever hath stood,
And brightly her Builder displays,
And flames with the glory of God.
- 3 No need of the sun in that day,
Which never is followed by night,
Where Christ doth his brightness display,
A pure and a permanent light ;
The Lamb is their light and their sun ;
And, lo ! by reflection they shine,
With Jesus ineffably one,
And bright in effulgence divine !

Sweet fields, arrayed in living green,
And rivers of delight!
- 3 There generous fruits, that never fail,
On trees immortal grow;
There rocks, and hills, and brooks, and vales,
With milk and honey flow.
- 4 All o'er those wide-extended plains
Shines one eternal day;
There God, the sun, forever reigns,
And scatters night away.
- 5 No chilling winds or poisonous breath
Can reach that healthful shore;
Sickness and sorrow, pain and death,
Are felt and feared no more.

And be forever blest?
When shall I see my Father's face,
And in his bosom rest?

Rising towards Heaven.

Rise from transitory things,
Towards heaven, thy native place :
Sun, and moon, and stars decay,
Time shall soon this earth remove ;
Rise, my soul, and haste away
To seats prepared above.
- 2 Rivers to the ocean run,
Nor stay in all their course ;
Fire ascending seeks the sun,—
Both speed them to their source :
So a soul that's born of God
Pants to view his glorious face,
Upward tends to his abode,
To rest in his embrace.
- 3 Cease, ye pilgrims, cease to mourn,
Press onward to the prize ;
Soon our Savior will return,
Triumphant in the skies :
Yet a season, and you know
Happy entrance will be given,
All our sorrows left below,
And earth exchanged for heaven.

Then I can smile at satan's rage,
 And face a frowning world.

- 1 PRAISE to God, immortal praise,
For the love that crowns our days ;
Bounteous Source of every joy,
Let thy praise our tongues employ :
- 2 For the blessings of the field,
For the stores the gardens yield,
For the vine's exalted juice,
For the generous olive's use.
- 3 Flocks that whiten all the plain,
Yellow sheaves of ripened grain,
Clouds that drop their fattening dews,
Suns that temperate warmth diffuse ;
- 4 All that spring, with bounteous hand,
Scatters o'er the smiling land ;
All that liberal autumn pours
From her rich o'erflowing stores ;—
- 5 These to thee, our God, we owe,
Source whence all our blessings flow ;
And for these our souls shall raise
Grateful vows and solemn praise.
- 6 Yet should rising whirlwinds tear
From its stem the ripening ear ;
Should the fig-tree's blasted shoot
Drop her green untimely fruit ;
- 7 Should thine altered hand restrain
Th' early and the latter rain,
Blast each opening bud of joy,
And the rising year destroy ;

8 Still to thee our souls shall raise
 Grateful vows and solemn praise ;
 And, when every blessing's flown,
 Love thee for thyself alone.

Harvest.

1 God of the year ! with songs of praise
 And hearts of love, we come to bless
 Thy bounteous hand, for thou hast shed
 Thy magna o'er our wilderness.
 In early spring-time thou didst fling
 O'er earth its robe of blossoming ;
 And its sweet treasures, day by day,
 Rose quickening in thy blessed ray.

2 And now they whiten hill and vale,
 And hang on every vine and tree,
 Whose pensile branches, bending low,
 Seem bowed in thankfulness to thee.
 The earth, with all its purple isles,
 Is answering to thy genial smiles ;
 And gales of perfume breathe along,
 And lift to thee their voiceless song.

3 God of the seasons ! thou hast blest
 The land with sunlight and with showers,
 And plenty o'er its bosom smiles
 To crown the sweet autumnal hours ;
 Praise—praise to thee ! Our hearts expand
 To view these blessings of thy hand,
 And on the incense-breath of love
 Ascend to their bright home above.

The Seasons of the Year. Ps. 147.

- 1 With songs and honors sounding loud,
Address the Lord on high ;
Over the heavens he spreads his cloud,
And waters veil the sky.
- 2 He sends his showers of blessings down
To cheer the plains below ;
He makes the grass the mountains crown,
And corn in valleys grow.
- 3 His steady counsels change the face
Of the declining year ;
He bids the sun cut short his race,
And wintry days appear.
- 4 His hoary frost, his fleecy snow
Descend and clothe the ground ;
The liquid streams forbear to flow,
In icy fetters bound.
- 5 He sends his word, and melts the snow,
The fields no longer mourn ;
He calls the warmer gales to blow,
And bids the spring return.

Obey his mighty word :
With songs and honors sounding loud,
Praise ye the sovereign Lord.

The summer suns with vigor shine,
To raise the corn and cheer the vine.
- 4 Thy hand, in autumn, richly pours
Through all our coasts redundant stores ;
And winters, softened by thy care,

The acceptable Fast.

- 1 This is the fast the Lord doth choose :
Each heavy burden to undo,
The bands of wickedness to loose,
And bid the captive freely go.
- 2 Let every vile and sinful yoke
Of servile bondage and of fear,
By mercy, love and truth be broke ;
And from each eye wipe every tear.

3 Yes, to the hungry deal thy bread ;
 Bring to thine house the outcast poor ;
 There let the fainting soul be fed,
 Nor spurn the needy from thy door.

4 And when thou seest the naked, spare
 The raiment that his wants demand ;
 Since all mankind thy kindred are,
 To all, thy charity expand.

5 Thus did the Savior of our race :
 Himself, the Bread of Life, he gave ;
 He clothed us with his righteousness,
 And broke the fetters from the slave.

6 He owned us brethren,—nor did hide
 Himself from us, in all our woe ;
 Be his example, then, our guide,
 And let our lives his goodness show.

Public Humiliation.

1 GREAT Framer of unnumbered worlds,
 And whom unnumbered worlds adore !
 Whose goodness all thy creatures share,
 While nature trembles at thy power,—

2 Thine is the hand that moves the spheres,
 That wakes the wind, and lifts the sea ;
 And man, who moves the lord of earth,
 Acts but the part assigned by thee.

3 While suppliant crowds implore thine aid,
 To thee we raise the humble cry ;
 Thine altar is the contrite heart,
 Thine incense a repentant sigh.

4 This day we deeply mourn our sins,
 Confess thy power, and bless thy red;
 O let us know thy pardoning love,
 And find in thee a guardian God.

Continuance of National Security implored. Ps. 44.

1 O LORD, our fathers oft have told,
 In our attentive ears,
 Thy wonders in their days performed,
 And in more ancient years.

2 'Twas not their courage, nor their sword,
 To them salvation gave;
 'Twas not their number, nor their strength,
 That did their country save:

3 But thy right hand, thy powerful arm,
 Whose succor they implored;
 Thy providence protected them,
 Who thy great name adored.

4 As thee, their God, our fathers owned,
 So thou art still our King;
 O, therefore, as thou didst to them,
 To us deliverance bring.

5 To thee the glory we'll ascribe,
 From whom salvation came;
 In God, our shield, we will rejoice,
 And ever bless thy name.

512. 8s & 7s M. ANONYMOUS.Pardon implored for National Sins.

- 1 GREAT Jehovah! God of nations!
From thy temple in the skies
Hear thy people's supplications,
Now for their deliverance rise.
- 2 Though our sins, our hearts confounding,
Long and loud upon thee call,
Thou hast mercy more abounding,
Jesus' blood can cleanse them all.
- 3 Let that love veil our transgression;
Let that blood our guilt efface;
Save thy people from oppression,
Save from spoil thy holy place.
- 4 Lo! with deep contrition turning,
Humbly at thy feet we bend;
Hear us, fasting, praying, mourning,—
Hear us, spare us, and defend.

513. C. M. ANONYMOUS.Judgments for National Sins deprecated.

- 1 ALMIGHTY Lord! before thy throne
Thy mourning people bend!
'Tis on thy pardoning grace alone
Our dying hopes depend.
- 2 Dark judgments, from thy heavy hand,
Thy dreadful power display;
Yet mercy spares our guilty land,
And still we live to pray.

3 How changed, alas ! are truths divine,
 For error, guilt and shame !
 What impious numbers, bold in sin,
 Disgrace the Christian name !

4 O turn us—turn us, mighty Lord !
 Convert us by thy grace ;
 Then shall our hearts obey thy word,
 And see again thy face.

5 Then, should oppressing foes invade,
 We will not sink in fear ;
 Secure of all-sufficient aid,
 When thou, O God, art near.

'Is it such a Fast that I have chosen ?'

1 'Is this a fast for me,'—
 Thus saith the Lord our God,
 'A day for man to vex his soul,
 And feel affliction's rod ?

2 'Like bulrush low to bow
 His sorrow-stricken head,
 With sackcloth for his inner vest,
 And ashes round him spread ;—

3 'Shall day like this have power
 To stay th' avenging hand,
 Efface transgression, or avert
 My judgments from the land ?

4 'No—is not this alone
 The sacred fast I choose,—
 Oppression's yoke to burst in twain,
 The bands of guilt unloose ;—

5 'To nakedness and want
 Your food and raiment deal,—
 To dwell your kindred race among,
 And all their sufferings heal ?

6 'Then like the morning ray
 Shall spring your health and light;
 Before you, righteousness shall shine,
 Behind, my glory bright !'

Laying Corner-Stone; or Dedication.

- 1 THIS stone to thee in faith we lay,—
 We build the temple, Lord, to thee ;
 Thine eye be open, night and day,
 To guard this house from error free.
- 2 Here, when thy people seek thy face,
 And dying sinners pray to live,
 Hear thou in heaven, thy dwelling-place,
 And when thou hearest, O forgive !
- 3 Here, when thy messengers proclaim
 The blessed gospel of thy Son,
 Still, by the power of his great name,
 Be mighty signs and wonders done.
- 4 Hosanna !—to their heavenly king
 When children's voices raise that song,
 Hosanna !—let their angels sing,
 And heaven with earth the strain prolong.
- 5 But will indeed Jehovah deign
 Here to abide, no transient guest ?
 Here will the world's Redeemer reign,
 And here thy holy spirit rest ?

6 That glory never hence depart!
 Yet choose not, Lord, this house alone;
 Thy kingdom come to every heart,—
 In every bosom fix thy throne.

Dedication of a House of Worship.

1 In sweet exalted strains
 The King of Glory praise;
 O'er heaven and earth he reigns,
 Through everlasting days:
 He with a nod the world controls,
 Sustains or sinks the distant poles.

2 To earth he bends his throne,
 His throne of grace divine;
 Wide is his bounty known,
 And wide his glories shine:
 Fair Salem, still his chosen rest,
 Is with his smiles and presence blest.

3 Then, King of Glory, come,
 And with thy favor crown
 This temple as thy dome,
 This people as thy own:
 Beneath this roof, O deign to show
 How God can dwell with men below!

4 Here may thine ears attend
 Our interceding cries,
 And grateful praise ascend,
 All fragrant, to the skies:
 Here may thy word melodious sound,
 And spread celestial joys around!

5 Here may th' attentive throng
 Imbibe thy truth and love,
 And converts join the song
 Of seraphim above,
 And willing crowds surround thy board,
 With sacred joy and sweet accord !

1 LORD of hosts ! to thee we raise
 Here a house of prayer and praise ;
 Thou thy people's heart prepare
 Here to meet for praise and prayer.

2 Let the living here be fed
 With thy word, the heavenly bread ;
 Here, in hope of glory blest,
 May the dead be laid to rest.

3 Here to thee a temple stand,
 While the sea shall gird the land ;
 Here reveal thy mercy sure,
 While the sun and moon endure.

4 Hallelujah !—earth and sky
 To the joyful sound reply ;
 Hallelujah !—hence ascend
 Prayer and praise till time shall end.

1 O bow thine ear, Eternal One !
 On thee our heart adoring calls ;
 To thee the followers of thy Son
 Have raised,—and now devote—these walls.

2 Here let thy holy days be kept;
 And be this place to worship given,
 Like that bright spot where Jacob slept,—
 The house of God, the gate of heaven.

3 Here may thine honor dwell; and here,
 As incense, let thy children's prayer,
 From contrite hearts and lips sincere,
 Rise on the still and holy air.

4 Here be thy praise devoutly sung;
 Here let thy truth beam forth to save,
 As when, of old, thy spirit hung
 On wings of light o'er Jordan's wave.

5 And when the lips, that with thy name
 Are vocal now, to dust shall turn,
 On others may devotion's flame
 Be kindled here, and purely burn.

1 GREAT Sovereign of the earth and sky,
 And Lord of all below!
 Before thy glorious majesty
 Ten thousand seraphs bow.

2 Yet thou art not confined above;
 Thy presence knows no bound;
 Where'er thy praying people meet,
 There thou art always found.

3 Behold a temple raised for thee;
 O meet thy people here;
 Here, O thou King of saints, reside,
 And in thy church appear.

4 Within these walls, let holy peace,
 And love and concord dwell ;
 Here give the troubled conscience ease,
 The wounded spirit heal.

5 Here may salvation be proclaimed
 Through the Redeemer's word ;
 Let sinners know the joyful sound,
 And own their Savior, Lord.

6 Here may a numerous crowd arise,
 To bow before thy throne ;
 Here may their songs salute the skies,
 To ages yet unborn.

The Same.

1 Our God ! where'er thy people meet,
 There they behold thy mercy-seat ;
 Where'er they seek thee, thou art found,
 And every place is hallowed ground.

2 For thou, within no walls confined,
 Inhabitest the humble mind ;
 Such ever bring thee where they come,
 And going, take thee to their home.

3 Here may we prove the power of prayer
 To strengthen faith, and sweeten care ;
 To teach our faint desires to rise,
 And bring all heaven before our eyes.

4 Behold, at thy commanding word
 We stretch the curtain and the cord ;
 Come thou, and fill this wider space,
 And bless us with a large increase.

5 Lord, we are few, but thou art near ;
 Nor short thine arm, nor deaf thine ear :
 O rend the heavens, come quickly down,
 And make a thousand hearts thine own !

1 O THOU, our fathers' God !
 Their children seek thy face,
 To own thy guardian hand
 Where they invoke thy grace,
 And where we now awake the song
 Which lips unborn shall still prolong.

2 We hail thine altars, Lord,
 In every age thy care,—
 Those Zion-courts, more blest
 Than Israel's dwellings are ;
 Where praise with praise more deeply flows,
 And heart with heart more warmly glows.

3 God of the Bethel stone !
 Be this a Bethel too ;
 Here fill our souls with awe ;
 Here Jacob's dream renew,
 Here ope the gate,—and here arise
 Those visioned steps that reach the skies.

4 God of the burning bush,
 Whose unconsuming flame
 Revealed to Moses once
 Thy presence and thy name,—
 Here, blessed Lord, thy presence prove,
 And fire our souls with saving love.

5 O thou, whose temple stood
 The wonder of mankind,
 Here all its types fulfil,
 For Jesus' Church designed :
 Here, oracle and mercy-seat
 And sacrifice in Jesus meet.

6 Here fit our souls to rise
 Where all thy love inspires,
 Where angels cast their crowns
 And strike their golden lyres.
 Thus bless, O thou, most good, most great !
 The house of prayer we dedicate.

Ordination.

1 O thou, who art above all height,—
 Our God, our Father, and our Friend !
 Beneath thy throne of love and light
 Let thine adoring children bend.

2 We kneel in praise, that here is set
 A vine that by thy culture grew ;
 We kneel in prayer that thou wouldest wet
 Its opening leaves with heavenly dew.

3 Since thy young servant now hath given
 Himself, his powers, his hopes, his youth
 To the great cause of truth and heaven
 Be thou his guide, O God of truth !

4 Here may his doctrines drop like rain,
 His speech like Hermon's dew distil,
 Till green fields smile, and golden grain,
 Ripe for the harvest, waits thy will.

5 And when he sinks in death—by care,
Or pain, or toil, or years oppressed—
O God ! remember thou our prayer,
And take his spirit to thy rest.

The gospel jubilee proclaim,
And call them to repent and live.'

 We bless that wondrous grace
 Which could for Gentiles find
 Within thy courts a place ;
 How kind the care

 A house of prayer !

2 Though once estranged afar,
 We now approach the throne ;
 For Jesus brings us near,
 And makes our cause his own ;
 Strangers no more,
 To thee we come, and find our home,
 And rest secure.

3 To thee our souls we join,
 And love thy sacred name ;
 No more our own, but thine,—
 We triumph in thy claim ;
 Our Father, King !
 Thy covenant grace our souls embrace,
 Thy titles sing.

4 Here in thy house we feast
 On dainties all divine ;
 And, while such sweets we taste,
 With joy our faces shine ;
 Incense shall rise
 From flames of love, and God approve
 The sacrifice.

5 May all the nations throng
 To worship in thy house ;
 And thou attend the song,
 And smile upon their vows,
 Indulgent still,
 Till earth conspire to join the choir

 Such was the Savior's last request,
 Who all the pangs of death endured,
 That we might live forever blessed.

2 Yes, we'll record thy matchless love,
 Thou dearest, tenderest, best of friends !
 Thy dying love the noblest praise
 Of long eternity transcends.

3 'Tis pleasure more than earth can give,
 Thy goodness through these veils to see ;
 Thy table food celestial yields,
 And happy they who sit with thee.

4 But O, what vast transporting joys
 Shall fill our breast, our tongues inspire,
 When, joined with the celestial train,
 Our grateful souls thy love admire !

 Perfect and glorious as thy own,
 Unwearied shall our minds obey,
 And join in worship near the throne.

Christ's Law of Love.

1 YE followers of the Prince of peace,

 Remember what his spirit was,

 Inspired by love, he died.

3 And do you love him ? do you feel
 Your warm affection move ?
 This is the proof which he demands,—
 That you each other love.

 Thus we our pious homage pay,

 On a bright cloud in triumph ride,
 And on the wind's swift pinions fly.

3 Come, King of kings, with thy bright train,
Cherubs and seraphs, heavenly hosts ;
Assume thy right, enlarge thy reign
As far as earth extends her coasts.

4 Come, Lord, and where thy cross once stood,
There plant thy banner, fix thy throne ;
Subdue the rebels by thy word,
And claim the nations for thy own.

The Memorial of our absent Lord.

1 Jesus is gone above the skies,
Where our weak senses reach him not ;
And carnal objects court our eyes
To thrust our Savior from our thought.

2 He knows what wandering hearts we have,
 Apt to forget his lovely face ;
 And, to refresh our minds, he gave
 These kind memorials of his grace.

3 Let sinful sweets be all forgot,
 And earth grow less in our esteem ;
 Christ and his love fill every thought,
 And faith and hope be fixed on him.

4 Whilst he is absent from our sight,
 'Tis to prepare our souls a place,
 That we may dwell in heavenly light,
 And live forever near his face.

Children received by Christ.

- 1 BEHOLD what condescending love
Jesus on earth displays !
To babes and sucklings he extends
The riches of his grace !
- 2 He still the ancient promise keeps,
To our forefathers given ;
Young children in his arms he takes,
And calls them heirs of heaven.

3 Forbid them not whom Jesus calls,
 Nor dare the claim resist,
 Since his own lips to us declare
 Of such will heaven consist.

4 With flowing tears, and thankful hearts,
 We give them up to thee ;
 Receive them, Lord, into thine arms ;
 Thine may they ever be.

1 SEE Israel's gentle Shepherd stand,

2 ' Permit them to approach,' he cries,
 ' Nor scorn their humble name ;
 For 'twas to bless such souls as these
 The Lord of angels came.'

3 We bring them, Lord, by fervent prayer,
 And yield them up to thee ;
 Joyful that we ourselves are thine,
 Thine let our offspring be !

4 Ye little flock, with pleasure hear ;
 Ye children, seek his face ;
 And fly with transport to receive
 The blessings of his grace.

5 If orphans they are left behind,
 Thy guardian care we trust ;
 That care shall heal our bleeding hearts
 If weeping o'er their dust.

Permanence of early Religious Impressions.

- 1 WHILE yet the youthful spirit bears
 The image of its God within,
 And uneffaced that beauty wears
 So soon to be destroyed by sin ;—

- 2 Then is the time for faith and love
To take in charge their precious care,
Teach the young eye to look above,
Teach the young knee to bend in prayer.
- 3 This work is ours—this charge was thine,
These youthful souls from sin to save ;
To lead them in thy faith divine,
And teach its triumph o'er the grave.
- 4 The world will come with care and crime,
And tempt too many a heart astray ;
Still the seed sown in early time
Will not be wholly cast away.
- 5 The infant prayer, the infant hymn,
Within the darkened soul will rise,
When age's weary eye is dim,
And the grave's shadow round us lies.
- 6 The infant hymn is heard again,
The infant prayer is breathed once more ;
Reclasping of a broken chain,
We turn to all we loved before.
- 7 Lord, grant our hearts be so inclined,
Thy work to seek, thy will to do ;
And while we teach the youthful mind,
Our own be taught thy lessons too.

Children's Prayer.

1 God of mercy and of wisdom !
 Hear thy children's lisping cry ;
 Let thy presence, Lord, be with them,
 Teaching lessons from on high.

2 Here, beneath thy wing, we seat us,
 Up to heaven for wisdom look ;
 Lord, in mercy deign to meet us,—
 Meet us in thy sacred book.

3 Since thy truth doth gild its pages,
 May that truth, Lord, make us free ;
 On the Rock of endless ages
 Let our faith established be.

4 To our faith we'll add the graces,
 Virtue, knowledge, patience, love :
 When on earth we leave our places,
 Raise us all to seats above.

At an Annual Convention.

1 DEAR Lord, behold thy servants, here,
 From various parts, together meet,
 To tell their labors through the year,
 And lay the harvest at thy feet.

2 In thy wide fields and vineyards, Lord,
 We've toiled and wrought with watchful care ;
 Thy wheat hath flourished by thy word,
 Thy love consumed the choking tare.

3 The reapers cry, ' Thy fields are white,
 All ready to be gathered in,
 And harvests wave, in changing light,
 Far as the eye can trace the scene.'

4 Lord, bless us while we here remain ;
 With holy love our bosoms fill ;
 O may thy doctrine drop like rain,
 And like the silent dew distil.

5 While we attend thy churches' care
 O grant us wisdom from above ;
 With prudent thought and humble prayer,
 May we fulfil the works of love.

At an Association of Ministers.

- 1 BEFORE thy throne, eternal King !
Thy ministers their tribute bring,—
Their tribute of united praise
For heavenly news and peaceful days.
- 2 We sing the conquests of thy sword,
And publish loud thy healing word ;
While angels sound thy glorious name,
Thy saving grace our lips proclaim.
- 3 Thy various service we esteem
Our sweet employ, our bliss supreme ;
And, while we feel thy heavenly love,
We burn like seraphim above.
- 4 Still in thy work would we abound ;
Still prune the vine, or plough the ground ;
Thy sheep with wholesome pasture feed,
And watch them with unwearyed heed.
- 5 Thou art our Lord, our life, our love,
Our care below, our crown above :
Thy praise shall be our best employ,
Thy presence our eternal joy.

BODINE.

Alms bestowed in View of God's Mercy.

- 1 BRIGHT source of everlasting love !
To thee our souls we raise,
And to thy sovereign bounty rear
A monument of praise.

2 Thy mercy gilds the paths of life
 With every cheering ray,
 And still restrains the rising tear,
 Or wipes that tear away.

3 When, sunk in guilt, our souls approached
 The borders of despair,
 Thy grace, through Jesus' blood, proclaimed
 A free salvation near.

4 What shall we render, bounteous Lord !
 For all the grace we see ?
 Alas ! the goodness we can yield
 Extendeth not to thee.

5 To tents of woe, to beds of pain,
 We cheerfully repair;
 And, with the gift thy hand bestows,
 Relieve the mourners' care.

6 The widow's heart shall sing for joy ;
 The orphan shall be glad ;
 The hungering soul with joy we'll point
 To Christ, the living bread.

Charity and Instruction to the Poor.

1 O, how can they look up to heaven,
 And ask for mercy there,
 Who never soothed the poor man's pang,
 Nor dried the orphan's tear ?

2 Our Savior was the healing friend
 Of poverty and pain ;
 And never did imploring wretch
 His garment touch in vain.

3 May we with humble effort take
 Example from above,
 And thence the active lesson learn
 Of charity and love.

4 But chiefly be the labor ours
 To shade the early plant;
 To guard from ignorance and guilt
 The infancy of want;

5 To graft the virtues, ere the bud
 The canker-worm has gnawed,
 And teach the rescued child to lisp
 Its gratitude to God.

Charity to the Distressed.

1 FATHER of mercies ! send thy grace,
 All powerful, from above,
 To form in our obedient souls
 The image of thy love.

2 O, may our sympathizing breasts
 That generous pleasure know,
 Kindly to share in others' joy,
 And weep for others' woe !

3 When the poor helpless sons of grief
 In low distress are laid,
 Soft be our hearts their pains to feel,
 And swift our hands to aid.

4 So Jesus looked on dying man
 When throned above the skies ;
 And midst the blessedness of heaven
 He felt compassion rise.

5 On wings of love the Savior flew
 To raise us from the ground;
 And shed the riches of his blood,
 A balm for every wound.

Temperance Hymn.

- 1 God of our fathers ! 'tis thy hand
 Hath turned the tide of death away,
 That rolled in madness o'er the land,
 And filled thy people with dismay.
- 2 Thy voice awaked us from our dream ;
 Thy spirit taught our hearts to feel ;
 'Twas thy own light, whose radiant beam
 Came down our duty to reveal.
- 3 The work of love, in faith begun,
 Hath prospered, by our Father's care ;
 And many a victory hath been won,
 The fruit of toilsomeness and prayer.
- 4 Almighty Parent ! still in thee
 Our spirits trust for strength divine ;
 Gird us with heaven's own energy,
 And o'er our paths let wisdom shine.
- 5 The work of man's destruction stay ;
 The tide of fire still backward press ;
 Drive each delusive mist away,
 And every humble effort bless.
- 6 God of our fathers ! unto thee
 We bend the knee in fervent prayer ;
 Let every heart from sin be free,
 And stamp thy blessed image there.

Intemperance Reformed.

- 1 BENEATH God's terrors doomed to groan,
Behold the sensual band
The fruits of folly reap, and own
The justice of his hand.
- 2 Their head is sick, their fainting heart
Each joy of life foregoes;
And life itself, worn out with woe,
Is hastening to its close.
- 3 But there is still a power to save,—
A new and living way:
His word reproves the fierce disease,
And death resigns its prey.
- 4 O then may all adore his name
Who thus his mercy prove;
And all, from age to age, proclaim
His saving power and love.

For a Temperance Anniversary.

- 1 We praise thee, if one rescued soul,
While the past year prolonged its flight,
Turned shuddering from the poisonous bowl,
To health, and liberty, and light.
- 2 We praise thee, if one clouded home,
Where broken hearts despairing pined,
Beheld the sire and husband come
Erect and in his perfect mind,

3 No more a weeping wife to mock,
Till all her hopes in anguish end ;
No more the trembling child to shock,
And sink the father in the fiend.

4 Still give us grace, almighty King !
Unwavering at our posts to stand,
Till grateful to thy shrine we bring
The tribute of a ransomed land ;

5 Which, from the pestilential chain
Of foul intemperance gladly free,
Shall spread an annal, free from stain,
To all the nations, and to thee.

Horrors of War.

1 WHILE sounds of war are heard around,
And death and ruin strew the ground,
To thee we look, on thee we call,
The Parent and the Lord of all !

2 Thou, who hast stamped on human kind
The image of a heaven-born mind,
And in a father's wide embrace
Hast cherished all the kindred race,

3 O see with what insatiate rage
Thy sons their impious battles wage ;
How spreads destruction like a flood,
And brothers shed their brothers' blood !

4 See guilty passions spring to birth,
And deeds of hell deform the earth ;
While righteousness and justice mourn,
And love and pity droop forlorn.

5 Great God! whose powerful hand can bind
 The raging waves, the furious wind,
 O bid the human tempest cease,
 And hush the maddening world to peace.

6 With reverence may each hostile land
 Hear and obey that high command,
 Thy Son's blest errand from above,
 'My creatures, live in mutual love!'

At a Wedding.

1 SINCE Jesus freely did appear
 To grace a marriage feast,
 O Lord, we ask thy presence here,
 To make a wedding guest.

2 Upon the bridal pair look down,
 Who now have plighted hands ;
 Their union with thy favor crown,
 And bless their nuptial bands.

3 With gifts of grace their hearts endow,
 Of all rich dowries best !
 Their substance bless, and peace bestow,
 To sweeten all the rest.

4 In purest love their souls unite,
 That they, with christian care,
 May make domestic burdens light,
 By taking mutual share.

5 As Isaac and Rebecca give
 A pattern chaste and kind,
 So may this married couple live
 And die in friendship joined.

6 On every soul assembled here
 O make thy face to shine;
 Thy goodness more our hearts can cheer
 Than richest food or wine.

 For he alone can minds unite,

 With heavenly love, that sacred fire;
 And from this moment may they prove
 The bliss divine of marriage-love.
- 3 O may they both increasing find
 Substantial pleasures of the mind;
 Happy together may they be,
 And both united, Lord, to thee.
- 4 To you, blest pair, your God hath given
 To taste the love which reigns in heaven;
 His gift with all your powers improve,
 And cultivate that virtuous love.

- 1 CLAY to clay, and dust to dust !
Let them mingle—for they must !
Give to earth the earthly clod,
For the spirit's fled to God.
- 2 Never more shall midnight's damp
Darken round this mortal lamp ;
Never more shall noonday's glance
Search this mortal countenance.
- 3 Deep the pit and cold the bed,
Where the spoils of death are laid ;
Stiff the curtains, chill the gloom,
Of man's melancholy tomb.
- 4 Look aloft ! The spirit's risen—
Death cannot the soul imprison ;
'Tis in heaven that spirits dwell,
Glorious, though invisible.

Peace is there, and comfort too ;
There shall those we love be found,
Tracing joy's eternal round.

 Can reach the peaceful sleeper here,
 While angels watch the soft repose.

3 So Jesus slept;—God's dying Son
 Passed through the grave, and blessed the bed;
 Rest here, blessed saint, till from his throne
 The morning break, and pierce the shade.

4 Break from his throne, illustrious morn;

DODDRIDGE.

On the Death of a Pastor.

1 Now let our drooping hearts revive,
 And all our tears be dry;
 Why should those eyes be drowned in grief
 Which view a Savior nigh?

2 What though the arm of conquering death
 Does God's own house invade?
 What though the prophet and the priest
 Be numbered with the dead?

3 Though earthly shepherds dwell in dust,
 The aged and the young,—
 The watchful eye in darkness closed,
 And mute th' instructive tongue;—

4 Th' eternal Shepherd still survives
 New comfort to impart;
 His eye still guides us, and his voice
 Still animates our heart.

5 'Lo, I am with you,' saith the Lord,
 'My church shall safe abide ;
 For I will ne'er forsake my own,
 Whose souls in me confide.'

6 Through every scene of life and death,
 This promise is our trust ;
 And this shall be our children's song,
 When we are cold in dust.

On the Loss of dear Friends.

- 1 THE God of Love will sure indulge
 The flowing tear, the heaving sigh,
 When dear companions fall around,—
 When tender friends and kindred die.
- 2 Yet not one anxious murmuring thought
 Should with our mourning passions blend ;
 Nor would our bleeding hearts forget
 Th' almighty ever-living friend.
- 3 Beneath a numerous train of ills,
 Our feeble flesh and heart may fail ;
 Yet shall our hope in thee, our God,
 O'er every gloomy fear prevail.
- 4 Parent and husband, guard and guide,—
 Thou art each tender name in one ;
 On thee we cast our every care,
 And comfort seek from thee alone.
- 5 Our Father, God, to thee we look,
 Our rock, our portion, and our friend !
 And on thy covenant-love and truth
 Our sinking souls shall still depend.

- 4 'Their feeble frames my power shall raise,

'Dear Savior, all we have and are

A Prayer at Parting.

- 1 THY presence, ever-living God !
Wide through all nature spreads abroad ;
Thy watchful eyes, which never sleep,
In every place thy children keep.

2 While near each other we remain,
 Thou dost our lives and souls sustain ;
 When separate, make us still to share
 Thy counsels, and thy gracious care.

3 To thee we now commit our ways,
 And here implore thy heavenly grace ;
 Still cause thy face on us to shine,
 And guard and guide us still as thine.

4 Give us within thy house to raise
 Again united songs of praise ;
 Or, if that joy no more be known,
 O may we meet around thy throne.

A Hymn at Parting.

1 CHRISTIANS ! brethren ! ere we part,
 Every voice and every heart
 Join, and to our Father raise
 One last hymn of grateful praise.

2 Though we here should meet no more
 Yet there is a brighter shore ;
 There, released from toil and pain,
 There we all may meet again.

3 Now to him who reigns in heaven
 Be eternal glory given ;
 Grateful for thy love divine,
 O may all our hearts be thine !

How sure is their defence !
Eternal Wisdom is their guide,
Their help, Omnipotence.
- 2 In foreign realms and lands remote,
Supported by thy care,
They pass unhurt through burning climes,
And breathe in tainted air.
- 3 Thy mercy sweetens every soil,
Makes every region please ;
The hoary frozen hills it warms,
And smooths the boisterous seas.
- 4 Though by the dreadful tempest tossed
High on the broken wave,
They know thou art not slow to hear,
Nor impotent to save.
- 5 The storm is laid, the winds retire,
Obedient to thy will ;
The sea, that roars at thy command,
At thy command is still.
- 6 In midst of dangers, fears, and death,
Thy goodness we'll adore ;
And praise thee for thy mercies past,
And humbly hope for more.

Go with the mariners, and trace

And seize the favor of the wind ;
Till God commands, and tempests rise

His mercy hears their loud address,
And sends salvation in distress.

 May dreams of home his spirit cheer,—
 Dreams that shall never false appear ;
 May thoughts of friends, and peace, and thee,

 The men, astonished, mount the skies,
 And sink in gaping graves.

3 Then to the Lord they raise their cries !
 He hears their loud request,
 And orders silence through the skies,
 And lays the floods to rest.

4 Sailors rejoice to lose their fears,
And see the storm allayed :
Now to their eyes the port appears ;
There let their vows be paid.

And those that see thy wondrous ways,

Hymn of Gratitude.

1 O, how shall words, with equal warmth,
 The gratitude declare
 That glows within my ravished heart !
 But thou canst read it there.

2 To all my weak complaints and cries
 Thy mercy lent an ear,
 Ere yet my feeble thoughts had learned
 To form themselves in prayer.

3 Through hidden dangers, toils, and deaths,
 It gently cleared my way,
 And through the pleasing snares of vice,
 More to be feared than they.

4 Thy bounteous hand with worldly bliss
 Has made my cup run o'er;
 And in a kind and faithful friend,
 Has doubled all my store.

5 When nature fails, and day and night
 Divide thy works no more,
 My ever grateful heart, O Lord,
 Thy mercy shall adore.

6 Through all eternity, to thee
 A joyful song I'll raise;
 For O ! eternity 's too short
 To utter all thy praise.

In Sickness.

1 My Sovereign ! to thy throne,

 O bow thine ear, to hear the groan

2 My life, bowed down with pain,
 Mourns its decaying bloom ;
 Lord, clothe these bones with flesh again,
 And spare me from the tomb.

3 Without one murmuring word
 Thy chastening I receive ;
 But with submission ask, O Lord,
 A merciful reprieve.

4 Distressed and pained as now,
 Thy aid I once implored ;
 Thy pity heard my earnest vow,
 Thy power my health restored.

5 My supplicating voice
 Unwearied I will raise :
 Say to thy servant's soul, 'Rejoice,'
 And fill my mouth with praise.

 When life was hovering o'er the grave,
 And nature sunk with pain.

3 And when the pains of death were felt,
 Thou didst deliverance bring,
 And spare my pale and quivering lips
 Thy matchless grace to sing.

4 Into thy hands, my Savior God !
 I did my soul resign,
 In firm dependence on that truth
 Which made salvation mine.

5 From the dark borders of the grave,
 At thy command, I come ;
 Nor would I urge a speedier flight
 To my celestial home.

6 Where thou shalt settle my abode,
 There would I choose to be ;
 For in thy presence death is life,
 And earth is heaven with thee.

Sickness and Sorrow Removed. Ps. 30.

- 1 I WILL extol thee, Lord, on high ;
At thy command diseases fly ;
Who but a God can speak, and save
From the dark borders of the grave !
- 2 Sing to the Lord, ye saints of his,
And tell how large his goodness is ;
Let all your powers rejoice and bless,
While you record his holiness.
- 3 His anger but a moment stays ;
His love is life and length of days ;
Though grief and tears the night employ,
The morning star restores the joy.

The Widow's Prayer.

- 1 THOUGH, faint and sick, and worn away
With poverty and woe,
My widowed feet are doomed to stray
'Mid thorny paths below ;
- 2 Be thou, O Lord ! my Savior still—
My confidence and guide ;
I know that perfect is thy will,
Whate'er that will decide.
- 3 I know the soul that trusts in thee
Thou never wilt forsake ;
And though a bruised reed I be,
That reed thou wilt not break.

4 Then, keep me, Lord ! where'er I go—
 Support me on my way,
 Though, worn with poverty and woe,
 My widowed footsteps stray !

5 To give my weakness strength, O God !
 Thy staff shall yet avail ;
 And though thou chasen with thy rod,
 That staff shall never fail.

On the Death of a Child.

1 As the sweet flower which scents the morn,
 But withers in the rising day,
 Thus lovely seemed the infant's dawn !
 Thus swiftly fled his life away !

2 Ere sin could blight, or sorrow fade,
 Death timely came with friendly care ;
 The opening bud to heaven conveyed,
 And bade it bloom forever there.

3 Yet the sad hour that took the boy
 Perhaps has spared a heavier doom,—
 Snatched him from scenes of guilty joy,
 Or from the pangs of ills to come.

4 He died before his infant soul
 Had ever burned with wrong desire,
 Had ever spurned at Heaven's control,
 Or ever quenched its sacred fire.

5 He died to sin, he died to care,—
 But for a moment felt the rod,
 Then, rising on the viewless air,
 His happy spirit soared to God.

In Affliction.

- 1 AFFLICTION is a stormy deep,
 Where wave resounds to wave ;
Though o'er my head the billows roll,
 I know the Lord can save.
- 2 When darkness and when sorrows rose,
 And pressed on every side,
The Lord has still sustained my steps,
 And still has been my guide.
- 3 Perhaps, before the morning dawn,
 He will restore my peace ;
For he who bade the tempest roar,
 Can bid the tempest cease.
- 4 In the dark watches of the night
 I'll count his mercies o'er ;
I'll praise him for ten thousand past,
 And humbly sue for more.
- 5 Here will I rest, here build my hopes,
 Nor murmur at his rod ;
He 's more than all the world to me,—
 My health, my life, my God !

Power of Sin broken at Death.

- 1 Our sins, alas ! how strong they be !
And, like a violent sea,
They break our duty, Lord, to thee,
And hurry us away.
- 2 The waves of trouble, how they rise !
How loud the tempests roar !
But death shall land our weary souls
Safe on the heavenly shore.
- 3 There, to fulfil his sweet commands
Our speedy feet shall move ;
No sin shall clog our winged zeal,
Or cool our burning love.
- 4 There shall we sit, and sing and tell
The wonders of his grace ;
Till heavenly raptures fire our hearts,
And smile in every face.
- 5 Forever his dear sacred name
Shall dwell upon our tongue ;
And Jesus and salvation be
The close of every song.

Pride Lamented.

- 1 OFT have I turned my eye within,
And brought to light some latent sin;
But pride, the vice I most detest,
Still lurks securely in my breast.
- 2 Here with a thousand arts she tries
To dress me in a fair disguise,
To make a guilty wretched worm
Put on an angel's brightest form.
- 3 She hides my follies from mine eyes,
And lifts my virtues to the skies;
And while the specious tale she tells,
Her own deformity conceals.
- 4 Rend, O my God, the veil away:
Bring forth the monster to the day;
Expose her hideous form to view,
And all her restless power subdue.
- 5 So shall humility divine
Again possess this heart of mine;
And form a temple for my God,
Which he will make his loved abode.

Aburdity of Pride.

- 1 WHEREFORE should man, frail child of clay,—
Who, from the cradle to the shroud,
Lives but the insect of a day,—
O why should mortal man be proud?

2 His brightest visions just appear,—
Then vanish, and no more are found ;
The stateliest pile his pride can rear,
A breath may level with the ground.

3 By doubt perplexed, in error lost,
With trembling step he seeks his way ;
How vain of wisdom's gift the boast !
Of reason's lamp how faint the ray !

4 Follies and crimes, a countless sum,
Are crowded in life's little span :
How ill, alas ! does pride become
That erring, guilty creature, man !

5 God of our lives ! Father divine !
Give us a meek and lowly mind ;
In modest worth O let us shine,
And peace in humble virtue find.

Inconstancy in Religion.

1 THE wandering star, and fleeting wind,
Both represent th' unstable mind ;
The morning cloud, and early dew,
Bring our inconstancy to view.

2 But cloud and wind, and dew and star,
Faint and imperfect emblems are ;
Nor can there ought in nature be
So fickle and so false as we.

3 Our outward walk, and inward frame,
Scarce through a single hour the same ;
We vow, and straight our vows forget,
And then these very vows repeat.

4 We sin forsake, to sin return ;
 Are hot, are cold, now freeze, now burn ;
 In deep distress, then raptures feel,
 We soar to heaven, then sink to hell.

5 With flowing tears, Lord, we confess
 Our folly and unsteadfastness ;
 When shall these hearts more fixed be,
 Fixed by thy grace, and fixed for thee ?

Despondency Reproved.

1 WHY sinks my weak desponding mind ?
 Why heaves my heart the anxious sigh ?
 Can sovereign goodness be unkind ?
 Am I not safe if God is nigh ?

2 He holds all nature in his hand ;
 That gracious hand on which I live
 Doth life and time and death command,
 And has immortal joys to give.

3 'Tis he supports this fainting frame ;
 On him alone my hopes recline ;
 The wondrous glories of his name,
 How wide they spread ! how bright they shine !

4 Infinite wisdom ! boundless power !
 Unchanging faithfulness and love !
 Here let me trust, while I adore,—
 Nor from my refuge e'er remove.

5 My God, if thou art mine indeed,
 Then have I all my heart can crave ;
 A present help in time of need ;
 Still kind to hear, and strong to save.

6 Forgive my doubts, O gracious Lord !
 And ease the sorrows of my breast ;
 Speak to my heart the healing word,
 That thou art mine,—and I am blest.

 Then Jesus is forever mine.

2 Unchangeable his will,
 Though dark may be my frame ;
 His loving heart is still
 Eternally the same :
 My soul through many changes goes ;
 His love no variation knows.

3 Thou, Lord, wilt carry on,
 And perfectly perform,
 The work thou hast begun
 In me, a sinful worm :
 'Midst all my fears, and sin, and woe,
 Thy spirit will not let me go.

4 The bowels of thy grace
 At first did freely move ;—
 I still shall see thy face,
 And feel that God is love :
 Myself into thy arms I cast ;
 Lord, save, O save my soul at last

The Sinner Admonished to turn.

- 1 SINNERS, the voice of God regard ;
'Tis mercy speaks to-day ;
He calls you by his sovereign word,
From sin's destructive way.
- 2 Like the rough sea that cannot rest,
You live devoid of peace ;
A thousand stings within your breast
Deprive your souls of ease.
- 3 Why will you in the crooked ways
Of sin and folly go ?
In pain you travail all your days,
And all you reap is woe !
- 4 But he that turns to God shall live,
Through his abounding grace ;
His mercy will the guilt forgive
Of those that seek his face.
- 5 Bow to the sceptre of his word,
Renouncing every sin ;
Submit to him, your sovereign Lord,
And learn his will divine.

He pardons like a God ;
He will forgive your numerous faults,

She thunders her divine protest
 Against th' unrighteous deed.
- 3 Within the holy place
 She calls with open arms,
'How long, ye fools, will you embrace
 Folly's deceiving charms ?
- 4 ' The race of men I love ;
 In mercy I chastise ;
Severely faithful, I reprove ;—
 Hear, mortals, and be wise.
- 5 ' My doors are open wide,
 My table spread within ;
Come then, ye simple, turn aside,
 And leave the paths of sin.

State of the Wicked and Righteous Compared.

- 1 As, parched in the barren sands
Beneath a burning sky,
The worthless bramble withering stands,
And only grows to die;
- 2 Such is the sinner's awful case,
Who makes the world his trust,
And dares his confidence to place
In vanity and dust.
- 3 A secret curse destroys his root,
And dries his moisture up;
He lives awhile, but bears no fruit,
Then dies unblest by hope.
- 4 But happy he whose hopes depend
Upon the Lord alone;
The soul that trusts in such a friend
Can ne'er be overthrown.
- 5 So thrives and blooms the tree whose roots
By constant streams are fed;
Arrayed in green, and rich in fruits,
It rears its branching head.

And drought around prevail:
'Tis planted by a river side,
Whose waters cannot fail.

' Shall mortal man be more just than God ? '

- 1 SHALL the vile race of flesh and blood
Contend with their Creator, God ?
Shall mortal worms presume to be
More holy, wise, or just than he ?
- 2 Behold, he puts his trust in none
Of all the spirits round his throne ;
Their natures, when compared with his,
Are neither holy, just, nor wise.

3 But how much meaner things are they
 Who spring from dust and dwell in clay !
 Touched by the finger of thy power,
 We faint and vanish in an hour.

4 From night to day, from day to night,
 We die by thousands in thy sight ;
 Buried in dust whole nations lie,
 Like a forgotten vanity.

5 Almighty Power, to thee we bow ;
 How frail are we, how glorious thou !

Joy in Temporal and Spiritual Gifts.

1 THE trifling joys this world can give,
 A thirsty soul can ne'er supply ;
 A soul, which hopes, through grace, to live
 In realms of bliss beyond the sky.

2 Yet, O my God ! I would not slight
 The smallest of thy gifts to me ;
 The least doth give me some delight,
 And shows thy mercy rich and free.

3 My friends, my health, my daily food—
 All blessings given here below,
 Proclaim aloud that thou are good ;—
 Thy goodness all the world shall know.

4 But O, it is a greater joy,
 To feel my heart is reconciled ;
 To know thou wilt my sins destroy,
 And claim me as thy ransomed child.

5 In thee, dear Lord, I stand complete,—
It is enough—I want no more!
Prostrate I fall before thy feet,
And all thy boundless love adore.

6 Hence then, ye trifling joys, depart!
Joys transient as the fading flower;
Jesus the Savior claims my heart,
'Tis his by purchase, love, and power.

 Has lost a straying sheep,
 Through vales, o'er hills, he anxious roves,
 And climbs the mountain's steep.

2 But O the joy ! the transport sweet !
 When he the wanderer finds ;
 Up in his arms he takes his charge,
 And to his shoulder binds.

3 Homeward he hastes, to tell his joys,
 And make his bliss complete ;
 The neighbors hear the news, and all

4 Yet how much greater is the joy

Dangers of Youth.

5 O let the word of grace
Our warmest thoughts employ ;
Be this, through all our following days,
Our treasure and our joy.

6 To what thy laws impart,
Be all our souls inclined ;
O let them dwell within our heart,
And sanctify our mind.

Advantages of Early Piety.

- 1 HAPPY is he whose early years
Receive instruction well ;
Who hates the sinner's path, and fears
The road that leads to hell.
- 2 Our youth, devoted to the Lord,
Is pleasing in his eyes ;
A flower, when offered in the bud,
Is no vain sacrifice.
- 3 'Tis easier work, if we begin
To fear the Lord betimes ;
While sinners who grow old in sin,
Are hardened in their crimes.
- 4 It saves us from a thousand fears,
To mind religion young ;
With joy it crowns succeeding years,
And renders virtue strong.
- 5 To thee, almighty God ! to thee
Our hearts we now resign ;
'Twill please us to look back and see
That our whole lives were thine.
- 6 We'll do thy work, we'll speak thy praise,
Whilst we have life and breath ;
Thus we're prepared for longer days,
Or fit for early death.

ANONYMOUS.

'Remember thy Creator.'

- 1 In life's gay morn, when sprightly youth
With generous ardor glows,
And shines in all the fairest charms
That beauty can disclose ;
- 2 Deep on thy soul,—before its powers
Are yet by vice enslaved,—
Be thy Creator's lofty name
And character engraved.
- 3 For soon the shades of grief may cloud
The sunshine of thy days ;
And cares and woes, an endless round,
Encompass all thy ways.
- 4 Soon may thy heart the woes of age
In mournful groans deplore,
And sadly muse on former joys,
That now return no more.
- 5 True wisdom, early sought and gained,
In age will give thee rest ;
O then, improve the morn of life,
To make its evening blest !

'Forgive, and thou shalt be Forgiven.'

- 1 O GOD ! my sins are manifold,
Against my life they cry,
And all my guilty deeds foregone,
Up to thy temple fly ;

Wilt thou release my trembling soul,
 That to despair is driven ?
 ' Forgive ! ' a blessed voice replied,
 ' And thou shalt be forgiven ! '

2 My foemen, Lord, are fierce and fell,
 They spurn me in their pride,
 They render evil for my good,
 My patience they deride ;
 Arise, O King, and be the proud
 To righteous ruin driven !
 ' Forgive ! ' an awful answer came,
 ' As thou wouldest be forgiven ! '

3 Seven times, O Lord, I pardoned them,
 Seven times they sinned again ;
 They practise still to work me woe,
 They triumph in my pain ;
 But let them dread my vengeance now,
 To just resentment driven !
 ' Forgive ! ' the voice of thunder spake,
 ' Or be not thou forgiven ! '

' Why stand ye idle here ? '

1 THE God of glory walks his round,
 From day to day, from year to year ;
 And warns us each, with awful sound,
 ' No longer stand ye idle here ! '

2 ' Ye whose young cheeks are rosy-bright,
 Whose hands are strong, whose hearts are clear
 Waste not of hope the morning light !
 Ah, fools, why stand ye idle here ?

3 'O, if the griefs ye would assuage
 That wait on life's declining year,—
 Secure a blessing for your age,
 And work your Maker's business here !

4 'And ye, whose locks of scanty gray
 Foretell your latest travail near,—
 How swiftly fades your worthless day !
 And stand ye yet so idle here ?'

5 O thou, by all thy works adored,
 To whom the sinner's soul is dear,
 Recall us to thy vineyard, Lord,
 And grant us grace to please thee here !

1 COME, fellow-sinners, come away ;
 Behold the fast-declining sun ;
 No longer in the market stay ;
 'Tis time our labors were begun.

2 O be not faithless in the Lord :
 Whate'er is right we shall receive ;
 If we but hearken to his word,
 He will immortal treasures give.

3 Lord, in thy vineyard we appear,
 To labor in the works of love ;
 O may we be thy mercy's care,
 Nor from thy precepts ever rove.

4 And when thy laborers all come home,
 May each, with joy, thy goodness see ;
 Nor fault what boundless grace has done,
 In setting man from bondage free.

God appearing in terrible Judgments.

- 1 THE mighty God from Teman came—
The Holy One from Paran hill ;
His glory shone through heaven in flame,
And all the earth his name did fill.
- 2 Before his feet,—a baleful light,
The pestilence went forth in wrath :—
The nations sickened at the sight,
And their hosts perished from its path.
- 3 He stood,—and as his eye surveyed
The quaking earth and heaving main,
The hills bowed down, the mountains fled,
The streams rolled backward through the plain ;
- 4 Th' o'erflowing deep, by thunder riven,
Came rushing where the land had been ;
The sun and moon stood still in heaven,
And turned to sackcloth o'er the scene.
- 5 I saw,—and terror struck me dumb ;
My joints dissolved, my senses froze ;
I saw the God of judgment come
To cheer his saints, and crush their foes.

The Fall of Israel.

- 1 FALLEN is thy throne, O Israel !
Silence is o'er thy plains ;
Thy dwellings all lie desolate,—
Thy children weep in chains !

Where are the dews that fed thee
 On Elim's barren shore ?—
 That fire from heaven, which led thee,
 Now lights thy path no more.

2 Lord, thou didst love Jerusalem,—
 Once, she was all thine own ;
 Her love thy fairest heritage,—
 Her power, thy glory's throne ;
 Till evil came, and blighted
 Thy long-loved olive-tree,
 And Salem's shrines were lighted
 To other gods than thee.

3 Then sunk the star of Solyma ;
 Then passed her glory's ray,
 Like heath, that in the wilderness
 The wild wind whirls away.
 Silent and waste her bowers,
 Where once the mighty trod ;
 And sunk those guilty towers
 Where Baal reigned as god.

Restoration of Israel.

1 DAUGHTER of Zion, from the dust
 Exalt thy fallen head ; •
 Again in thy Redeemer trust,—
 He calls thee from the dead.

2 Awake, awake ! put on thy strength.
 Thy beautiful array ;
 The day of freedom dawns at length,
 The Lord's appointed day.

3 Rebuild thy walls, thy bounds enlarge,
 And send thy heralds forth;
 Say to the south, ' Give up thy charge,
 And keep not back, O north ! '

4 They come, they come ;—thine exiled bands,
 Where'er they rest or roam,
 Have heard thy voice in distant lands,
 And hasten to their home.

The Same.

1 O, who shall see the glorious day,
 When, throned on Zion's brow,
 The Lord shall rend the veil away
 That hides the nations now !
 When earth no more beneath the fear
 Of his rebuke shall lie,
 When pain shall cease, and every tear
 Be wiped from every eye !

2 Then, Judah, thou no more shalt mourn
 Beneath the heathen's chain;
 Thy days of splendor shall return,
 And all be new again.
 The fount of life shall then be quaffed
 In peace*by all who come ;
 And every wind that blows, shall waft
 Some long-lost exile home.

Missionary Hymn.

1 FROM Greenland's icy mountains,
 From India's coral strand,—
 Where Afric's sunny fountains
 Roll down their golden sand ;
 From many an ancient river,
 From many a palmy plain,—
 They call us to deliver
 Their land from error's chain.

2 Shall we, whose souls are lighted
 With wisdom from on high—
 Shall we to men benighted
 The lamp of life deny?—
 Salvation!—O, salvation!
 The joyful sound proclaim,
 Till earth's remotest nation
 Has learned Messiah's name.

3 Waft, waft, ye winds, his story ;
 And you, ye waters, roll,
 Till, like a sea of glory,
 It spreads from pole to pole ;
 Till o'er our ransomed nature,
 The Lamb for sinners slain,
 Redeemer, Renovator,
 Returns in bliss to reign.

The Same.

1 O'ER the realms of pagan darkness
 Let the eye of pity gaze ;
 See the kindred of the people

Lost in sin's bewildering maze;
 Darkness brooding
 On the face of all the earth.

2 Light of them that sit in darkness !
 Rise and shine,—thy blessings bring;
 Light to lighten all the Gentiles !
 Rise with healing in thy wing ;
 To thy brightness
 Let all kings and nations come.

3 May the heathen, now adoring
 Idol-gods of wood and stone,
 Come, and, worshipping before him,
 Serve the living God alone ;
 Let thy glory
 Fill the earth— as floods, the sea.

4 Thou to whom all power is given,
 Speak the word ;—at thy command,
 Let the company of preachers
 Spread thy name from land to land ;
 Lord, be with them
 Alway to the end of time.

Shall we sin because Grace abounds?

1 SHALL we go on to sin,
 Because thy grace abounds ?
 Or crucify the Lord again,
 And open all his wounds ?

2 Forbid it, mighty God !
 Nor let it e'er be said,
 That we whose sins are crucified,
 Should raise them from the dead.

3 We will be slaves no more,
 Since Christ has made us free,
 Has nailed our tyrants to his cross,
 And bought our liberty.

The Gospel revealed to Babes.

1 JESUS, the man of constant grief,
 A mourner all his days,—
 His spirit once rejoiced aloud,
 And turned his joy to praise.

2 'Father, I thank thy wondrous love,
 That hath revealed thy Son
 To men unlearned; and unto babes
 Hath made thy gospel known.'

3 'The mysteries of redeeming grace
 Are hidden from the wise;
 While pride and carnal reasonings join
 To swell and blind their eyes.'

4 Thus doth the Lord of heaven and earth
 His great decrees fulfil,
 And orders all his works of grace
 By his own sovereign will.

The perfect Law of Liberty.

1 BEHOLD that wise, that perfect law,
 Which noblest freedom gives:
 O may it all our souls refine,
 And sanctify our lives!

2 Not with a transient glance surveyed,
 And in an hour forgot,
 But deep inscribed on every heart,
 To reign o'er every thought.

3 Great Author of each perfect gift !
 Thy gracious power display,
 That our ungrateful, wandering hearts
 May hearken and obey.

Adoption, as sons of God.

1 BEHOLD, what wondrous grace
 The Father hath bestowed
 On sinners of a mortal race,
 To call them sons of God !

2 'Tis no surprising thing,
 That we should be unknown ;
 The Jewish world knew not their King,
 God's everlasting Son.

3 Nor doth it yet appear
 How great we must be made ;
 But when we see our Savior here,
 We shall be like our Head.

4 A hope so much divine
 May trials well endure,
 May purge our souls from sense and sin,
 As Christ the Lord is pure.

5 If in my Father's love
 I share a filial part,
 Send down thy Spirit like a dove
 To rest upon my heart.

6 We would no longer lie
 Like slaves beneath the throne ;
 Our faith shall 'Abba Father' cry,
 And thou the kindred own.

Punishment without Rejection. Ps. 89.

- 1 'YET (saith the Lord) if David's race,—
 The children of my Son,—
 Should break my laws, abuse my grace,
 And tempt mine anger down,
- 2 Their sins I'll visit with the rod,
 And make their folly smart;
 But I'll not cease to be their God,
 Nor from thy truth depart.
- 3 My covenant I will ne'er revoke,
 But keep my grace in mind ;
 And what eternal love hath spoke,
 Eternal truth shall bind.
- 4 Once have I sworn—(I need no more)—
 And pledged my holiness,
 To seal the sacred promise sure
 To David and his race.
- 5 The sun shall see his offspring rise
 And spread from sea to sea,
 Long as he travels round the skies,
 To give the nations day.
- 6 Sure as the moon, that rules the night,
 His kingdom shall endure,
 Till the fixed laws of shade and light
 Shall be observed no more.'

Obedience not from Fear but Love.

- 1 Not by the terrors of a slave
Do saints perform thy will ;
But with the noblest powers they have,
Thy sweet commands fulfil.
- 2 They find access, at every hour,
To God within the veil ;
Hence they derive a quickening power
And joys that never fail.
- 3 O happy souls ! O glorious state
Of overflowing grace ;
To dwell so near their Father's seat,
And see his lovely face !
- 4 Lord, I address thy heavenly throne ;
Call me a child of thine,
Send down the spirit of thy Son
To form my heart divine.
- 5 There shed thy choicest love abroad,
And make my comforts strong ;
Then shall I say, ' My Father God,'
With an unwavering tongue.

Different ends of the Virtuous and Vicious.

- 1 How blest the man,—how more than blest—
Whose heart no guilty thoughts employ !
God's endless sunshine fills his breast,
And conscience whispers peace and joy.

2 Pure rectitude's unerring way
 His heaven-conducted steps pursue ;
 While crowds in guilt and error stray,
 Unstained his soul, and bright his view.

3 By God's almighty arm sustained,
 True virtue soon or late shall rise ;
 Enjoy her conquest, nobly gained,
 And share the triumph of the skies.

4 But fools, to sacred wisdom blind,
 Who vice's tempting call obey,
 A different fate shall quickly find,
 To every storm an easy prey.

636. 11 M.^o S. F. STREETER.

'Come unto me, and I will give you rest.'

1 How gracious the promise, how soothing the word
 That came from the lips of our merciful Lord !
 'Ye lone and ye weary, ye sad and oppressed,
 Come, learn of your Savior, and ye shall find rest.'

2 Ye heart-stricken sons and ye daughters of woe,
 For you the fresh fountains of comfort o'erflow :
 Your souls to the blessed Redeemer unite,—
 His yoke it is easy, his burden is light.

3 And ye that have sinned and have wandered astray,
 Come, walk in the light and the truth and the way ;
 Ye proud, from the paths of ambition depart,
 For meek was your Master, and lowly of heart.

And, as thy glory fills the sky,
So let it be on earth displayed,

Let all who dwell below the skies
Their noblest praises sing.

V. Hallelujah Metre.

Wide as he reigns,
His name be sung by every tongue,
In endless strains.

PRAYSE to God ! immortal praise
From the heavens, the earth, the seas !
All in one vast chorus join,
To extol the name divine !
